14 Further information

- (1) The Compensation Board may, by notice served on a person who has made a claim under this instrument, require the person to provide it with further information or documents with respect to the claim, or with respect to any other claim under this instrument whether or not made by the person, by a date specified in the notice.
- (2) If a person fails without reasonable excuse to comply with the requirements of a notice served under subclause (1) to provide information or documents with respect to any claim or, in purported compliance with the requirements of a notice so served, provides information or documents that the Compensation Board decides is or are inadequate, the Board may decline to give further consideration to the person's claim and, if it does so, the Board shall make a determination refusing the claim.

- (3) The Board may pay out of the Coal Compensation Board funds any reasonable expenses incurred by the registered holder of a colliery holding in complying with the requirements of a notice served under subclause (1) where the requirements relate to a claim under this instrument not made by that registered holder.

15 Claimant may vary claim in certain cases

With the consent of the Compensation Board, a claim may be varied by the claimant at any time before the Board has made a determination in respect of it.

15A Confidentiality

Neither the Board nor any person concerned in the administration of the arrangements set out in this instrument shall disclose any information obtained under clause 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 or 15 in respect of a claim unless the disclosure is made for the purpose of exercising the Board's or the person's functions under this instrument or the 1997 Compensation Arrangements.

16 Procedure of Compensation Board

- (1) Schedule 2 has effect with respect to the proceedings of the Compensation Board in considering and determining a claim under this instrument or an application under the 1997 Compensation Arrangements.
- (2) Schedule 2 applies in respect of an application under the 1997 Compensation Arrangements as if a reference in that Schedule to "claim" and "claimant" were a reference to "application" and "applicant".

17 Consideration and determination of claims

- (1) As soon as practicable after a claim is made to the Compensation Board, the Board shall, subject to this instrument, proceed to consider and determine the claim in accordance with clause 18, 20, 21, 22, 22AA, 22AB or 25A, as the case warrants.
- (2) If on considering a claim under subclause (1) the Compensation Board is not satisfied that the claimant is entitled to compensation in respect of the claim, the Board shall make a determination refusing the claim.
- (3) On making a determination in respect of a claim in accordance with subclause (2) or clause 18, 20, 21, 22, 22AA, 22AB or 25A, the Compensation Board shall cause a notice in writing setting out the determination to be served on the claimant.

- (4) The Compensation Board shall specify in a determination made in respect of a claim in accordance with subclause (2) or clause 18, 20, 21, 22, 22AA, 22AB or 25A:
 - (a) where the Board allows a claim for compensation—the basis on which the compensation is calculated, and
 - (b) where the Board refuses such a claim—the reasons for refusing the claim.

17A Interim payments of compensation

- (1) At any time before a claim is determined, the Board may, with the consent of the claimant, make one or more interim payments of compensation to the claimant from the Coal Compensation Board funds.
- (2) An interim payment of compensation shall not be made unless the payment is authorised by the Minister.
- (3) An interim payment of compensation shall be made at the absolute discretion of the Board and the Board shall not be required to disclose the basis on which the interim payment is made or calculated.
- (4) A person is not entitled to receive compensation under this instrument by reason only that the person has received an interim payment of compensation and the making of an interim payment in respect of a claim does not prevent the Board from refusing the claim.
- (5) No appeal lies in respect of the making of or the refusal to make an interim payment of compensation.

17B Effect of interim payments on compensation payable

- (1) For the purpose of calculating the interest payable under clause 24 on compensation determined or deemed to be determined in accordance with this instrument, the amount of compensation in respect of which that interest shall be determined shall be reduced by the amount of any interim payment of compensation made to the claimant.
- (2) For the purpose of the payment of compensation under clause 25, the amount of compensation authorised to be paid under that clause shall be reduced by the amount of any interim payment of compensation made to the claimant.
- (3) The Board is entitled to recover in a court of competent jurisdiction as a debt due to the Board, for payment into the Coal Compensation Board funds, any amount by which interim payments of compensation to a person exceed the amount of compensation (if any) determined or deemed to have been determined in accordance with this instrument in respect of the claim.

17C Gains to be offset against compensation

In the calculation under clause 18, 20, 21 or 22 of the amount in respect of a claim, the Compensation Board may make such reduction as the Board determines to be equivalent to the money value of any benefit obtained by the claimant from the discharge of any trust, lease, licence, obligation, estate, interest or contract by virtue of section 5 of the Coal Acquisition Act 1981, or from the operation of the Coal Acquisition \(Transitional Provisions\) Regulation 1982 or clause 4 of Schedule 2 to the Coal Mining \(Amendment\) Act 1981.

