Non-scheduled activities are activities that do not require an environment protection licence under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997.

(3) The Regulatory Authority has the same functions as the EPA under Part 8.2 of the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 with respect to an offence against section 145, 145A, 146, 146A, 146B or 146C of that Act that is committed or alleged to have been committed in a declared catchment area.

Section 316 provides for the resolution of disputes between the EPA and public authorities.

(5) The Regulatory Authority has the same functions as a regulatory authority under sections 319 and 320 of the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 and those sections apply to the Regulatory Authority in the same way as they apply to a regulatory authority.

Note—

Section 319 provides for the disclosure of information. Section 320 provides for the disclosure of monitoring data.

7 Inconsistency with directions given by other regulatory authorities

If the Regulatory Authority, when exercising the functions conferred on it by this Part, and another regulatory authority both give an environment protection notice in respect of the same pollution incident, premises or activity and it is not possible to comply with the requirements of both notices:

- (b) in any other case—the notice given by the Regulatory Authority prevails and the notice given by the other regulatory authority does not have to be complied with, to the extent that it is not possible to comply with that notice and the notice given by the Regulatory Authority.
