(Clause 4)

Statement

Compulsory conferences

A compulsory conference is to be held in relation to the offence with which you have been charged.

Purpose of compulsory conference

The purpose of the compulsory conference is to determine whether there is any offence or are any offences to which you are prepared to plead guilty and whether you and the prosecution can reach agreement on certain other matters, such as the details of the agreed facts and facts in dispute in relation to any offence to which you have offered to plead guilty.

Who must attend the compulsory conference

Your legal representative and an officer from the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions representing the prosecution are to attend the compulsory conference.

Documents to be provided to your legal representative

The prosecution must give a brief of evidence and then a pre-conference disclosure certificate to your legal representative before the holding of the compulsory conference. Those documents will outline the offence or offences with which you have been charged and the prosecution's case in relation to those offences.

Holding of compulsory conference

If you don't plead guilty, the pre-conference disclosure certificate will then be filed and the compulsory conference will be held.

If you plead guilty before the filing of the pre-conference disclosure certificate, the compulsory conference will not be held.

Outcome of compulsory conference

The prosecution and your legal representative will sign a compulsory conference certificate after the holding of the compulsory conference and that document will be filed with the court. The certificate will set out the offence or offences with which you have been charged and other matters arising from the compulsory conference, such as whether you offered to plead guilty to any offences and whether you or the prosecution rejected any such offers. It may also include whether you consider the brief of evidence to have been inadequate.

The compulsory conference certificate can only be used by a sentencing court for limited purposes.

Disclosing any information in a compulsory conference does not count as a pre-trial disclosure for the purposes of any additional sentence discounts.

Sentence discounts

Maximum sentence discount for guilty plea before committal for trial

If you plead guilty before being committed for trial, you are entitled to a 25% discount on your sentence for the guilty plea.

Maximum sentence discount for guilty plea after committal for trial

If you plead guilty at any time after being committed for trial, a court may discount your sentence by up to 12.5% for the guilty plea depending on how much of a benefit will result from you pleading guilty at that stage of the proceedings. If the court considers there is no benefit gained from the guilty plea at that stage, no discount for the guilty plea will be allowed.

In certain exceptional circumstances, you may be allowed a sentence discount of up to 25%.

Prosecutor may exclude offences

The prosecution may exclude any offence from the operation of the sentence discounting provisions by a notice in writing filed with the court at the same time as the pre-conference disclosure certificate. The prosecution can only exclude an offence if the prosecutor is satisfied that the case in question is an extreme case and there is a high probability of conviction.
