- (2) Without limiting subsection (1):
 - (a) different fees may be fixed for different categories of accreditations or authorities, and
 - (b) different fees may be fixed for different categories of applications or renewals.
- (3) An applicant for an accreditation or authority under this Part must pay any fee fixed under this section for the application.

Note—

Section 9A (1) requires the fee fixed under this section for the renewal of an accreditation to be paid on any such renewal. Section 11A (1) requires the fee fixed under this section for the renewal of an authority to be paid on any such renewal.

- (4) Sections 39, 40 and 41 of the Interpretation Act 1987 apply to an order made under this section in the same way as they apply to statutory rules within the meaning of that Act.

Division 4 Application of Part

15A Application of Part

- (1) The other Divisions of this Part do not apply to or in relation to taxi-cabs and private hire vehicles.
- (2) Accordingly, in this Part, references to public passenger vehicles do not include references to taxi-cabs or private hire vehicles, and references to public passenger services do not include references to public passenger services carried on by means of one or more taxi-cabs or one or more private hire vehicles.

Part 3 Regular passenger services

Division 1 Services to be supplied under contract

16 Service contracts

- (1) The terms and conditions on which any regular passenger service is to be carried on within, or partly within, New South Wales are to be set forth in a contract entered into between an accredited service operator or, in the case of a ferry service, the operator and the Director-General (on behalf of the Crown).
- (2) The Director-General may invite contracts by tender or in such other manner as the Director-General thinks fit.
- (3) A person who:
 - (a) carries on a regular passenger service (other than a transitway service) otherwise than under the authority of a service contract, or
 - (b) carries on a public passenger service along any part of a transitway route otherwise than under the authority of a service contract for a regular bus service,is guilty of an offence.

Maximum penalty: 1,000 penalty units.

- (3A) Nothing in this section requires a person who carries on a regular bus service within or on a region, corridor, route or other area to enter into a service contract with the Director-General in respect of the service if:

- (a) the person is an accredited service provider, and
- (b) the service is being provided under a subcontract or other arrangement with the holder of a service contract in respect of provision of the service within or on the region, corridor, route or area (the primary service contract), and
- (c) the subcontract or other arrangement is authorised or otherwise permitted under the primary service contract.

(4) This section has effect subject to this Act and the regulations.

Division 2 Ferry services

16A Application of Division

This Division applies to service contracts for ferry services.

17 (Repealed)

17A Service contracts for ferry services

- (1) A service contract relating to a ferry service must make provision with respect to:
 - (a) the period for which it operates, and
 - (b) the manner in which it may be terminated, and
 - (c) standards of safety for passengers and the public, and of maintenance, and
 - (d) requirements relating to the financial viability of the operator, and
 - (e) requirements relating to the fitness of the operator to be an operator and the character of the operator or of any directors and managers of the operator, and
 - (f) any other matters required by this Act or the regulations to be specified in it.
- (2) A service contract relating to a ferry service may make provision for or with respect to:
 - (a) monetary or other penalties for breaches of the contract and the recovery of any such penalties, and
 - (b) bonds for the performance of any or any specified obligations under the contract, and
 - (c) such other matters as the parties think fit to include in the circumstances of the case.
- (3) The contract may provide for the periodic review, in a manner and at such periods as the contract may specify, of any matter for the time being determined by or under it.

- (4) It is the duty of the Director-General to ensure that any regular passenger service contract is not inconsistent with:
 - (a) the government's standards of safety for passengers and the public and maintenance, and
 - (b) standards for, or any other requirements relating to, ferries, the operator of the service or employees of the operator under this or any other Act or any regulation, and
 - (c) the terms and conditions of any certificate or other authority issued to an employee of the operator of the service under any other Act or regulation.
- (5) However, in the event of any inconsistency between any such standards or requirements or terms or conditions and the provisions of the contract, the provisions of the contract prevail to the extent of the inconsistency.

18 Commercial and non-commercial contracts

- (1) For the purpose of determining the manner in which a contract holder is to be remunerated for the performance of services under the contract, a service contract may be classified as a "commercial" or a "non-commercial" contract.
- (2) Under a commercial contract, the holder's remuneration is to be derived from revenue generated by passengers' fares.
- (3) Under a non-commercial contract, the holder's remuneration is to be a contract price, or remuneration fixed at an agreed rate, payable by the Crown to the holder in the manner provided by the contract.
- (4) A commercial contract is to be entered into for a term of 5 years.
- (5) A non-commercial contract may be entered into for any term.
- (6) Nothing in this section precludes the holder of a non-commercial contract from charging and collecting fares from passengers in accordance with the contract.

