

[Act 2000 No 57]

New South Wales

Casino Control Amendment Bill 2000

Explanatory note

This explanatory note relates to this Bill as introduced into Parliament.*

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to amend the Casino Control Act 1992 (the Act) as follows:

- (a) to remove the promotion of tourism, employment and economic development as an object of the Casino Control Authority,
- (b) to specify “social sciences” as an additional field of qualification or experience for persons appointed as members of the Casino Control Authority,
- (c) to provide that a person who voluntarily excludes himself or herself from a casino, and who breaches that self-exclusion order, is not subject to a criminal penalty,
- (d) to require a casino inspector to be notified if a minor or an excluded person is found in a casino,

Explanatory note

- (e) to make it clear that information contained in a list of persons excluded from a casino may only be provided to specified persons,
- (f) to remove the need for the rules of keno to be approved under both the Act and the Public Lotteries Act 1996, where the game of keno is to be played in a casino,
- (g) to allow non-monetary prizes (such as cars or holidays) to be offered at a casino,
- (h) to allow a casino inspector who suspects that a person has provided a false name or address to request proof of identity,
- (i) to enable certain minor offences to be dealt with by way of penalty notice, rather than by prosecution,
- (j) to clarify the elements of the offence of cheating in a casino, and to create a further offence of dishonestly retaining a benefit that was originally obtained without a dishonest intent, but in contravention of the rules of a game,
- (k) to make consequential changes.
