

New South Wales

Proclamation

under the

Mining Amendment (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2004 No 75

JAMES JACOB SPIGELMAN,

By Deputation from Her Excellency the Governor

I, Professor Marie Bashir AC, Governor of the State of New South Wales, with the advice of the Executive Council, and in pursuance of section 2 of the Mining Amendment (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2004, do, by this my Proclamation, appoint 19 November 2004 as the day on which the following provisions of that Act commence:

- (a) section 3,
- (b) Schedule 1 [1], [7]–[15], [17], [20], [27], [30], [34], [37], [39], [40] and [41],
- (c) Schedule 1 [31], to the extent to which it inserts section 235E into the Mining Act 1992,
- (d) Schedule 1 [42], to the extent to which it inserts definitions of permit and preserved mining field into the Dictionary to the Mining Act 1992.

Signed and sealed at Sydney, this 17th day of November 2004.

By Her Excellency's Command,

KERRY ARTHUR HICKEY, M.P.,

Minister for Mineral Resources

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

Explanatory note

This proclamation commences provisions of the Mining Amendment (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2004 that concern fossicking, mineral claims districts, powers of entry and personal liability. The uncommenced provisions concern mining subleases, rights of way, opal prospecting areas, access management plans and permits to enter land.
