- (3) In the case of a member of the NSW Police Force employed as a public servant on 1 May 1988:
 - (a) sick leave on full pay for the calendar year commencing 1 January 1988 accrues at the rate of 10 days, and

128 Procedure where workers compensation claimed

- (1) This clause applies where a member of the NSW Police Force is or becomes unable to attend for duty or to continue on duty in circumstances that may give the member a right to claim compensation under the Workers Compensation Act 1987.
- (2) If a member of the NSW Police Force has made a claim for any such compensation, the member may, pending the determination of that claim and subject to the provisions of this Division relating to sick leave and to subclauses (3) and (6), be granted by the Commissioner sick leave on full pay for which the member is eligible, and if that claim is accepted the equivalent period of any such sick leave is to be restored to the credit of the member.
- (3) If a member of the NSW Police Force referred to in subclause (1) notifies the Commissioner that he or she does not intend to make a claim for any such compensation, sick leave on full pay is not to be granted unless the Commissioner determines that in the circumstances of the case sick leave on full pay should be granted.

- (a) a certificate is given under the Workers Compensation Act 1987 setting out the condition and fitness for employment of the member or the kind of employment for which the member is fit, and
 - (b) the Commissioner makes available to the member employment falling within the terms of that certificate, and
 - (c) the member refuses or fails to resume or perform the employment so provided,
- all payments in accordance with this clause are to cease from the date of that refusal or failure.

- (a) The police officer had been unfit for duty because of the disability for a total period of at least 4 months during the previous 8 months before 30 November

The required contribution is:

- (a) to be the same as the contribution that police officers covered by the additional benefit would have been required to make under the Crown Employees (Police Officers Death and Disability) Award 2005 if that Award had not been rescinded by the Police Amendment \(Death and Disability\) Act 2011, and
- (b) to be made by way of salary sacrifice.

Note—

On the rescission of the Award, the contribution required to be made by police officers was 0.88% of their remuneration.

- (3) If the amount payable as the additional benefit under the State Authorities Superannuation Act 1987 to or in respect of a police officer who dies or is totally and permanently disabled is less than the amount that would have been payable if the police officer was not a SASS additional benefit contributor, the NSW Police Force is required to supplement the additional benefit by the amount of the difference.
- (4) Subclause (3) ceases to have effect if the police officer concerned is given the right to elect to cease being covered by the additional benefit (and to be fully covered by Part 9B of the Act) and the police officer does not make that election by the due date.