18 Calculation of compensation in respect of claims under clause 10 or 11

(1) The Board is to determine a claim under clause 10 or 11 by calculating the amount of compensation payable on the claim in accordance with the following steps:

Step 1 (Calculation of total base compensation amount by calculating and totalling amounts of compensation for each relevant period)

Calculate an amount of compensation in respect of each relevant period during the period beginning with the base date and ending with the last day of the relevant period within which the colliery holding to which the claim relates was or will (in the Board's opinion) be removed from the register of colliery holdings kept under section 163 of the Mining Act 1992. The calculation of compensation for each relevant period is to be in accordance with whichever of the following formulas is appropriate for the relevant period concerned:

A Relevant periods occurring before the date on which the Board determines the claim:

$$([n \times h] + [r \times t]) \times a$$

B Relevant periods occurring after the date on which the Board determines the claim:

$$([n \times h] + [r \times t]) \times a$$

C The relevant period during which the Board determines the claim:

The formula to be used is the formula in B if the determination is made before 1 January in the relevant period or the formula in A if the determination is made on or after 1 January in the relevant period.

Then add together each of the amounts calculated under this step in respect of the claim to obtain a total base compensation amount for the claim.

Step 2 (Allowing for any interim payments already made on the claim after adjusting those payments according to when they were made)

Subtract from the total base compensation amount calculated under step 1 an amount calculated as follows (being the total of adjusted interim payments):

Adjust any interim payments made in respect of the claim by multiplying each such payment by the relevant incremental factor and then add together each of those adjusted interim payments. The relevant incremental factor for an interim payment is a number equivalent to the amount of money that would be accumulated on and from the date on which the interim payment is made up to and including the day before the date on which the Board determines the claim if $1 were invested on the terms determined by the Treasurer under clause 19.

- (2) If the total of adjusted interim payments calculated under step 2 exceeds the total base compensation amount calculated under step 1, the excess is to be treated as an overpayment which the Board may recover from the claimant in accordance with clause 17B (3).
- (3) In the formulas in this clause:

a in respect of a particular relevant period is a number equivalent to the amount of money that would be accumulated on and from the median date of the relevant period up to and including the day before the date on which the Board determines the claim if $1 were invested on the terms determined by the Treasurer under clause 19.

d and e in respect of a particular relevant period are the amounts which, if invested at the date on which the Board determines the claim on terms (which include terms as to a rate of interest and which may differ in relation to d and e) determined by the Board in relation to the particular case, would each produce the sum of $1,000 at the median date of that relevant period.

h is the area, measured in hectares, of that part of the colliery holding which contains the coal that is the subject of the claim (and if that area is or includes a fraction of a hectare, that fraction is taken to be a whole hectare).

n is 2 in relation to the relevant period beginning on 1 January 1982, or 4 in relation to any other relevant period.

(a) in the case of a claim under clause 10—$0.90, or

(b) in the case of a claim under clause 11:

(i) $0.90, except as provided in subparagraph (ii), or

(ii) if, but for clause 4 of Schedule 2 to the Coal Mining (Amendment) Act 1981, a rent or royalty in respect of the coal that is the subject of the claim would have been payable to the claimant under a lease, agreement or other instrument which was terminated by that clause and that rent or royalty would have been less than $0.90 for each tonne of coal extracted under that lease, agreement or instrument—that lesser amount.

t in respect of a particular relevant period is the number of tonnes of saleable coal which has been or, in the Board's opinion, will be extracted from that part of the colliery holding which contains the coal that is the subject of the claim during that relevant period.

(4) This clause is subject to clauses 22AA and 22AB.

19 Terms of investment

- (1) The Treasurer is to determine terms of investment (including terms as to a rate of interest) from time to time for the purposes of clause 18.
- (2) The Treasurer is to notify the Board of each such determination.
- (3) A claimant under clause 10 or 11 of these Arrangements is entitled to obtain from the Board a copy of any determination of the Treasurer under this clause which is relevant to the claimant's claim.