19 Fares

- (1) A commercial contract must fix a scale of maximum fares.
- (2) The scale must be fixed at not less than the average level of fares for the time being prevailing in the industry for comparable services, and due allowance must be made for inflationary movements in the costs of providing the service.
- (3) Maximum fares should be specified in terms of the distance for which a passenger, on payment of a fare, is entitled to be carried. For that purpose the contract may resort to terms of average or minimum distances, but it is not sufficient to describe distance in terms only of the intervals between stopping-places along a route.

- (4) Under a non-commercial contract, provision may be made for adjustments in respect of any shortfall or surplus resulting from the difference between the agreed contract price and any revenue generated by fares.

20 Service levels

- (1) (Repealed)
- (2) A service contract must fix a scale of minimum service levels.
- (3) In fixing the scale for a service to be carried on under a commercial contract, regard should be had to:
 - (a) the needs of the community to be served by the service, and
 - (b) the average service levels for the time being prevailing in the industry with respect to communities which have similar population densities and which are in other respects comparable.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3) (b), average service levels may be analysed with respect to significant time categories such as peak work-based journey periods, shopping off-peak hours, Sundays and holidays, and so forth.

21 Exclusive rights

- (1) A service contract must specify a region or route of operation.
- (2) A route may proceed across water and a region may consist of a navigational area.
- (3) A commercial contract operating on a particular route is to confer on the holder the exclusive right to operate regular passenger services on that route.
- (4) The right conferred on a holder by subsection (3) precludes the Director-General from subsequently entering into a contract to which this Division applies with any other person for the operation of a similar service along a route sufficiently proximate that it would result in substantial competition with the service carried on by that holder.
- (5) A commercial contract operating in a region may either:
 - (a) confer on the holder the exclusive right to operate regular passenger services in the region, or
 - (b) confer on the holder a right to operate such services in the region, being a right that is an exclusive right except with respect to a route or routes specified in the contract or in a variation made to the contract.

22 New services

- (1) If, while a commercial contract is on foot with respect to a particular region or route:

(a) the Director-General determines that, in the public interest, additional services should be provided in that region or on, or in proximity to, that route, and

(b) the holder of the contract declines to vary the contract, or enter into a new contract, for the provision of those additional services, the holder thereby waives the exclusive right to operate regular passenger services in that region or on that route, but only to the extent necessary to enable the operation of those additional services by someone else.

- (2) The Director-General may propose the terms and conditions of any variation of the holder's contract or of any new contract to be offered to the holder.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply if, considering the nature and extent of the proposed additional services, the terms and conditions proposed by the Director-General are unreasonable in light of the provisions of this Act and the regulations and the circumstances of the case.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), the average level of fares prevailing in the industry for comparable services must be considered, together with any other matters relevant to the circumstances of the case.
- (5) In the event that additional services proposed by the Director-General affect the exclusive rights of two or more contract holders, it is the duty of all parties to endeavour to agree on a just compromise of their respective rights. Failing such an agreement, the exclusive rights of any one of them (called the first holder) are, to the extent necessary to enable the additional services to be performed by someone else, extinguished by this subsection when:
- (a) a variation of contract is effected, or a new contract is entered into, with another holder so affected, if the proposed additional services are likely to reduce patronage of the services operated by that other holder to a greater extent than they would reduce those of the first holder, or
- (b) a new contract is entered into jointly with two or more other holders, patronage of whose services is likely to be reduced to any such greater extent.
- (6) Section 28 applies to subsection (5) as though all the holders affected were bound by a common agreement.

23 Performance assessment and renewal of commercial contracts

- (1) The performance of service operators under commercial contracts is to be assessed according to a performance assessment regime established by the Director-General that prescribes best-practice objectives and standards of service to be met by operators while their respective contracts remain in force.

