4 Delegation by Secretaries of Departments of functions relating to Public Service senior executives

- (1) The following functions cannot be delegated by the Secretary of a Department under section 27 of the Act:
 - (a) the initial engagement of a Public Service senior executive and the consequent assignment of the senior executive to a role,
 - (b) the assignment of a Public Service senior executive to a different role (not being a temporary assignment for a period of less than 6 months),

If any such function is delegated to the head of the related agency the function cannot be subdelegated.
- (3) A reference in this rule to an assignment to a different role does not include an assignment consequent on the engagement of an existing executive to a role following recruitment action to fill a vacancy in that role.

4A NSW Police Force excluded from Rules

Except for Part 6, these Rules do not apply in relation to the NSW Police Force.

Part 2 General Public Service employment provisions

5 Probation periods

- (1) The head of a Public Service agency may determine that the engagement of a person in ongoing employment in the Public Service for the first time or following the cessation of any previous employment in the Public Service is subject to the condition that the person is required:
 - (a) to serve a period of probation on commencing his or her employment, and
 - (b) to satisfy the requirements for the role in which the person is employed during that period of probation.
- (2) The period of probation:
 - (a) for a Public Service senior executive is to be no more than 3 months, or
 - (b) for a Public Service non-executive employee is to be 6 months or such longer period as the agency head directs.

- (3) A period of probation for a Public service non-executive employee may, before the period expires, be extended for such further period as the agency head directs.
- (4) However, the probation period for a Public Service non-executive employee cannot exceed 12 months.
- (5) If a Public Service employee is required to serve a period of probation, the employer may, at any time during or at the end of the probation period:
 - (a) confirm the person's employment, or
 - (b) in the case of a Public Service senior executive—terminate the person's employment under section 41 of the Act, or
 - (c) in the case of a Public Service non-executive employee—terminate the person's employment under section 47 of the Act on the ground that the person has not satisfied the requirements for the role in which the person is employed.

6 Citizenship or residency requirements

- (1) A person is not to be employed as a Public Service employee unless the person is:
 - (a) an Australian citizen, or
 - (b) a permanent resident of Australia, or
 - (c) a New Zealand citizen with a current New Zealand passport, or
 - (d) a citizen of another country with a current visa that allows the person to work in Australia.
- (2) A person is not to be offered employment in the Public Service if that employment would exceed any limitation imposed by or in accordance with law as to the person's entitlement to work in Australia.

7 Formal qualifications

- (1) This rule applies to a Public Service employee whose engagement in a Public Service agency is made subject to a condition that the person is required to have such qualifications as the employer may determine to be necessary for performing the duties of the role to which the person is to be assigned.
- (2) A person who is required to have any such qualifications but who has not provided evidence of the qualifications may be employed on the condition that the person provides that evidence in the time and manner determined by the employer.

8 Security and other clearances

- (1) This rule applies to a Public Service employee whose engagement in a Public Service agency is made subject to a condition that the person is required to have such security or other clearances as the employer determines are necessary for performing the duties of the role to which the person is to be assigned.
- (2) A person who is required to have any such security or other clearances must ensure that those clearances are maintained.

9 Health assessment

- (1) This rule applies to a Public Service employee whose engagement in a Public Service agency is made subject to a condition that the person's fitness to perform the duties of the role to which the person is assigned has been confirmed by a health assessment.
- (2) For the purposes of this rule, fitness to perform the duties of a role includes the ability to carry out the role without endangering the health and safety of the public, of other persons employed in the Public Service agency or of the person concerned.
- (3) The form of the health assessment may include (but is not limited to) any one or more of the following:
 - (a) a declaration (which may be a statutory declaration if required) provided by the person concerning any illness, disability or condition of which the person is aware that might make the person unfit to carry out the role,
 - (b) a medical examination by a medical practitioner approved by the agency head or the Commissioner,
 - (c) an examination, by a medical practitioner, optometrist or other appropriately qualified health care professional, approved by the agency head or the Commissioner, of a particular aspect of the person's health likely to detrimentally affect the person's capacity to carry out the role.
- (4) The person's employer is to give the health care professional providing a health assessment referred to in subrule (3) (b) or (c) any requested information about the role concerned that is reasonably required for the purpose of providing the assessment.
- (5) (Repealed)

10 Maximum period of temporary employment

- (1) The maximum total period for which a Public Service non-executive employee may be employed in temporary employment in the same Public Service agency is 4 years within any continuous period of 5 years.