20 Power of Compensation Board to determine an increased amount of compensation where coal owner acquired rights to coal on or after 1 November 1975

(1) Where the Compensation Board:

- (a) is satisfied that a claim made under clause 10 or 11 relates to saleable coal the ownership of which was acquired by the claimant for consideration on/or after 1 November 1975, and
- (b) is of the opinion that the claimant would suffer substantial hardship or injustice if the compensation were to be calculated in accordance with clause 18, the Board may, in its discretion, determine that for the purpose of Step 1 in clause 18 (1) the total base compensation for the claim amount be an amount greater than that which would otherwise be calculated in accordance with Step 1 but not greater than the amount of consideration paid by the claimant for the ownership of the coal, less any amount derived by the claimant by virtue of having had ownership of the coal on or after 1 November 1975 and before the base date.

(1A) (Repealed)

- (2) Where coal to which subclause (1) applies was situated in land which was the subject of the same transfer, conveyance or other transaction as that by which the coal was acquired and the transfer, conveyance or other transaction did not specify separate prices or values for the coal and for the land in which the coal was situated, the Compensation Board shall, if it is contemplating making a determination under subclause (1), make an assessment of the value that the coal had at the time of the transfer, conveyance or other transaction and that value shall, for the purpose of applying that subclause, be deemed to be the consideration paid by the claimant for the ownership of the coal.

21 Power of Compensation Board to determine increased amount of compensation in cases of certain charitable etc institutions

- (c) a body which is established for a purpose that, in accordance with the law of New South Wales, is charitable or for a purpose that is religious or educational, whether or not that purpose is charitable according to that law, and the Compensation Board is of the opinion that the claimant would, if the amount of compensation to be determined in respect of the claim made by the claimant were to be calculated in accordance with clause 18, suffer substantial hardship or injustice, the Board may, unless it has determined or proposes to determine the claim in accordance with clause 20, determine the amount of that compensation under the provisions of clause 18 as if in the formulas set out in clause 18 the symbol r represented an amount decided by the Board, exceeding $0.90 but not exceeding $1.49.

22 Determination of claims made under clause 12

- (1) Where, in the case of a claim made under clause 12, the Compensation Board is satisfied that:

 - (b) having regard to all the circumstances of the case, it would be just and equitable for the claimant to be paid compensation in respect of that loss, the Board may determine an amount of compensation to be paid to the claimant, not exceeding the amount of that loss.

- (1A) Where, in the case of a claim referred to in clause 9A (1) (b) that has not been determined before the commencement of this subclause, the Compensation Board is satisfied that:

23 Claim deemed to be finally determined in specified circumstances

For the purposes of this instrument, a claim shall be regarded as finally being determined:

- (a) where no appeal is lodged under clause 27 within 30 days after a determination made in respect of the claim is notified to the claimant in accordance with clause 17 (3)—at the conclusion of that period,

- (2) On being notified that the Minister has authorised payment under subclause (1) of an amount of compensation, the Compensation Board shall, subject to subclauses (3) and (4), out of the Coal Compensation Board funds, pay that amount to the claimant, together with any interest payable in respect of that amount under clause 24.
- (3) Where a claimant fails without reasonable excuse to comply with the requirements of a notice served under clause 14 (1) to provide the Board with further information or documents or, in purported compliance with the requirements of a notice so served, provides information or documents that the Board decides is or are inadequate, the Board may postpone payment to the claimant of an amount of compensation authorised to be paid under subclause (1) until the claimant complies with the requirements of the notice.
- (4) Where, pursuant to clause 14 (3), the Board has paid the reasonable expenses of the registered holder of a colliery holding incurred in complying with the requirements of a notice served under clause 14 (1) to provide information or documents in relation to a claim for compensation under this instrument, being a claim not made by that registered holder, the Board may deduct the amount so paid to that registered holder from any amount of compensation payable to a claimant under subclause (2) in respect of the claim.

25A Further determination of claims that were originally determined before 19 September 1989

- (1) This clause applies to all claims that would, but for this clause, have been treated as having been finally determined before 19 September 1989.
- (2) Any compensation paid to a claimant in respect of a claim to which this clause applies is to be treated as an interim payment of compensation even though the claim would, but for this clause, have been regarded as having been finally determined.
- (3) As soon as practicable after the commencement of this clause, the Compensation Board must review each claim to which this clause applies and, in consequence of the review, may, in its discretion, make a further determination in respect of the claim.
- (4) In reviewing a claim in accordance with subclause (3), the Compensation Board must deal with the claim as if it had not been finally determined and must treat any amount of compensation paid in respect of the claim as an interim payment of compensation, even though the payment may have been made as part of a final determination of the claim.
- (5) The provisions of clause 17 (3) and (4), so far as relevant, apply to the review of a claim in accordance with subclause (3) and, for the purposes of this instrument, any notice purporting to have been served under clause 17 (3) is to be treated as not having been served.
- (6) The Compensation Board may, if it considers it to be appropriate to do so, make one or more interim payments or further interim payments of compensation in respect of a claim that is reviewed under subclause (3).