- (2) Objectives and standards of service prescribed by the performance assessment regime are to be settled by the Director-General after consultation with the Transport Advisory Group constituted under the Transport Administration Act 1988 and such persons, representative of commercial regular passenger service operators, as the Minister may direct.
- (3) The objectives and standards may apply differently to different services according to relevant population densities of communities served by them, or other factors, and may relate to (among other matters):
 - (a) service levels, and
 - (b) the costs to government (if any) of the service, and
 - (c) fares and ticketing, and
 - (d) any aspect of service quality.
- (4) The performance assessment regime may be varied from time to time by the Director-General. Subsections (2) and (3) apply to any variation of the objectives and standards prescribed by the regime.
- (5) Service operators are to be notified by the Director-General of:
 - (a) the objectives and standards of service applicable to contracts to which they are a party, and
 - (b) the manner in which assessments of operators' performance are to be undertaken,and of any variations made in either case.
- (6) The objectives and standards of service prescribed by the performance assessment regime that are applicable to assessment of the performance of a service operator during the term of a commercial contract are only those specified by the regime as at the commencement (or, as the case may be, the last renewal) of the contract.
- (7) A commercial contract is to be renewed by the Director-General for a further period of 5 years if the contracted operator, on the Director-General's assessment, has met the objectives and standards prescribed by the performance assessment regime that were applicable during the term of the contract, unless the region or route of operation of the contract is varied in accordance with section 24 or the operator declines to take up a renewal.
- (8) A contract is not to be renewed if the contracted operator, on the Director-General's assessment, has not met the prescribed objectives and standards, even if minimum service levels and all other requirements of the contract have been met.

24 Variation of region or route

- (1) The region or route of operation of a service contract cannot be varied during the term of the contract except by consent of the parties.
- (2) The region or route of a commercial contract offered pursuant to section 23 as a renewal of a previous contract must be the same as the region or route defined in respect of that previous contract except by consent of the parties or by a determination of the Director-General under this section.
- (3) A renewal of contract may be offered in respect of a varied region or route if the variation:
 - (a) is necessary to extend services in developing areas, or
 - (b) is necessary as a result of altered traffic conditions or for reasons of public safety, or
 - (c) is otherwise necessary for improvement of transport services in the public interest.

25 Assignment of benefit of service contracts

- (1) The benefit of a service contract may not be assigned by its holder without the consent of the Director-General.
- (2) If the Director-General is satisfied:
 - (a) in the case of a contract relating to a service other than a ferry service, that the person nominated is an accredited service operator of an appropriate kind, and
 - (b) in any case, that adequate provision will be made by the assignee for the conduct of the service concerned,the Director-General may, by instrument in writing, consent to such an assignment.
- (3) When the benefit of a contract is assigned, the assignee is bound, by force of this subsection, to perform the obligations which the assignor was bound under the contract to perform.
- (4) Any purported assignment in contravention of this section is void.

26 Variation, suspension or cancellation of service contracts

- (1) A service contract may, at any time during its currency, be varied, suspended or cancelled by the Director-General if:
 - (a) there has been a serious or persistent failure to observe the terms and conditions of the contract, or

(b) the holder is convicted of an offence against this Act or the regulations with respect to the furnishing of information concerning the service.

- (2) A service contract relating to a service other than a ferry service is automatically cancelled when the holder ceases to be an accredited service operator or ceases to be an accredited service operator of an appropriate kind.
- (3) Nothing in this Act prevents the Director-General from making such arrangements as the Director-General thinks fit for the provision, by an accredited service operator, of temporary services in place of any regular passenger services for the time being discontinued by a variation, suspension or cancellation under this section.

27 Fee for service contract

- (1) In addition to any other fee payable under this Act, a contract fee is payable to the Director-General when a service contract for a regular passenger service is first awarded or is subsequently renewed.
- (2) The Director-General may determine the amount of the fee, subject to any maximum amount prescribed by the regulations.
- (3) The fee should reflect the administrative costs associated with negotiating, preparing and entering into the contract and the estimated costs associated with subsequent monitoring and assessment by the Director-General of the holder's performance.

28 Provisions of this Division form part of contract

- (1) Every contract to which this Division applies is taken to include all the provisions of this Division that confer or impose any rights, powers or duties on the parties, and any contravention of such a provision may be remedied at law or in equity as though the provision were one to which the parties had by contract agreed.
- (2) In proceedings for any such remedy, every duty imposed on either party by any such provision is to be regarded as a duty performable for the benefit of the other party.
- (3) To the extent that an adequate alternative remedy is provided by this section, no other proceedings by way of judicial review of any decision or action of the Director-General may be taken by or on behalf of the holder of a service contract.

Division 3 Regular bus services

Subdivision 1 General

28A Application of Division

- (1) This Division applies to service contracts for regular bus services.
- (2) The State Transit Authority is authorised to bid for a service contract for a regular bus service.

