- (b) occupied by the persons referred to in paragraph (a) as a single household, with or without paid or unpaid supervision or care and either with or without payment for board and lodging being required, but does not include a building to which State Environmental Planning Policy (Seniors Living) 2004 applies or a transitional group home.

residential flat building means a building containing 2 or more dwellings.

transitional group home means a dwelling:

- (a) used to provide temporary accommodation, for the purposes of relief or rehabilitation, for disabled persons or socially disadvantaged persons, whether those persons are related or not, and
- (b) occupied by the persons referred to in paragraph (a) as a single household, either with or without paid or unpaid supervision or care and either with or without payment for board and lodging being required, but does not include a building to which State Environmental Planning Policy (Seniors Living) 2004 applies.

(2) In this Policy:

- (a) a reference to disabled persons is a reference to persons of any age who as a result of having a mental, physical or sensory impairment, either permanently or for an extended period, have substantially limited opportunities to enjoy full and active lives, and
- (b) a reference to socially disadvantaged persons includes a reference to:
 - (i) persons disadvantaged for reasons of alcohol or other drug dependence, extreme poverty, psychological disorder, delinquency or other disadvantage, and
 - (ii) persons who, for reasons of domestic violence or upheaval, require protection.

3 Aims, objectives etc

The aim of this Policy is to facilitate the establishment of:

- (a) permanent group homes in which disabled persons or socially disadvantaged persons may lead as normal a life as possible by living permanently in an ordinary residential household environment, instead of in an institutional environment, and
- (b) transitional group homes which provide temporary accommodation for disabled persons or socially disadvantaged persons in an ordinary residential household environment instead of in an institutional environment for purposes such as alcohol or drug rehabilitation, “half-way” rehabilitation for persons formerly living in institutions and refuges for men, women or young people.

4 Application of Policy

This Policy shall apply to the State but does not apply to land to which State Environmental Planning Policy No 26—Littoral Rainforests applies.

5 Inconsistency between instruments

Subject to section 74 (1) of the Act, in the event of an inconsistency between this Policy and another environmental planning instrument, whether made before or after this Policy, this Policy shall prevail to the extent of the inconsistency.

6 Interpretation of planning instruments in relation to group homes

- (1) In any environmental planning instrument (whether made before or after this Policy), any reference, whether express or implied, to:
 - (a) a dwelling-house shall be deemed to include a reference to a dwelling-house that is a group home,
 - (b) a residential flat building, or a residential flat building of a particular class, shall be deemed to include a reference to a residential flat building, or a residential flat building of that class, containing a dwelling that is a group home, and
 - (c) a boarding-house, hostel, hospital, home, housing for aged or disabled persons or an institution shall be deemed not to include a reference to a group home.
- (2) Nothing in subclause (1) (c) shall prevent the carrying out of development for the purposes of a group home either with or without development consent if that development could, but for subclause (1), be lawfully carried out under any other environmental planning instrument either with or without development consent.

7 Where development consent for group homes is required

- (1) Notwithstanding clause 6, development for the purposes of:
 - (a) a permanent group home that:
 - (i) contains more than 5 bedrooms, or
 - (ii) is occupied at the same time by more residents (including resident staff, if any) than is equal to the number calculated by multiplying the number of bedrooms in that home by 2, or
 - (b) a transitional group home,shall not be carried out without the consent of the council.
- (2) The council shall not refuse its consent to the carrying out of development for any of the purposes referred to in subclause (1) unless it has made an assessment of the community need for the group home the subject of the application for consent.
- (3) Nothing in subclause (1) requires the consent of the council to the carrying out of development, by the Housing Commission of New South Wales or another person jointly with that Commission, for the purposes of a transitional group home that:
 - (a) contains 5 or less bedrooms, and
 - (b) is occupied at the same time by not more residents (including resident staff, if any) than is equal to the number calculated by multiplying the number of bedrooms in that home by 2.

8 Development applications for certain permanent group homes

(1) This clause applies to a permanent group home that:

(a) contains 5 or less bedrooms, and

(b) is occupied at the same time by not more residents (including resident staff, if any) than is equal to the number calculated by multiplying the number of bedrooms in that home by 2.

(2) Where land is lawfully used for the purposes of a dwelling or a building has been lawfully erected for that purpose, the dwelling may be used for the purposes of a permanent group home to which this clause applies without the necessity for development consent being obtained therefor.

(3) Where, by virtue of clause 6, development consent is required to erect or use a permanent group home to which this clause applies, the consent authority shall not:

(a) refuse that development consent, or

(b) impose a condition on the grant of that development consent, by reason only that the dwelling which is the subject of the application is intended to be used as a group home.