Part 4 Appeals

26-26B (Repealed)

27 Right of appeal against determination of the Compensation Board

- (2) An appeal shall not be entertained by the Compensation Review Tribunal unless it:
 - (a) specifies the ground of appeal, and
 - (b) is accompanied by a lodgment fee of $100.
- (3) The grounds on which an appeal may be lodged under subclause (1) are:
 - (a) in the case of an appeal against a determination of the Compensation Board, that the Compensation Board has wrongly assessed the amount of compensation that is payable to the claimant, and

(b) in the case of an appeal against the refusal of a claim, that the claimant was entitled to compensation under this instrument or that the claim was wrongfully refused.

(4) A claimant is not entitled to appeal under this clause to the Compensation Review Tribunal on the ground:

(a) that the claimant is dissatisfied with the determination of any rate of interest by the Compensation Board or the Treasurer for the purposes of clause 18 or 24, or

(b) that the Compensation Board has declined to exercise its discretion under clause 20, 21 or 22, but if the Board has, in respect of a claim, exercised its discretion under clause 20, 21 or 22, the claimant is nevertheless entitled to appeal under this clause on the ground specified in subclause (3) (a).

(5) If:

(a) a claimant has appealed under subclause (1) against the refusal of a claim by the Compensation Board, and

(b) in consequence of the Compensation Review Tribunal's having remitted the matter to the Board under clause 29 (3) (b) for reconsideration, the Board has made a determination assessing the amount of compensation to be paid to the claimant, the claimant is not precluded from lodging a further appeal under subclause (1) on the ground specified in subclause (3) (a).

28 Hearing of appeal by Tribunal

(1) Schedule 3 has effect with respect to the hearing of an appeal lodged with the Compensation Review Tribunal.

(2) Schedule 3 applies in respect of an appeal under clause 23 of the 1997 Compensation Arrangements as if a reference in that Schedule to "claim" and "claimant" were a reference to "application" and "applicant".

29 Decisions of Compensation Review Tribunal

(1) As soon as practicable after hearing an appeal lodged with it under this instrument or the 1997 Compensation Arrangements, the Compensation Review Tribunal shall, if it finds the ground of the appeal to be sustained, allow the appeal, but otherwise it shall dismiss the appeal.

(2) If in accordance with subclause (1) the Compensation Review Tribunal allows an appeal on the ground that the Board has wrongly assessed the amount of compensation concerned, it shall either:

- (a) vary the determination of the Compensation Board to which the appeal relates by substituting for the amount of compensation determined by the Board such amount as, in its opinion, the Board ought to have determined, or
- (b) remit the claim or application that is the subject of the appeal to the Board for reconsideration with a direction to vary its determination by correctly assessing the amount of compensation specified in the determination.

(3) If in accordance with subclause (1) the Compensation Review Tribunal allows an appeal on the ground that the claimant or applicant was entitled to compensation or that the claim or application was wrongfully refused, it shall either:

- (a) make a determination specifying an amount of compensation that, in its opinion, the Compensation Board ought to have awarded to the claimant or applicant concerned, or
- (b) remit the claim or application that is the subject of the appeal to the Board for reconsideration with a direction to make a determination assessing the amount of compensation to be paid to the claimant or applicant concerned.

(3A) If the Compensation Review Tribunal varies the determination of the Compensation Board under subclause (2) (a) or makes a determination under subclause (3) (a), that determination as so varied or, as the case may be, that determination shall be deemed to be the determination of the Board.

(3B) A claim or application may not be remitted pursuant to subclause (2) (b) or (3) (b) as a consequence of any decision made after the commencement of this subclause to allow an appeal.

(4) Where under subclause (1) the Compensation Review Tribunal dismisses an appeal, the determination of the Compensation Board appealed against shall be deemed to be confirmed.

(5) The Compensation Review Tribunal may give such ancillary directions with respect to an appeal lodged under this instrument or the 1997 Compensation Arrangements as it considers appropriate.

(6) It is the duty of the Compensation Board to comply with directions given by the Compensation Review Tribunal under this clause in so far as those directions apply to the Board.