Subdivision 2 Service contracts for regular bus services

28B Service contracts for regular bus services

- (1) A service contract for a regular bus service is to be for a term not exceeding 8 years.
- (2) A service contract for a regular bus service may specify a region or route of operation for the contract by reference to any bus service contract region, strategic transport corridor, transitway route, emergency route or other geographical area or route of travel (or by reference to any combination of these).
- (3) The Director-General must, if the regulations so provide, refuse to enter into a service contract for a regular bus service if the proposed holder is already the holder of such number and kind of other service contracts for regular bus services as may be prescribed by the regulations.
- (4) A service contract for a regular bus service is taken to include a term to the effect that the holder of the contract must comply with the holder's obligations under any industrial instrument applicable to the holder concerning the conditions of employment of bus drivers or conductors (or both) as in force from time to time during the term of the contract.
- (5) Any contravention of the term implied in a service contract by subsection (4) may be remedied at law or in equity as though the term were an essential term to which the parties had by contract agreed.
- (6) In this section, industrial instrument means:
 - (a) an industrial instrument within the meaning of the Industrial Relations Act 1996, or
 - (b) an award or agreement made or entered into in accordance with the provisions of the Workplace Relations Act 1996 of the Commonwealth.

28C Performance standards

- (1) A service contract for a regular bus service is to provide for performance standards to be observed by the operator of the service.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the performance standards may include any model performance standards for regular bus services that the Director-General may, by order published in the Gazette, approve from time to time.
- (3) Before the Director-General makes an order under subsection (2) approving a model performance standard, the Director-General must consult with each of the following about the standard:

- (a) the Transport Advisory Group constituted under the Transport Administration Act 1988,
 - (b) the Bus and Coach Association of New South Wales,
 - (c) such other persons or bodies as the Minister may direct.
- (4) The performance standards are to include standards concerning greenhouse emissions by buses that have been developed by the Director-General following consultation with the NSW Greenhouse Office in the Cabinet Office.
- (5) Performance standards are to be enforced by civil penalty provision or in such other manner as the contract may provide.
- (6) In subsection (5), civil penalty provision means a provision of a service contract that is expressed to be a civil penalty provision for the purposes of this section.
- (7) Despite anything to the contrary in any Act or other law, a person who breaches a civil penalty provision is liable to pay, as a debt due to the State, an amount determined in accordance with the service contract as the penalty for the breach of that provision.

28D Renewal of contract

- (1) A service contract for a regular bus service may be renewed from time to time in accordance with any provision in the contract concerning renewal.
- (2) Nothing in this section or in any other provision of this Division is to be construed as affording a right or expectation of renewal of a service contract for a regular bus service.

Subdivision 3 Contract regions, strategic transport corridors, transitway routes and emergency routes

28E Definitions

In this Subdivision:

region or route of operation, in relation to a service contract, includes any bus service contract region, strategic transport corridor, transitway route, emergency route or any other area or route to which the contract relates.

road means:

- (a) any thoroughfare (whether or not consisting, wholly or in part, of a road or road related area as defined in section 3) that, in the opinion of the Director-General, is capable of supporting vehicular traffic (including buses), or
- (b) the site of any such thoroughfare that is being, or is to be, constructed.

road portion means one or more lanes of a road that is divided into lanes.

transitway description means a description, for the time being listed in Schedule 4, of linked destinations by reference to which transitway routes may be determined under this Subdivision.

28EA Bus service contract regions

- (1) The Director-General may from time to time, by order published in the Gazette, declare an area of the State specified in the order to be a bus service contract region for the purposes of this Division with effect from the date specified in the order.
- (2) The Director-General may at any time, by order published in the Gazette, vary or abolish any bus service contract region with effect from the date specified in the order.
- (3) A bus service contract region may be declared (or a declaration of a contract region varied):
 - (a) by naming, or illustrating by means of a map or plan, the area or routes (or both) that constitute the region or that are affected by the variation (as the case may be), or
 - (b) in such other manner as is sufficient to specify the region or variation.
- (4) A bus service contract region may be declared in respect of an area even if that area contains transitway routes, emergency routes or strategic transport corridors.
- (5) The declaration, variation or abolition of a bus service contract region under this section does not affect the continued operation of a service contract for a regular passenger service entered into on or after the commencement of this section unless the service contract so provides.

Note—

Part 7 of Schedule 3 provides for a declaration or variation of a bus service contract region to vary certain service contracts for regular bus services that were in existence before the commencement of this section.

