Part 2A Employment benefits

6A Employment benefits

- (1) A member (including a recognised office holder) is entitled to be provided with employment benefits if the member elects by notice in writing to the designated employer to be provided with those benefits and if the designated employer approves of that election.
- (2) For the purposes of this section, an employment benefit is a benefit (other than a salary sacrifice contribution) that:
 - (a) is or is to be provided to a member at the cost of the State, and
 - (b) is of a private nature, and
 - (c) is of a kind approved as an employment benefit by a determination of the Tribunal, either generally or in relation to any member or class of members.
- (3) The cost of providing an employment benefit (including any applicable tax or administrative costs) is to be as determined from time to time by the designated employer and the remuneration otherwise payable to the member is reduced by the cost of providing the benefit.

- (4) The designated employer may from time to time determine the terms and conditions on which, including the manner in which, employment benefits are to be provided.
- (5) Any determination by the designated employer under this section as to the costing or terms and conditions of, or any other matter relating to, the provision of employment benefits is to be consistent with any determination of the Tribunal relating to those matters.
- (6) The provision of an employment benefit to a member may be terminated at any time by the member by notice in writing to the designated employer.
- (7) For the purposes of this section, the designated employer is the person holding the position of Executive Manager, Parliamentary Services in the Parliament's Department of Parliamentary Services or the holder of a position of the following kind that is prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this section:
 - (a) a position of an officer of either House of Parliament,
 - (b) any position under the separate control of the President or Speaker, or under their joint control.
- (8) This section has effect despite anything to the contrary in this Act, the Constitution Act 1902 or any other Act.

6B Functions of Tribunal relating to employment benefits

- (1) The Tribunal may, from time to time, make determinations with regard to employment benefits.
- (2) The Tribunal may, by a determination:
 - (a) fix the type of benefits that may be provided as employment benefits, and
 - (b) fix conditions on which employment benefits are to be provided, and
 - (c) make provision for the costing of employment benefits.
- (3) A determination may amend or revoke a determination that has already been made.
- (4) A determination or a provision of a determination may relate to all or any members or to any class of members.

- (5) In fixing the type of benefits that may be provided as employment benefits, the Tribunal may only approve a benefit of a kind that is available to a member of the Government Service (other than a benefit that is only available to executive officers within the meaning of Part 3.1 of the Public Sector Employment and Management Act 2002).

6C Special determinations as to employment benefits

- (1) The Minister may direct that a special determination be made by the Tribunal as regards employment benefits.
- (2) Any such direction:
- (a) may relate to all or any employment benefits or any class of them, and
 - (b) may relate to all or any individual members and recognised office holders or to any class of them.
- (3) A special determination is to be made by such time as the Minister directs and is to take effect from such time as the Tribunal specifies in the determination.
