- (2) The rear overhang of such an omnibus must not exceed 70 per cent of the distance between the centre of the foremost axle and the foremost extremity of the rear overhang, or 4.9 m, whichever is the shorter length.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Currently the maximum permitted length of a bus is generally 12.2 metres. This can be exceeded with the written permission of the Commissioner of Police. The object of this Regulation is to amend the Motor Traffic Regulations 1935 to permit 14.5 metre long buses to be driven on roads that have been assessed and found suitable for the operation of such buses in accordance with guidelines published by the Roads and Traffic Authority.
