178A Reference of questions of law to Supreme Court

- (1) The Commission may, of its own motion or at the request of a party, refer a question of law arising in the proceedings to the Supreme Court for the opinion of the Court.
- (2) The Commission may refer a question of law under this section only if the Chief Commissioner has consented in writing to the question being referred.
- (3) The Supreme Court has jurisdiction to hear and determine any question of law referred to it under this section, but may decline to exercise that jurisdiction if it considers it appropriate to do so.
- (4) If a question of law arising in proceedings has been referred to the Supreme Court under this section, the Commission is not:
  - (a) to give a decision in the proceedings to which the question is relevant while the reference is pending, or
  - (b) to proceed in a manner, or make a decision, that is inconsistent with the opinion of the Supreme Court on the question.
- (5) Subsection (4) extends to a Full Bench of the Commission that is determining an appeal from a decision of the Commission in proceedings before which a question of law has been referred by the Commission at first instance to the Supreme Court under this section.

178B Transfer of proceedings from Commission to Supreme Court

- (1) The Supreme Court may, on application or of its own motion, order that proceedings before the Commission be transferred to the Court if it is satisfied that the Court (and not the Commission) has jurisdiction to deal with the proceedings.
- (2) An application may be made under subsection (1) by a party to proceedings before the Commission or proceedings before the Supreme Court (including proceedings under section 178A).
- (3) The Supreme Court may make such other orders as it considers necessary to facilitate the transfer of the proceedings (including orders that continue or preserve the effect of matters already done in or for the proceedings in the Commission).

Chapter 6A Industrial proceedings before Supreme Court

355A Definitions

In this Chapter:

industrial legislation means any of the following:

- (a) this Act,
- (b) the Annual Holidays Act 1944,
- (c) the Coal and Oil Shale Mine Workers (Superannuation) Act 1941,
- (d) the Contract Cleaning Industry (Portable Long Service Leave Scheme) Act 2010,
- (e) the Employment Protection Act 1982,
- (f) the Entertainment Industry Act 2013,
- (g) the Health Services Act 1997,
- (h) the Industrial Relations (Child Employment) Act 2006,
- (i) the Long Service Leave Act 1955,
- (j) the Long Service Leave (Metalliferous Mining Industry) Act 1963,
- (k) the Superannuation Administration Act 1996,
- (l) a statutory rule under any of those Acts.

industrial proceedings means proceedings before the Supreme Court for the exercise of its functions under any industrial legislation.

355B Jurisdiction of Supreme Court

The Supreme Court has jurisdiction over the following proceedings:

- (a) proceedings for an offence against any industrial legislation (including proceedings for contempt of the Commission),
- (b) proceedings under Part 9 of Chapter 2 (Unfair contracts),
- (c) proceedings under section 139 (Contravention of dispute order),

- (d) proceedings under section 197B (Appeals on questions of law in relation to public sector promotional and disciplinary matters),
- (e) proceedings under Parts 3, 4 and 5 of Chapter 5 (which deal with the registration and regulation of industrial organisations), other than Division 3 of Part 4 (Election of officers),
- (f) proceedings for declarations of right under section 355C (Declaratory jurisdiction),
- (g) proceedings under Part 1 of Chapter 7 (Breach of industrial instruments),
- (h) proceedings for the recovery of money under Part 2 of Chapter 7 (other than small claims under section 380),
- (i) proceedings on a superannuation appeal under section 88 of the Superannuation Administration Act 1996,
- (j) proceedings on an appeal or case stated under any industrial legislation from an Industrial Magistrate or any other court,
- (k) any other industrial proceedings.

355C Declaratory jurisdiction

- (1) The Supreme Court may make binding declarations of right in relation to a matter in which the Commission (however constituted) has jurisdiction. The Supreme Court may do so, whether or not any consequential relief is or could be claimed.
- (2) Proceedings before the Supreme Court are not open to objection on the ground that a declaration of right only is sought.
- (3) This section does not limit any jurisdiction or power that the Supreme Court has apart from this section to make binding declarations of right.

Note. See, for example, section 75 of the Supreme Court Act 1970.

