- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), this Part operates to terminate the employment of a prohibited person without any disciplinary action having been taken in respect of the person under Part 6 of this Act.

32K Termination of employment of prohibited persons

- (1) A permanent or temporary employee who is or becomes a prohibited person and who is employed in child-related employment is, by operation of this section, dismissed as a member of the school administrative and support staff.
- (2) The dismissal takes effect:
 - (a) if the person becomes a prohibited person after being appointed as a member of the school administrative and support staff—when the person becomes such a prohibited person, or
 - (b) if the person was a prohibited person immediately before the commencement of this section—on the commencement of this section, or
 - (c) if the person became a prohibited person after the commencement of this section and before being appointed as a member of the school administrative and support staff—when the Director-General becomes aware that the person is such a prohibited person.
- (3) The dismissal takes effect immediately without any right to a hearing or any requirement to comply with the rules of procedural fairness.
- (4) A reference in this section to a prohibited person who is employed in child-related employment as a member of the school administrative and support staff includes a reference to a prohibited person whose substantive position as such a member involves child-related employment but who is, for the time being, performing other duties that do not involve child-related employment.
- (5) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the entitlements of a person whose employment is terminated by operation of this section and who has received any payment in respect of a leave, superannuation or other employment-related entitlement in respect of a period following the date of the termination.
- (6) Any regulation made under subsection (5) has effect despite any other Act or law.

32L Offences and prohibited person status to be notified to Director-General

- (1) A permanent or temporary employee who:
 - (a) is charged with a serious sex offence, the murder of a child or a child-related personal violence offence, or

(b) who becomes a prohibited person, must immediately report that fact to the Director-General.

- (2) On becoming aware of the fact that a permanent or temporary employee has been charged with an offence referred to in subsection (1), or is a prohibited person, the person in charge of the school or place of work in which the permanent or temporary employee is employed must also immediately report that fact to the Director-General.
- (3) The requirement to report to the Director-General under this section does not apply if the matter has already been reported to the Director-General under section 7D.
- (4) In this section, serious sex offence and child-related personal violence offence have the same meanings as in Division 2 of Part 7 of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998.

32M Review of prohibited person status

- (1) If a review application is made by a prohibited person under section 33H or 33I of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998, the Commission or relevant tribunal to which the application is made is to notify the Director-General of the application if it appears to the Commission or relevant tribunal that the prohibited person is a member (or former member) of the school administrative and support staff.
- (2) The Director-General is entitled:
 - (a) to appear and be represented at any proceedings arising out of an application under section 33I of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998, and
 - (b) in the case of an application under section 33H of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998—to make written submissions to the Commission.

32N Effect of person ceasing to be prohibited person

- (1) This section applies to a person who is dismissed under section 32K and who subsequently ceases to be a prohibited person.

Note—

A person ceases to be a prohibited person in relation to an offence if an order is made under the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998 that the relevant provisions of that Act do not apply in respect of the offence or if the relevant conviction is overturned on appeal.

- (2) If the person ceases to be a prohibited person because the conviction for the offence in respect of which the person is a prohibited person is overturned by a court on appeal, the person is entitled to be reinstated to, or re-employed in, a staff position that is similar to the position that the person held when the person's employment was terminated under section 32K.

(3) If:

- (a) the person ceases to be a prohibited person because of an order under Subdivision 2 of Division 2 of Part 7 of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998, and
- (b) a period of not more than 12 months has elapsed since the date on which the person's employment was terminated under section 32K, the person is entitled to be reinstated to, or re-employed in, a staff position that is similar to the position that the person held when his or her employment was terminated.

(4) A person, on being reinstated or re-employed under this section, is taken:

- (a) to have never been dismissed as a member of the school administrative and support staff, and
- (b) to have been on leave without pay during the period between dismissal and reinstatement or re-employment.

(5) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the entitlements of a person who is reinstated or re-employed under this section after the person's employment is terminated by operation of this Part and who has received any payment in respect of a leave, superannuation or other employment-related entitlement as a result of the termination.

(6) Any regulation made under subsection (5) has effect despite any other Act or law.

(7) For the purposes of this section, a person does not cease to be a prohibited person if a stay of the operation of the prohibition is granted under section 33K of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998.

32O Disciplinary action may be taken against person who ceases to be prohibited person

Nothing in this Part prevents a person who ceases to be a prohibited person, and who is reinstated or re-employed under this Part, from being dealt with under any other provision of this Act in relation to any matter related to the reasons why the person was a prohibited person.

32P Protection of persons relating to this Part

Anything done or omitted by the Director-General or any other person in good faith and with reasonable care for the purposes of this Part does not subject the Director-General or other person to any action, liability, claim or demand.

32Q No compensation or other industrial remedies

The Industrial Relations Commission or any other court or tribunal does not have jurisdiction under any Act or law to order the reinstatement or re-employment of a person contrary to a termination of employment by this Part or order the payment of damages or compensation (on any ground) for any such termination or other related matter done or omitted in accordance with this Part.

32R Protection for exercise of functions in connection with this Part

- (1) This section applies to a function exercised by the Director-General, or a person authorised by the Director-General, in connection with the termination of employment of a person, or the reinstatement or re-employment of a person, under this Part (a protected function).
- (2) Without limiting the functions that are protected functions under this Part, a decision by the Director-General not to accept the resignation of a person or not to permit the retirement of a person is a protected function.
- (3) Except as provided by this section, the exercise by a person of a protected function may not be:
 - (a) challenged, reviewed, quashed or called into question before any court of law or administrative review body in any proceedings, or
 - (b) restrained, removed or otherwise affected by any proceedings.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (3):
 - (a) that subsection applies whether or not the proceedings relate to any question involving compliance or non-compliance, by any such person, with the provisions of this Part or the rules of procedural fairness, and
 - (b) the exercise of a protected function is not an industrial matter for the purposes of the Industrial Relations Act 1996.
- (5) Accordingly (and except as provided by this section), no court of law or administrative review body has jurisdiction or power to consider any question involving compliance or non-compliance, by any such person, with those provisions or those rules so far as they apply to the exercise of any protected function.
- (6) However, nothing in this section prevents any person who is expressly authorised or permitted by a provision of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998 to bring proceedings from bringing such proceedings or being granted such relief in those proceedings as may be authorised or permitted by this Part.
- (7) In this section:

exercise of functions includes:

- (a) the purported exercise of functions, and
- (b) the non-exercise or improper exercise of functions, and
- (c) the proposed, apprehended or threatened exercise of functions.

proceedings includes:

- (a) proceedings for an order in the nature of prohibition, certiorari or mandamus or for a declaration or injunction or for any other relief, and
- (b) without limiting paragraph (a), proceedings in the exercise of the inherent jurisdiction of the Supreme Court or the jurisdiction conferred by section 23 of the Supreme Court Act 1970.

32S Transitional provision

A reference in this Part to a provision of the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998 is, until such time as Schedule 1 [31] to the Commission for Children and Young People Amendment Act 2005 commences, to be construed as a reference to the corresponding provision of the Child Protection \(Prohibited Employment\) Act 1998.

Note—

The Commission for Children and Young People Amendment Act 2005 repeals the Child Protection \(Prohibited Employment\) Act 1998 and re-enacts its provisions in the Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998.
