

No. XXIV.

An Act to amend the “Parliamentary Electorates and Elections Act of 1893” by extending the franchise to certain persons disqualified from voting under the said Act. [31st October, 1896.]

BE it enacted by the Queen’s Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Certain persons to be electors.

1. Subject to the provisions of the Parliamentary Electorates and Elections Act of 1893, and any Act amending the same, every person who holds the office of Inspector-General or Superintendent of Police, or is a constable or other person belonging to the Constabulary Force shall, if not disqualified or incapacitated under any Statute, be qualified as an elector under the said Acts, anything to the contrary in section twenty-three, subsection (III), of the Parliamentary Electorates and Elections Act of 1893 notwithstanding.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as the “Franchise Extension Act, 1896.”