355D Proceedings for contempt of Commission

- (1) If it is alleged, or appears to the Commission on its own view, that a person is guilty of contempt of the Commission, the Commission may refer the matter to the Supreme Court for determination.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), conduct is contempt only if the same conduct in relation to the Supreme Court would be a contempt of the Supreme Court.
- (3) The Supreme Court is to dispose of any matter referred to it under this section in the manner it considers appropriate.
- (4) Conduct may be punished as a contempt of the Commission even though it could be punished as an offence against section 180.
- (5) However, a person is not liable to be punished twice if the person's conduct constitutes both an offence against section 180 and a contempt of the Commission.

355E Special provisions applicable to industrial proceedings

- (1) Each of the following provisions apply in relation to industrial proceedings as if references to the Commission were references to the Supreme Court:
  - (a) section 167 (Intervention by Minister, ADB and State peak council),
  - (b) section 169 (1)–(3) (Anti-discrimination matters),

- (c) section 181A (Obligation to disclose costs to clients and Commission).
- (2) Unless it determines that it is not appropriate to do so, the Supreme Court must take into account the public interest in the exercise of its functions in industrial proceedings and, for that purpose, must have regard to:
  - (a) the objects of this Act, and
  - (b) the state of the economy of New South Wales and the likely effect of its decisions on that economy.
- (3) The Supreme Court may not award costs in proceedings for a contravention of a dispute order or in proceedings under Division 2 of Part 4 of Chapter 5 (which deals with rules of industrial organisations).
- (4) The Supreme Court may, on the application of a party to industrial proceedings, grant leave for the party to be represented by an agent who is not an Australian legal practitioner if it considers it appropriate to do so.
- (5) This section applies despite anything to the contrary in the Supreme Court Act 1970 or the Civil Procedure Act 2005 (or the statutory rules under either of those Acts).
- (6) In this section:
industrial proceedings do not include:
  - (a) proceedings for an offence against any industrial legislation, or
  - (b) proceedings before the Court of Appeal for a judicial review of, or on an appeal against, a judgment, order, opinion, direction, determination or other decision of the Supreme Court in a Division in exercise (or purported exercise) of a function under any industrial legislation, or
  - (c) proceedings of a kind excluded by the regulations.

[87] Section 356 Definition

Omit “Commission in Court Session” from paragraph (a) of the definition of industrial court.

Insert instead “Supreme Court”.

[88] Section 359 Injunction to restrain further contraventions of industrial instruments

Omit “Commission in Court Session”, “the Commission’s” and “the Commission”.

Insert instead “Supreme Court”, “the Supreme Court’s” and “the Supreme Court”, respectively.

[89] Section 364 Definitions

Omit “Commission in Court Session” from paragraph (a) of the definition of industrial court in section 364 (1).

Insert instead “Supreme Court”.

[90] Section 364 (1), definition of “industrial court”

Omit “, whether or not in Court Session” from paragraph (b).

[91] Section 371 Conciliation to be attempted before order made

Omit section 371 (1). Insert instead:

- (1) The industrial court is not to make an order under this Part until:
  - (a) for proceedings before the Supreme Court—the parties to the application for the order satisfy the Court that they unsuccessfully attempted to settle the matter by means of a conciliation conducted by the Commission, or
  - (b) for proceedings before another industrial court—the court has brought, or has used its best endeavours to bring, the parties to the application for the order to a settlement acceptable to those parties.

[92] Section 380 Small claims during other Commission hearings

Omit “even though it is not constituted as the Commission in Court Session” from section 380 (4).

[93] Section 397

Omit the section. Insert instead:

397 Nature of proceedings for offences

- (1) Proceedings for an offence against this Act or the regulations may be dealt with:
  - (a) summarily before the Local Court, or
  - (b) summarily before the Supreme Court in its summary jurisdiction.
- (2) However, proceedings for an offence against section 180 may only be dealt with by the Supreme Court.
- (3) If proceedings are brought in the Local Court, the maximum monetary penalty that the Local Court may impose for the offence is 100 penalty units, despite any higher maximum monetary penalty provided in respect of the offence.

[94] Section 399 Authority to prosecute

Omit section 399 (4).

