Plantations and Reafforestation Amendment Bill 2009

Explanatory note

Overview of Bill

The object of this Bill is to amend the Plantations and Reafforestation Act 1999 (the Act) as follows:

- (a) to clarify the authorisation and ownership provisions with respect to plantations,
- (b) to expand the powers of entry and inspection and the power to obtain information with respect to plantations,
- (c) to provide a scheme to enable local councils that are responsible for certain roads to require money from plantation owners to repair damage caused by plantation operations to those roads,
- (d) to make a number of other minor and consequential amendments to the Act.

The amendments are generally in accordance with proposals arising out of a statutory review of the Act and a review of the Plantations and Reafforestation Code (the Code).

Explanatory note

Outline of provisions

Clause 1 sets out the name (also called the short title) of the proposed Act.

Clause 2 provides for the commencement of the proposed Act on a day or days to be appointed by proclamation.

Schedule 1      Amendment of Plantations and Reafforestation Act 1999 No 97

Authorisation of plantations

A plantation or proposed plantation is required to be authorised under the Act, except if plantation operations carried out on the plantation are exempt farm forestry, are plantation operations on an existing plantation or are ancillary plantation operations.

Schedule 1 [4] amends section 6 of the Act which currently provides that plantation operations carried out on a farm will be classified as exempt farm forestry if, among other things, the total area of the farm does not exceed 30 hectares at any one time. The amendment makes it clear that the actual plantation operations on the farm must not total more than 30 hectares for the operations to be exempt farm forestry. The amendment also updates references to the repealed Native Vegetation Act 1997.

Schedule 1 [5], [7] and [8] amend section 9 of the Act to remove references to existing plantations. Provisions dealing with existing plantations will be included in Schedule 3 of the Act by Schedule 1 [38] as they are of a savings and transitional nature.

Schedule 1 [6] amends section 9 by way of statute law revision to ensure that ancillary plantation operations cover operations that are ancillary to the carrying out of an approved project under Part 3A of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979.

Schedule 1 [9] amends section 12 of the Act to provide that written notice of the Minister's decision to grant an application for the authorisation of plantation operations on an unformed road is to be given to the Minister for Lands.

Schedule 1 [10]–[12] amend section 14 of the Act to recast the present requirement that the Minister is to invite submissions on an application for authorisation of a non-complying plantation, that is, a plantation that does not comply with the complying development standards of the Code, so that such submissions can only be made on the aspects of the application that indicate non-compliance with those standards.

Schedule 1 [17] amends section 20 of the Act to provide that the authorisation of a plantation (other than for a complying plantation) may be granted subject to any conditions. Such conditions are to be no longer restricted to just conditions relating to establishment operations.

Schedule 1 [20] and [21] amend section 22 of the Act to remove an unnecessary provision in respect of the cancellation of timber plantation authorisations.

Schedule 1 [22] amends section 23 of the Act to provide that the public register relating to plantation authorisations maintained by the Minister is no longer required to include applications for authorisations.

Schedule 1 [23] amends section 23 of the Act to provide that the register is to be made available for inspection on the internet site of the Department of Industry and Investment.

Schedule 1 [37] amends Schedule 3 to the Act to make it clear that timber plantations accredited under the repealed Timber Plantations (Harvest Guarantee) Act 1995 are taken to be authorised plantations under the Act and therefore are not existing plantations.

Schedule 1 [38] amends Schedule 3 to the Act to insert provisions dealing with existing plantations. An existing plantation is defined as a plantation established before the commencement of section 9 of the Act (that is before 14 December 2001) in accordance with the requirements of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, any law dealing with native vegetation conservation and any other relevant law. The amendment continues the exemption for existing plantations from the requirement to be authorised, but only if there is no replanting of an area on the plantation exceeding 30 hectares.

Schedule 1 [13] makes a consequential amendment.

