Police Service Amendment (Charges for Supplementary Policing Services) Regulation 2002

under the

Police Service Act 1990

Her Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has made the following Regulation under the Police Service Act 1990.

MICHAEL COSTA, M.L.C.,

Minister for Police

Explanatory note

The object of this Regulation is to set in place a pilot scheme that will enable the Commissioner of Police to charge for the provision of certain services that are supplementary to those already provided by the police. It enables the Commissioner to charge a person who requests the presence of a police officer at premises for the purposes of promoting the safety of the premises or persons in or on the premises, or both, in circumstances in which the police officer would not otherwise be rostered for duty. Under the pilot scheme, the Commissioner will only be able to charge for services provided at premises at 5 locations in total and will be prevented from charging for services at certain premises.

This Regulation is made under the Police Service Act 1990, including sections 208 (2) and 219 (the general regulation-making power).
