Public Health (COVID-19 General) Order 2021

under the

Public Health Act 2010

Part 1 Preliminary

Division 1 Introduction

1.1 Name of Order

This Order is the Public Health (COVID-19 General) Order 2021.

1.2 Commencement

This Order commences at the beginning of 11 October 2021.

1.3 Grounds for concluding that there is a risk to public health

The basis for concluding that a situation has arisen that is, or is likely to be, a risk to public health is as follows—

- (a) public health authorities both internationally and in Australia have been monitoring and responding to outbreaks of COVID-19, which is a condition caused by infection with the severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2),
- (b) COVID-19 is a potentially fatal condition and is highly contagious,
- (c) a number of cases of individuals with COVID-19 have been confirmed in New South Wales and other Australian jurisdictions, including by means of community transmission, and there is an ongoing risk of continuing introduction or transmission of the virus in New South Wales,
- (d) there are available vaccines that substantially reduce the risk of infection, transmission, severe illness and death resulting from SARS-CoV-2,
- (e) the proportion of the total population in New South Wales that remains unvaccinated is significant enough to represent a substantial risk and burden from infection and transmission of SARS-CoV-2 in the community,
- (f) in particular the risk and burden is from and among people who remain unvaccinated because these people are more likely to be infected, more at risk of severe illness and death resulting from infection with SARS-CoV-2, and more likely to transmit the infection to others, than fully vaccinated people.