Ownership and management of plantations

Currently, section 21 of the Act provides that any change in the ownership or management of an authorised plantation does not affect the authorisation of the plantation. Schedule 1 [16] inserts proposed sections 17A–17C into the Act to make it clear in which circumstances a change in ownership or management affecting a plantation will also affect the authorisation of the plantation.

Proposed section 17A requires the owner of an authorised plantation to notify the Minister of any such change in ownership or management of the plantation or part of the plantation.

Proposed section 17B provides that the authorisation of an authorised plantation will not be affected by:

- (a) any change in ownership or management of the whole of the plantation, or
- (b) any change in the ownership of a part of the plantation so long as the whole of the plantation remains under the same management, or
- (c) any change in the management of a part of the plantation so long as the whole of the plantation remains under the same ownership.

Proposed section 17C provides that, if there is a change in both the ownership and management of part of the land comprising an authorised plantation, application must be made for the authorisation as a plantation of each part of the land comprising the original plantation on which it is intended to continue plantation operations. However, the proposed section does not require authorisation of a plantation that would not otherwise be required to be authorised because the plantation operations are exempt farm forestry or ancillary plantation operations, that is, plantation operations that are ancillary to the carrying out of development, an activity or a Part 3A project under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979. The Minister may waive or modify any of the requirements of the Act in relation to such an application but only if all of the land to which the application relates comprises part of the original plantation. The Minister must grant such an authorisation, but may impose any conditions on the authorisation.

Schedule 1 [15] and [19] make consequential amendments.

Plantation roads

Schedule 1 [24] substitutes Part 5 of the Act which contains provisions relating to financial contributions by timber plantations for transport infrastructure expenditure. Those existing provisions have not been implemented.

The proposed Part consists of the following provisions:

Proposed section 39 contains definitions. Plantation road is a road that is used for the removal of timber from a plantation to which the proposed Part applies. Roads authority for a plantation road is the local council that is the roads authority under the Roads Act 1993 for the road.

Proposed section 40 applies the proposed Part to timber plantations authorised after its commencement.

Proposed section 41 provides that a roads authority may not require security deposits or payments under the proposed Part in relation to harvest operations that will yield 1,000 tonnes of timber or less or in relation to a road the maintenance of which is substantially funded by the Roads and Traffic Authority.

Proposed section 42 requires the owner of a plantation to notify the relevant roads authority of proposed harvesting operations that will involve the use of the road.

Proposed section 43 enables a roads authority for a plantation road to require a security deposit from a plantation owner in respect of proposed harvesting operations on the plantation that will involve the use of the road.

Proposed section 44 enables the relevant roads authority for a plantation road to require the owner of a plantation to pay for the repair of damage to a plantation road that has been used in the plantation operations.

Proposed section 45 provides for the way in which a security deposit may be dealt with by a roads authority.

Proposed section 46 makes it a condition of the authorisation of a plantation that the owner of the plantation comply with a requirement made in accordance with the proposed Part to provide a security deposit or pay for damage to a plantation road.

Proposed section 46A makes provision for circumstances in which there is more than one roads authority responsible for a plantation road that will be used during harvesting operations.

Proposed section 46B provides that the owner of a plantation is not required to provide a security deposit or pay for damage to a plantation road under the proposed Part if the owner and the relevant roads authority enter into an agreement as to the maintenance, upgrading or repair of plantation roads in advance of, or as a result of, the carrying out of harvesting operations.

Proposed section 46C provides for the manner in which disputes under the proposed Part are to be resolved.

Schedule 1 [2], [18] and [35] make consequential amendments.

Enforcement

Schedule 1 [26]–[29] amend sections 58–60 of the Act to apply certain enforcement provisions of the Act, including stop work orders and directions for remedial work, to unauthorised plantations that are required to be authorised.

Schedule 1 [30] substitutes section 61 of the Act (which deals with the appointment of authorised officers to conduct investigations on whether the Act and the Code prescribed under the Act are being complied with) and inserts proposed sections 61, 61A, 61B and 61C in respect of the appointment of authorised officers and the investigation of compliance with the Act.