- (1) The Minister may appoint a member of the Commission (including an Acting Commissioner) to be Acting Chief Commissioner during the absence from duty of the Chief Commissioner.
- (2) The next most senior Commissioner is the Acting Chief Commissioner during the absence from duty of the Chief Commissioner if:

- (a) an Acting Chief Commissioner has not been appointed under subclause (1), or
  - (b) a Commissioner appointed as Acting Chief Commissioner under subclause (1) is absent from duty.
- (3) An Acting Chief Commissioner has the functions of the Chief Commissioner and anything done by an Acting Chief Commissioner in the exercise of those functions has effect as if it had been done by the Chief Commissioner.
- (4) In this clause, absence from duty includes a vacancy in the office of Chief Commissioner (whether at the time the office is first created or subsequently).

[98] Schedule 2, clause 2

Omit the clause. Insert instead:

2 Acting Commissioners

- (1) The Governor may, by commission under the public seal of the State, appoint as an Acting Commissioner a person qualified for appointment as such if satisfied that the additional member is necessary to enable the Commission to exercise its functions effectively during the period of the appointment.
- (2) The person's appointment is for the period (not exceeding 12 months) specified in the person's commission.
- (3) A retired member of the Commission may be appointed as an Acting Commissioner even though the retired member has reached the age of 65 years (or will have reached that age before the appointment expires), but may not be appointed for any period that extends beyond the day on which he or she reaches the age of 72 years.
- (4) An Acting Commissioner has the functions of, and is taken to be, a Commissioner, subject to any conditions or limitations as are specified in the Acting Commissioner's commission.
- (5) The person so appointed may, despite the expiration of the period of the person's appointment, complete or otherwise continue to deal with any matters relating to proceedings that have been heard, or partly heard, by the person before the expiration of that period.

[117] Schedule 4

Insert after Part 17:

Part 18 Provisions relating to Industrial Relations
Amendment (Industrial Court) Act 2016

Division 1 Interpretation

60 Definitions

In this Part:

abolition day means the day on which Part 3 of Chapter 4 is repealed by the amending Act.

amending Act means the Industrial Relations Amendment (Industrial Court) Act 2016.

Deputy President of the Commission has the same meaning as it had immediately before the abolition day.

Industrial Court means the Industrial Court of New South Wales as referred to in section 151A immediately before the abolition day (also referred to in this Act as the Commission in Court Session).

judicial member has the same meaning as it had immediately before the abolition day.

President of the Commission has the same meaning as it had immediately before the abolition day.

Vice-President of the Commission has the same meaning as it had immediately before the abolition day.

Division 2 Industrial Court

61 Abolition of Industrial Court

- (1) The Industrial Court is abolished on the abolition day.
- (2) The abolition of the Industrial Court does not affect the continuation in existence of the Commission (except when constituted as the Industrial Court).

62 Judicial member to become Judge of Supreme Court on abolition day

- (1) On the abolition day, a person holding office as a judicial member immediately before that day ceases to hold that office and is, by this clause, appointed as a Judge of the Supreme Court (without the need for a commission to be issued).
- (2) Subclause (1) does not extend to a Judge of the Supreme Court who is acting as a judicial member under section 151B (Supreme Court Judges may act as judicial members of the Commission in Court Session) immediately before the abolition day.
- (3) A judicial member appointed by this clause as a Judge of the Supreme Court:
  - (a) is to have seniority, rank and precedence as a Judge of the Supreme Court as if the date of the person's commission as a Judge of the Supreme Court were the date of the person's commission as a judicial member of the Commission, and
  - (b) if the judicial member was also the President of the Commission—is to continue to be entitled to the same remuneration as the person received as President immediately before the abolition day until such time as the remuneration of a puisne Judge of the Supreme Court exceeds that remuneration.

