27 Development in the vicinity of heritage items, heritage conservation areas, archaeological sites or potential archaeological sites

The consent authority must take into consideration the likely effect of the proposed development on the heritage significance of a heritage item, heritage conservation area, archaeological site or potential archaeological site, and on its setting, when determining an application for consent to carry out development on land in its vicinity.

28 Notice of certain heritage development applications

Sections 84, 85, 86, 87 (1) and 90 of the Act (which provides for the giving of notice, and for the making and consideration of submissions, about proposed development) apply to the demolishing, defacing or damaging of a heritage item or a building, work, relic, tree or place within a heritage conservation area (and to the use of a building or land referred to in clause 31 for a purpose which, but for that clause, would be prohibited by this plan) in the same way as those provisions apply to designated development.

29 Notice to the Heritage Council

 - (a) the proposed use would not adversely affect the heritage significance of the item or heritage conservation area or the amenity of the heritage conservation area, and
 - (b) the conservation of the building depends on the granting of the consent.
- (2) When considering an application for consent to erect a building on land on which a heritage item is located or on land within a heritage conservation area, the consent authority may, for the purpose of determining:

- (a) the floor space ratio, and
- (b) the number of parking spaces to be provided on the site, exclude the floor space of the building from its calculation of the floor space of the buildings erected on the land, but only if the consent authority is satisfied that the conservation of the building depends on it making the exclusion.

- 2 Development should not materially reduce the agricultural production potential of the land on which it is to be carried out or of adjoining land.
- 3 Development should not take place on land that is likely to be affected by flooding, soil erosion, geological or mining hazards, landslip or instability, unless it is sited and designed to minimise any risk.

- 4 Development should not take place on land containing items of heritage significance or subject to mining hazards, landslip or instability, unless it is sited and designed to minimise any risk.
- 5 Development should not take place on land of mineral or extractive resource potential or in areas where such development would compromise the potential for recovering mineral or extractive resources. Timber and forest products are taken to be an extractive resource for the purposes of this item.
- 6 Development should be located and designed so as not to detract from the rural or scenic character of the locality.
- 7 The design of subdivisions and the location of building sites should have regard to:
 - (a) the retention and possible extension of native vegetation areas and natural habitats, and
 - (b) views of the land from nearby roads and public places and the need to minimise the intrusiveness of development, and
 - (c) the need to prevent soil erosion and sedimentation caused by clearing land and uncontrolled flows of water across land, and
 - (d) the need for flood-free sites for buildings and for stock during floods, and
 - (e) the need to locate allotments and building sites so as to minimise the risk of damage by bushfires, and
 - (f) the need for works, including perimeter roads or fire trails, to reduce bushfire hazards, and
 - (g) the need to maintain the rural character of the area, including the prevention of buildings intruding into the skyline when viewed from roads or other public places, and
 - (h) the siting of buildings, having regard to the location of adjoining buildings and the need to prevent an overconcentration of buildings inappropriate for the locality, and
 - (i) access arrangements and the need to prevent direct access from allotments to arterial roads.
- 8 Development should not take place unless consideration has been given to the nature of bushfire hazard in the locality and, where the land is in a locality that is subject to bushfire risk, an investigation has been undertaken into appropriate means of reducing that hazard, including:
 - (a) the location of building sites on each allotment of a proposed subdivision in the area of least risk, and
 - (b) the need for and impact of a perimeter road or fire trail around any proposed subdivision, and
 - (c) the provision of a water supply adequate for fire fighting services, and
 - (d) the means of access for fire fighting vehicles, and
 - (e) the need for fire radiation zones and their impact on the lot layout of any proposed subdivision, and

(f) the need for fireproof building materials, and

(g) the availability of fire fighting equipment, and appropriate means are available to ensure that fire protection measures, including fire radiation zones and hazard reduction, are maintained.

9 Buildings should not be erected unless they can be adequately and economically served by:

(a) facilities on the land for the disposal of sewage and domestic wastes and for the supply of water for domestic, fire fighting and gardening purposes, and

(b) electricity, telephone, postal and garbage disposal services, and

(c) adequate all-weather access to urban service centres.

10 Development should not take place where it creates a demand for an unreasonable or uneconomic provision or extension of public services whether by the council or by any other public authority.

11 Development should not take place where it is likely to lead to an increase in run-off into local streams or increased pollution levels in local streams, or pollution of or any other adverse impact on subterranean water resources.

12 Development should not prejudice the intended use, function and management of travelling stock reserves, particularly by increasing vehicular access to such a reserve.

13 Development should not create or worsen a condition of ribbon development on any main or arterial road, in relation to visual impact, traffic hazards associated with vehicular access points, or potential disruption to traffic flow on the road.
