Common Seal.

8. It shall be lawful for the Executive at any time to design and to change or alter the common seal of the corporation.

9. The common seal shall be kept in the custody of the secretary and shall not be affixed to any instrument except in pursuance of a resolution of the Executive.

Any instrument executed in pursuance of any such resolution shall be attested by the signature of any two members of the Executive.

10. All courts, judges, and persons acting judicially shall take judicial notice of the common seal of the corporation affixed to any deed or instrument, and shall, where the instrument purports to have been executed in accordance with clause nine of this Schedule, presume that such seal was properly affixed thereto.

Notices.

11. Any notice, summons, writ or other proceeding required to be served upon the trust may be served by being left at the office of the corporation.

12. Every notice, order, summons or other like document requiring authentication by the corporation may be sufficiently authenticated without the seal of the corporation if signed by the secretary.

Constitution and Amendments thereof to be Registered.

13. As soon as practicable after the commencement of this Act an instrument certified under the seal of the corporation to be a copy of the constitution shall be registered in the office of the Registrar-General in the manner prescribed by regulations made under the Conveyancing Act, 1919, as amended by subsequent Acts; and upon any alteration in the said constitution there shall be registered in the said office in like manner an instrument certified under the said seal setting forth the terms of the said alteration.

The production of a copy of any instrument so registered, certified by the Registrar-General or a Deputy Registrar-General, shall be received in all courts as conclusive evidence of the contents of the instrument; and in favour of any person dealing bona-fide and for value with the corporation shall, together with this Act, be conclusive evidence of the objects and powers for the time being of the corporation unless such person shall have notice to the contrary.

Office.

14. As soon as practicable after the commencement of this Act a notification of the address of the office of the corporation in or to the effect of the form and in the manner prescribed by regulations made under the Conveyancing Act, 1919, as amended by subsequent Acts, shall be registered in the office of the Registrar-General and a like notification of every change of address shall be registered in like manner.

15. It shall be the duty of the secretary to take all necessary steps to comply with the provisions of clauses thirteen and fourteen of this Schedule.