- (4) Service as a judicial member by a person appointed by this clause as a Judge of the Supreme Court is to be taken for all purposes (including for the purposes of the Supreme Court Act 1970 and the Judges' Pensions Act 1953) to be service as a Judge of the Supreme Court.
- (5) The Governor may, on the recommendation of the Attorney General, issue an appropriate commission under the public seal of the State to a person who is to be (or has been) appointed by this clause as a Judge of the Supreme Court.
- (6) The Attorney General is to make a recommendation under subclause (5) as soon as practicable after the publication of a proclamation under the amending Act that specifies the commencement date for the repeal of Part 3 of Chapter 4 of this Act.
- (7) A commission may be issued under this clause before the abolition day, but must state that the person's appointment takes effect on the day that is the abolition day.
- (8) This clause does not limit the application of section 8 of the Oaths Act 1900 to a person appointed by this clause as a Judge of the Supreme Court.
Note. Section 8 of the Oaths Act 1900 requires a Judge of the Supreme Court to take the oath of allegiance and the judicial oath.
- (9) Nothing in this clause prevents a person being appointed as a judicial officer of a different court or to a different office in the Supreme Court.

Division 3 Reconstitution of Commission

63 Renaming and abolition of certain offices

- (1) On the abolition day:
  - (a) the office of President of the Commission is abolished and replaced with the office of Chief Commissioner, and
  - (b) the office of Vice-President of the Commission is abolished, and
  - (c) the office of Deputy President of the Commission is abolished, and
  - (d) the office of judicial member is abolished.
- (2) A person who, immediately before the abolition day, held office as an Acting Deputy President of the Commission is taken to have been appointed as an Acting Commissioner for the remainder of the person's term of appointment.
- (3) Anything done by the President of the Commission that, immediately before the abolition day, had effect under this Act continues to have effect as if it had been done by the Chief Commissioner.
- (4) A person who ceases to hold an office by operation of this clause is not entitled to any remuneration or compensation because of the loss of that office.
- (5) This clause does not limit the application of clause 62 to a person who is also a judicial member.

64 Relationship of Division with Interpretation Act 1987

This Division does not limit section 53 of the Interpretation Act 1987 in its application to alterations made to legislation by the amending Act.

Division 4 Proceedings involving Industrial Court

Subdivision 1 Interpretation

65 Interpretation

- (1) In this Division:

part heard proceedings means pending proceedings where the court in which the proceedings were commenced had begun to hear (but had not determined) the proceedings before the abolition day.

pending proceedings are proceedings (including appeals) that:

- (a) were commenced before the abolition day, and
- (b) have not been finally determined before that day by the court in which the proceedings were commenced.

Note. See subclause (2) as to the meaning of finally determined proceedings.

successor court, in relation to a former function of the Industrial Court, means:

- (a) if an amendment made by the amending Act has resulted in the function being conferred or imposed on the Supreme Court—the Supreme Court, or
- (b) if an amendment made by the amending Act has resulted in the function being conferred or imposed on the District Court—the District Court.

Supreme Court includes, where appropriate, the Court of Criminal Appeal.

- (a) was available to be exercised immediately before the abolition day, and
- (b) had not yet been exercised before that day.

unheard proceedings means pending proceedings that had not been heard before the abolition day by the court in which the proceedings were commenced.

- (2) For the purposes of this Division, proceedings are not finally determined if:
- (a) any period for bringing an appeal as of right in respect of the proceedings has not expired (ignoring any period that may be available by way of extension of time to appeal), or
  - (b) any appeal in respect of the proceedings is pending (whether or not it is an appeal brought as of right).
- (3) To avoid doubt, this Division extends to proceedings before the President or a judicial member in exercise of any functions conferred or imposed on them by the Criminal Procedure Act 1986 in the same way as it applies to proceedings before the Industrial Court.

Subdivision 2 Determination of pending proceedings

66 Pending proceedings before Industrial Court

- (1) Unheard proceedings in the Industrial Court are taken, on and from the abolition day, to have been duly commenced in the successor court for the function concerned and may be heard and determined instead by that court.
- (2) In relation to part heard proceedings in the Industrial Court, the judicial member (or person acting as a judicial member) constituting the Industrial Court for those proceedings:

- (a) is to continue, on and from the abolition day, to hear the matter, and to determine the matter, sitting as the Supreme Court, and
  - (b) may have regard to any record of the proceedings before the Industrial Court, including a record of any evidence taken in the proceedings before the Industrial Court.
- (3) For the purposes of subclauses (1) and (2):
- (a) the court determining the proceedings has and may exercise all the functions that the Industrial Court had immediately before its abolition, and
  - (b) the provisions of any Act, statutory rule or other law that would have applied to or in respect of the proceedings had the amending Act not been enacted continue to apply.

