

[Act 2000 No 101]

New South Wales

University of Western Sydney Amendment Bill 2000

Explanatory note

This explanatory note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament.

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to replace the existing federated structure of the University of Western Sydney with a unitary structure.

The University's current structure is that of a federation consisting of the office of the Vice-Chancellor and 3 University Members (the University of Western Sydney, Hawkesbury, the University of Western Sydney, Macarthur, and the University of Western Sydney, Nepean). Each University Member has a Council and each Council has a Chair who is appointed by the Board of the University. The Chair of a Council is ex-officio a Deputy Chancellor of the University.

The proposed amendments will:

- (a) abolish the federated structure so that the University will have a unitary structure with a number of campuses (initially Bankstown, Blacktown, Campbelltown, Hawkesbury, Parramatta and Penrith), and

- (b) repeal provisions that establish the University Members and provide for their Chairs and principal executive officers, and
- (c) provide for the election of 2 Deputy Chancellors by the Board (instead of the 3 Deputy Chancellors who at present hold office as a result of being Chairs of the existing University Member Councils), and
- (d) increase from 1 to 2 the number of members of the Board of the University who can be appointed by the Board (with the result that the number of members of the Board will not be reduced by the reduction from 3 to 2 in the number of Deputy Chancellors), and
- (e) enact consequential savings and transitional provisions, and
- (f) make other consequential amendments.
