

Privacy and Personal Information Protection (Transitional) Amendment Regulation 2002

under the

Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998

Her Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has made the following Regulation under the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998.

BOB DEBUS, M.P.,
Attorney General

Explanatory note

The object of this Regulation is to make a transitional provision extending provisions prohibiting the payment of monetary compensation for breaches of privacy law to persons serving sentences of imprisonment to:

- (a) breaches that occurred before the commencement of the provisions, if no application for review has been made, and
- (b) applications that were made (but were not decided) before the commencement of the Regulation.

This Regulation does not affect any decisions as to, or orders for, payment of monetary compensation made before that commencement.

This Regulation is made under the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998, including clause 1 of Schedule 4 and section 71 (the general regulation-making power).
