Security (Protection) Industry Amendment (Temporary Exemption) Regulation 1998

under the

Security (Protection) industry Act 1985

His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has made the following Regulation under the Security (Protection) Industry Act 1985.

PAUL WHELAN, M.P.,
Minister for Police

Explanatory note

The object of this Regulation is to provide that existing security industry licences that are due to expire during the period starting 1 March 1998 and ending when the Security Industry Act 1997 commences will remain in force up until the day on which the new Act commences. This Regulation is designed to facilitate the administrative "phasing-in" of the new security industry licensing regime, and it will enable existing security licensees to continue to work in the security industry during the specified period by effectively extending the term of their licences.

This Regulation is made under the Security (Protection) Industry Act 1985, including sections 4 (2) and 32 (the general regulation making power).

Security (Protection) Industry Amendment (Temporary Exemption) Regulation 1998

1 Name of Regulation

This Regulation is the Security (Protection) Industry Amendment (Temporary Exemption) Regulation 1998.

2 Commencement

This Regulation commences on 1 March 1998.

3 Amendment of Security (Protection) Industry Regulation 1995

The Security (Protection) Industry Regulation 1995 is amended as set out in Schedule 1.

4 Notes

The explanatory note does not form part of this Regulation.

Schedule 1 Amendment

(Clause 3)

Clause 4 Exemptions

Insert at the end of the clause:

- (2) For the purposes of section 4 (2) (a) of the Act, the holders of relevant licences are prescribed as a class of persons who are exempt from the operation of the provisions of the Act that provide for the expiry of a licence one year after the day specified in the licence or one year after it was last renewed.
- (3) In subclause (2). relevant licence means a licence that would, but for that subclause, expire during the period commencing 1 March 1998 and ending on the day on which section 7 of the Security Industry Act 1997 commences.