67 Pending proceedings before Supreme Court concerning Industrial Court

- (1) This clause applies to pending proceedings before the Supreme Court on an appeal against, or for the judicial review of, a decision of the Industrial Court.
- (2) The Supreme Court may, on and from the abolition day, continue to deal with the proceedings until they are concluded.
- (3) For this purpose:
  - (a) the Supreme Court continues to have and may exercise all the functions that the Court had in relation to the proceedings immediately before the abolition day, and
  - (b) the provisions of any Act, statutory rule or other law that would have applied to or in respect of the proceedings had the amending Act not been enacted continue to apply.
- (4) Without limiting subclause (3), if the original powers of the Supreme Court included the power to remit the proceedings to be heard and decided again by the Industrial Court, the Supreme Court may determine the proceedings instead of remitting them.

Subdivision 3 Exercise of certain unexercised rights

68 Certain unexercised rights to apply or appeal to Industrial Court may be exercised in successor body

- (1) This clause applies to each of the following unexercised rights (an existing unexercised application or appeal right):
  - (a) an unexercised right to apply to the Industrial Court for it to exercise a function,
  - (b) an unexercised right to appeal to the Industrial Court against a decision of another person or body.
- (2) A person who has an existing unexercised application or appeal right may apply or appeal to the successor body for the exercise of the same functions that could have been exercised by the Industrial Court to which the right relates had it not been abolished.

Note. An application or appeal under this clause that would have required leave before the abolition day will still require such leave. Also, any time limits under existing law for making the application or appeal will continue to apply to applications or appeals under this clause. See subclause (3).

- (3) For the purposes of subclause (2):
- (a) the successor body has and may exercise all the functions that the Industrial Court would have had in relation to the application or appeal if it had been made before the abolition day (including any functions relating to the granting of leave to apply or appeal), and
  - (b) the provisions of any Act, statutory rule or other law (including provisions concerning the time within which to apply or appeal) that would have applied to or in respect of the application or appeal had the amending Act not been enacted continue to apply.
- (4) In this clause:
- cancellation function means the cancellation of the registration of an association of employing contractors under section 334.
- successor body means:
- (a) in relation to the exercise of a cancellation function—a Full Bench of the Commission, or
  - (b) in relation to the exercise of any other function—the successor court for the function.

69 Certain unexercised rights to appeal against decisions of Industrial Court may continue to be exercised

- (1) This clause applies to an unexercised right to appeal against a decision of the Industrial Court to the Supreme Court (an existing unexercised appeal right).
- (2) A person who has an existing unexercised appeal right may appeal against the decision of the Industrial Court to the Supreme Court.
- Note. An appeal under this clause that would have required leave before the abolition day will still require such leave. Also, any time limits under existing law for appealing will continue to apply to appeals under this clause. See subclause (3).
- (3) For the purposes of an appeal made to the Supreme Court under this clause:
- (a) the Supreme Court continues to have and may exercise all the functions that the Court would have had if the appeal had been made to it before the abolition day (including any functions relating to the granting of leave to appeal), and
  - (b) the provisions of any Act, statutory rule or other law (including provisions concerning the time within which to appeal) that would have applied to or in respect of such an appeal had the amending Act not been enacted continue to apply.
- (4) Without limiting subclause (3), if the original powers of the Supreme Court included the power to remit the proceedings to be heard and decided again by the Industrial Court, the Supreme Court may determine the proceedings instead of remitting them.