Proposed section 61 provides for the appointment of authorised officers to exercise certain functions under the Act. (Schedule 1 [31] and [32] make consequential amendments.)

Proposed section 61A permits an authorised officer to enter an authorised plantation or land that the officer reasonably suspects is required to be authorised as a plantation, for the purpose of determining whether the Act and the Code are being complied with, and enables the officer to exercise certain investigatory powers.

Proposed section 61B provides a power for the Director-General to require the owner or manager of a plantation to give relevant information or produce relevant documents.

Proposed section 61C provides for offences for obstructing authorised officers, failing to comply with requirements and providing false or misleading information.

Schedule 1 [33] amends section 64 of the Act to provide that proceedings for an offence under the Act or the regulations may be commenced within 2 years after the date on which evidence of the alleged offence first came to the attention of an authorised officer (at present, the proceedings may only be commenced within 2 years after the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed).

Miscellaneous amendments

Schedule 1 [1] amends section 3 of the Act to expand one of the current objects of the Act (to codify environmental standards, and provide a streamlined and integrated scheme, for the establishment, management and harvesting of timber and other forest plantations) so that it refers to “best practice” environmental standards.

Schedule 1 [3] amends section 4 of the Act to insert definitions of authorised officer, Department and Director-General.

- (3) A roads authority for a plantation road may not give a notice under this section unless the roads authority has carried out the following inspections for the purposes of determining the condition of the road before and after the harvesting operations concerned and the notice is given within 21 days after the inspection referred to in paragraph (b) is carried out:
- (a) an inspection of the road within 7 days before the relevant harvesting operations are proposed to commence,
  - (b) an inspection of the road within 14 days after the roads authority has been notified that the harvesting operations have been completed.

45 Application of security deposit to repairs of damaged roads

- (1) A roads authority for a plantation road may apply money realised from a security deposit lodged under this Part in respect of particular harvesting operations to repair damage to the road as a result of the harvesting operations, but only if:
  - (a) the owner of the plantation concerned has been issued with a notice under section 44 in relation to damage caused by those harvesting operations, and

46 Conditions of plantation authorisations

- (1) It is a condition of the authorisation of a plantation to which this Part applies that the owner of the plantation complies with any requirement made in accordance with this Part to lodge a security deposit or make a payment.
- (2) The condition is subject to any decision in relation to the requirement made as a result of arbitration carried out, or an appeal made, in accordance with this Part.

46A Multiple roads authorities

If there is more than one roads authority for a plantation road that will be used during harvesting operations:

- (a) each authority may require the lodgement of a security deposit or a payment under this Part in respect of the section of the road for which it is responsible, and
- (b) the condition of each section of the plantation road for which a different one of those authorities is responsible is to be assessed independently, and

- (c) the owner of the relevant plantation and the authorities may agree that one of the authorities is to act as agent for the other or others.

46B Agreements between owners and roads authorities

- (1) Nothing in this Part prevents a roads authority and the owner of a plantation from entering into an agreement independently of this Part as to the maintenance, upgrading or repair of plantation roads in advance of, or as a result of, the carrying out of harvesting operations.
- (2) Such an agreement may provide that the owner of the plantation who is a party to the agreement is not required to lodge a security deposit, or pay any other money, under this Part in relation to specified harvesting operations.
- (3) If provision is made as referred to in subsection (2), this Part does not apply to or in respect of those specified harvesting operations.

46C Resolution of disputes

- (1) This section applies to a dispute as to any of the following matters:
  - (a) the failure or refusal of a roads authority for a plantation road to release the whole or any part of a security deposit lodged under this Part,
  - (b) the damage caused to a plantation road by particular harvesting operations,
  - (c) the cost of repairing a plantation road attributed to the carrying on of particular harvesting operations.
- (2) If there is a dispute to which this section applies between the owner of a plantation and a roads authority for a plantation road, the owner and the roads authority are taken to have entered into an arbitration agreement that provides for the following:
  - (a) to have the dispute arbitrated under the Commercial Arbitration Act 1984,