28EB Strategic transport corridors

- (1) The Director-General may from time to time, by order published in the Gazette, declare a transport corridor to be a strategic transport corridor for the purposes of this Division with effect from the date specified in the order.
- (2) The Director-General may at any time, by order published in the Gazette, vary or abolish a strategic transport corridor with effect from the date specified in the order.
- (3) In deciding whether to declare a transport corridor to be a strategic transport corridor or to vary an existing strategic transport corridor, the Director-General may take into account:

(a) the potential for the corridor:

- (i) to link regional centres and provide access to hospitals, educational institutions, shopping centres and other facilities or locations that generate major passenger transportation demands, and
- (ii) to integrate bus services with other key modes of transport along the corridor, and
- (iii) to provide fast, frequent and direct transportation for passengers, and
- (iv) to provide a blueprint for the implementation of appropriate bus priority measures, and

(b) such other matters as the Director-General considers relevant.

(4) A strategic transport corridor may be declared (or a declaration of a corridor varied):

(a) by naming, or illustrating by means of a map or plan, the area or routes (or both) that constitute the corridor or that are affected by the variation (as the case may be), or

(b) in such other manner as is sufficient to specify the corridor or variation.

(5) A strategic transport corridor may be varied:

(a) temporarily—that is, between dates specified in the order effecting the variation, or

(b) until further order (if any).

(6) Without affecting the generality of subsection (5), a strategic transport corridor may be varied temporarily to permit construction or maintenance of a road or road portion along which the route proceeds.

(7) The declaration, variation or abolition of a strategic transport corridor under this section does not affect the continued operation of a service contract for a regular passenger service entered into on or after the commencement of this section unless the service contract so provides.

Note—

Part 7 of Schedule 3 provides for a declaration or variation of a strategic transport corridor to vary certain service contracts for regular bus services that were in existence before the commencement of this section.

28F Variation of transitway descriptions

The regulations may amend Schedule 4 so as to omit, add to or vary the transitway descriptions listed in it.

28G Determination and variation of transitway routes

- (1) The Director-General may from time to time, by order published in the Gazette, determine, vary or abolish a transitway route, with effect from a date determined by the order.
- (2) The Director-General must not determine or vary a transitway route unless:
 - (a) a study has been conducted to determine whether any parts of the transitway or proposed transitway that have not previously been used as a road would be suitable for use for the purpose of light rail, and
 - (b) the study has found that those parts of the transitway or proposed transitway would be suitable for that purpose, and
 - (c) the details of the study have been laid upon the table of each House.
- (3) A transitway route, as determined or varied under this section, must enable travel between the destinations mentioned in a transitway description (or between places that lie near, or between any two of, those destinations).
- (4) Transitway routes may intersect with one another and may have portions in common.
- (5) A transitway route may be determined or varied:
 - (a) by naming, or illustrating by means of a map or plan, the roads or road portions along which the route proceeds or that are affected by the variation (as the case requires), or
 - (b) in such other manner as may be sufficient to specify the route or variation.
- (6) A transitway route may be varied:
 - (a) temporarily—that is, between dates specified in the order effecting the variation, or
 - (b) until further order (if any).
- (7) Without affecting the generality of subsection (5), a transitway route may be varied temporarily to permit construction or maintenance of a road or road portion along which the route proceeds.

28H Emergency routes

- (1) If, in the opinion of the Director-General, it is expedient in the circumstances of an emergency, or for the purpose of urgent maintenance of any road or road portion, or from other pressing necessity, to suspend the operation of transitway services along the whole or part of a transitway route, the Director-General may by order in writing:

- (a) prohibit, for a period of time (not exceeding 14 days) specified in the order, the operation of such services along so much of the route as may be described in the order, and
- (b) authorise the operation, during the period so specified, of such services on an alternative route determined (in a manner referred to in section 28G (5)) by the order, and such an order has effect according to its terms.

- (2) The period specified by the order may be a period commencing before execution of the order, but not commencing earlier than the beginning of the business day last preceding its execution.
- (3) As soon as practicable after its execution:
 - (a) a copy of the order is to be served, personally or by post, on the holder of any service contract whose region or route of operation is affected by it, and
 - (b) the terms of the order are to be published in one or more newspapers circulating in an area that includes the affected transitway route.