Division 5 Miscellaneous

70 Construction of superseded references

- (1) Subject to the regulations, a reference in any other Act, in an instrument made under any other Act or in any other document:
- (a) to the Industrial Court or the Industrial Relations Commission in Court Session—is to be read as a reference to the successor court for the function concerned, and

- (b) to the President, the Vice-President or a Deputy President of the Commission—is to be read as a reference to the Chief Commissioner, and
  - (c) to a judicial member—is to be read as a reference to a Judge of the successor court for the function concerned.
- (2) Subclause (1) extends to a reference in a provision of the former Industrial Relations Act 1991 (or the regulations under that Act) that continues to apply to a matter because of a provision of this Act or the regulations under this Act and, for that purpose, the successor court is taken to be the Supreme Court.
- (3) Subclauses (1) and (2) do not apply to the following references in the following provisions:
- (a) a provision of the amending Act,
  - (b) a provision of the Constitution Act 1902 or the Judges' Pensions Act 1953,
  - (c) a provision of any other Act or instrument made under another Act that contains a reference inserted or substituted by, or retained despite, an amendment made to the provision by the amending Act,
  - (d) a spent savings or transitional provision of any other Act or an instrument made under any other Act,
  - (e) a provision of an Act, instrument made under an Act or any other document (or a provision belonging to a class of provisions) prescribed by the regulations.

71 Functions of judicial members conferred or imposed in their personal capacities

- (1) This clause applies in relation to the exercise of functions that, immediately before the abolition day, were conferred or imposed on judicial members in a personal capacity rather than as members of the Commission (that is, as persona designata).
- (2) A judicial member (or acting judicial member) who was exercising a function to which this clause applies may complete the exercise of the function as if the amending Act had not been enacted.
- (3) An application for the exercise of a function to which this clause applies that has not yet been dealt with may be exercised by a person to whom the function has been transferred by the amending Act as if it had been made under the relevant amended legislative provision.

72 Arbitrators under Health Services Act 1997

- (1) A person appointed as an arbitrator for a determination under section 90 of the Health Services Act 1997 before the abolition day ceases to hold that office on that day.
- (2) Accordingly, any arbitration that is uncompleted by the person immediately before the abolition day cannot be completed by the person.
- (3) Nothing in this clause prevents another person from being appointed as an arbitrator for the determination under section 90 of the Health Services Act 1997 (as substituted by the amending Act).
- (4) No compensation is payable to any person (including a person who ceases to hold office as an arbitrator) for any loss resulting from the operation of this clause.

- (1) On and from the abolition of the offices of President of the Industrial Relations Commission (IRC President), Vice-President of the Commission (IRC Vice-President), Deputy President of the Commission (IRC Deputy President) and judicial member of the Commission (IRC judicial member):
    - (a) for a retired or deceased IRC President—the office of Chief Judge of the Land and Environment Court (or, if that office is abolished, a comparable judicial office) is to be treated as the judicial office of equivalent status to the office of IRC President in determining the notional judicial salary under this Act for the former IRC President, and
    - (b) for a retired or deceased IRC Vice-President, IRC Deputy President or IRC judicial member (except if the person was also the IRC President)—the office of puisne Judge of the Supreme Court is to be treated as the judicial office of equivalent status to any of those abolished offices in determining the notional judicial salary under this Act for a former holder of any of the abolished offices.
- Note. Part 18 of Schedule 4 to the Industrial Relations Act 1996 (as inserted by the Industrial Relations Amendment (Industrial Court) Act 2016) abolished the Industrial Court and the offices of IRC President, IRC Vice-President, IRC Deputy President and IRC judicial member. It appointed the incumbent IRC President (who was also an IRC judicial member) as a Judge of the Supreme Court and preserved the person's final remuneration as IRC President until the remuneration of a puisne Judge of the Supreme Court exceeded that remuneration. It also provided that the IRC President's service as an IRC judicial member was to count towards his service as a Judge of the Supreme Court for all purposes (including this Act).
- (2) Subsection (1) extends to a retired or deceased former IRC President who was appointed as a Judge of the Supreme Court by Part 18 of Schedule 4 to the Industrial Relations Act 1996 if that person is entitled at the time of retirement or death to receive remuneration by reference to the person's former office as IRC President instead of as a Judge of the Supreme Court.
  - (3) To avoid doubt, any notional judicial salary for a retired or deceased IRC President who was also an IRC judicial member that was determined before the abolition of those offices is taken to have been validly determined for the purposes of this Act if it was determined by reference to the salary payable to a current IRC President rather than to a current IRC judicial member.
