EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Disorderly Houses Act 1943 enables a council of a local government area to apply to the Land and Environment Court for an order that premises in the area cease being used as a brothel. The Act enables regulations to be made prescribing the appropriate authorities to make such applications in relation to land that is not within a local government area. The object of this Regulation is to prescribe the Lord Howe Island Board for the purpose of making those applications for premises situated on Lord Howe Island and the Western Lands Commissioner for the purpose of making those applications for premises situated in any other area of New South Wales that is not within a local government area.

This Regulation is made under the Disorderly Houses Act 1943, including section 19 (the general regulation making power) and section 17 (6).

This Regulation comprises or relates to matters of a machinery nature.
