Insert instead “Despite any other Act or law (including section 22), an investigating authority referring, or considering whether to refer, a matter to another investigating authority may exchange information or enter into arrangements (or both) with the other authority:”.

[3] Section 31 Reports to Parliament by public authorities

Insert after section 31 (3):

- (3A) The regulations may exempt any specified public authority (or any specified class of public authorities) from the requirements of this section.

Explanatory note

Items [1] and [3] of the proposed amendments to the Public Interest Disclosures Act 1994 enable regulations under the Act to exempt specified public authorities (or specified classes of public authorities) from requirements to provide reports to the Ombudsman and to Parliament about the public authority’s obligations under the Act.

Item [2] enables an investigating authority referring, or considering whether to refer, a matter to another investigating authority to exchange information or enter into arrangements with the other investigating authority. In particular, the investigating authority may exchange information or enter into arrangements with the other authority to avoid duplication of action, to allow the efficient and effective use of both authorities' resources and to ensure that action is taken in a manner providing the most effective result.
