EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Proclamation commences most of the uncommenced provisions of the Liquor (Amendment) Act 1993. Other provisions of this Act were commenced on 1 October 1993 or 1 January 1994. The provisions commenced by this Proclamation are amendments to the Liquor Act 1982 relating to the following:

- (a) the periodic fee for a gaming-related licence or work permit and the returns to be lodged by the holder of a gaming-related licence;
- (b) notification by the holder of a gaming-related licence of changes in the state of affairs of the licensee;
- (c) the attachment of compliance plates to approved amusement devices before they are moved from the premises of a licensed amusement device dealer;
- (d) modification of approved amusement devices;
- (e) notification of the consignment or movement of approved amusement devices;
- (f) display of identification while servicing, repairing or maintaining an approved amusement device in a hotel.

The only provisions of the Liquor (Amendment) Act 1993 which remain uncommenced are proposed sections 192–194 (to be inserted into the Liquor Act 1982 by Schedule 1 (12)). These provisions relate to security and access to approved amusement devices.