28I Effect of creation of transitway routes or emergency routes

- (1) To the extent that a transitway route, or any part of a transitway route, resulting from a determination or variation under this Subdivision lies within or on a region or route of operation specified in a service contract for a regular passenger service:
 - (a) the region or route so specified is by this section varied by excluding from it the transitway route or part, and
 - (b) the right of the service operator under the contract to operate a public passenger service within that region or route is extinguished in respect of the excluded transitway route or part.
- (2) To the extent that an emergency route, or any part of an emergency route, resulting from a determination under this Subdivision lies within or on a region or route of operation specified in a service contract for a regular passenger service, any exclusive right of the service operator under the contract to operate a public passenger service within that region or route ceases to be an exclusive right in respect of the emergency route or part.
- (3) While rights under a service contract are affected by the operation of this section, the contract continues to have effect, with any necessary modifications, as if the rights concerned had been altered by consent of the parties to the contract.

- (4) The operation of subsection (1) in respect of a region or route ceases, and a right extinguished by that subsection is revived, on abolition or variation of the transitway route concerned.
- (5) Nothing in subsection (4) affects the operation of subsection (1) in relation to any transitway route resulting from a variation.
- (6) A right affected by subsection (2) is restored as an exclusive right on expiry of the order that determined the emergency route concerned.

Subdivision 4 Fare determinations

28J Determination of maximum fare pricing policy for regular bus services

- (1) This section applies to any service contract for a regular bus service that authorises or otherwise permits the holder (or a person providing the service for the holder under a subcontract or other arrangement) to charge passengers of the service a fare for the use of the service.
- (2) The Independent Pricing and Regulatory Tribunal (the Tribunal) is to conduct investigations and make reports to the Minister on the following matters:
 - (a) the determination of appropriate maximum fares for regular bus services supplied under service contracts to which this section applies,
 - (b) a periodic review of fare pricing policies in respect of such services.
- (3) In respect of an investigation or report under this section, the Minister may require the Tribunal to consider specified matters when making its investigations.
- (4) Division 7 of Part 3 of the Independent Pricing and Regulatory Tribunal Act 1992 is taken to apply to an investigation under this section in the same way as it applies to an investigation under Part 3 of that Act.
- (5) In making a determination under this section, the Tribunal is to consider the following matters:
 - (a) the cost of providing the services concerned,
 - (b) the protection of consumers from abuses of monopoly power in terms of prices, pricing policies and standards of service,
 - (c) the need for greater efficiency in the supply of services so as to reduce costs for the benefit of consumers and taxpayers,
 - (d) the need to maintain ecologically sustainable development (within the meaning of section 6 of the Protection of the Environment Administration Act 1991) by appropriate pricing policies that take account of all of the feasible options to

- protect the environment,
- (e) the social impact of the determination,
 - (f) standards of quality, reliability and safety of the services concerned (whether those standards are specified by legislation, agreement or otherwise) and any suggested or actual changes to those standards,
 - (g) contractual arrangements prevailing in the industry,
 - (h) such other matters as the Tribunal considers relevant.
- (6) A service contract to which this section applies is taken to include a term to the effect that:
- (a) the holder of the contract must not charge a passenger of the service a fare that exceeds the maximum fare determined under this section from time to time for the provision of such a service to a passenger of that kind, and
 - (b) if the regular bus service is to be provided for the holder by another person—the holder must ensure (whether by contract or other means) that the person providing the service for the holder is not permitted to charge a passenger of the service a fare that exceeds the maximum fare determined under this section from time to time for the provision of such a service to a passenger of that kind.
- (7) Any contravention of the term implied in a service contract by subsection (6) may be remedied at law or in equity as though the term were an essential term to which the parties had by contract agreed.
- (8) A service contract to which this section applies may make provision for maximum fares for the provision of the regular bus service concerned to passengers pending the first determination of maximum fares under this section.
- (9) Any provision of the kind referred to in subsection (8) ceases to have effect as part of the service contract on and from the first determination of maximum fares under this section that applies to the provision of the kind of regular bus services to which the contract relates.

Civil proceedings may not be brought against a person who has supplied information to a transport safety inquiry in respect of any matter contained in that information that is or is alleged to be defamatory or a breach of confidence.

5 Purpose of transport safety inquiries

To avoid doubt, it is not part of the purpose of a transport safety inquiry, or the function of a person conducting a transport safety inquiry:

- (a) requiring a person who is the holder of a specified office to devote the whole of his or her time to the duties of that office, or
- (b) prohibiting the person from engaging in employment outside the duties of that office, the provision does not operate to disqualify that person from holding that office and also being appointed to assist a person conducting a transport safety inquiry or from accepting and retaining any remuneration payable to the person under this Act for doing so.