- (1A) Despite subrule (1), a Public Service non-executive employee may be employed in temporary employment in the same Public Service agency for a further period or periods of up to 4 years (the maximum temporary period) if the decision to employ the person for any such further period is based on a comparative assessment after external advertising. The recruitment process should be commenced not later than 3 months before the start of the proposed further period of temporary employment.
- (1B) If a person is employed under subrule (1A) after a comparative assessment (the initial assessment) for less than the maximum temporary period and the person is subsequently employed for a further period within the maximum temporary period, a further comparative assessment is not required in connection with the decision to employ the person for that further period if:
- (a) the person is to be assigned to the same role as the role to which the person was assigned after the initial assessment, or
 - (b) the agency head is satisfied that it is appropriate to rely on the initial assessment for the role to which the person is to be assigned.
- (2) The period of 4 years referred to in subrule (1) or (1A) may, with the approval of the Commissioner in any particular case, be extended for an additional period of up to 12 months.
- (3) The Commissioner may determine classes of exceptions to this rule. Any such determination is to be made publicly available on a website provided and maintained by the Commissioner.
- (4) This rule does not apply to special office temporary employees.

11 Temporary assignments

- (1) A person employed in a Public Service agency may be temporarily assigned to another role in the agency (including, in the case of a Public Service senior executive, to another role in another Public Service agency) if:
- (a) the person who is usually assigned to that other role is unavailable for any reason, or
 - (b) there is no person assigned to that other role.

Note—

The regulations under the Act provide for an allowance in the case where the temporary assignment involves a higher role.

- (2) A temporary assignment under this rule may be made by:
- (a) if the Public Service employee assigned is a Public Service senior executive—the employer of the executive, or

- (b) if a non-executive employee is assigned to the role of a Public Service senior executive—the employer of the executive, or
 - (c) in any other case—the agency head.
- (3) A Public Service senior executive may not be assigned under this rule to a role in another agency without the agreement of the head of that other agency.
 - (4) A temporary assignment under this rule may be terminated at any time by the relevant employer or agency head.
 - (5) On completion of a person's temporary assignment under this rule, the person, unless assigned to a different role under section 38 or 46 of the Act, continues to have the role assigned to the person under section 38 or 46 of the Act immediately before the start of the temporary assignment.
 - (6) Sections 38 and 46 of the Act do not apply to a temporary assignment under this rule.

12 Conversion of temporary or term employment to ongoing employment at-level

- (1) An agency head may convert the temporary or term employment of a person to ongoing employment in the agency if:
 - (a) the ongoing employment is at-level, and
 - (b) the person has been employed in that temporary or term employment for a period of at least 12 months.
- (1A) The requirement under subrule (1) (b) applies only if the advertisement for the temporary or term employment did not refer to the availability or potential availability of ongoing employment.
- (2) The conversion to ongoing employment under this rule:
 - (a) must be based on the results of a comparative assessment after external advertising (whether a previous comparative assessment or a new comparative assessment) and on the employee's most recent performance under the agency's performance management system, and
 - (b) is subject to the satisfactory conduct of the employee.
- (3) The Commissioner may, on application by the head of a Public Service agency, determine that the conversion to ongoing employment at-level of an existing temporary employee (or class of existing temporary employees) specified in the determination is not required to comply with subrule (2). An existing temporary employee is a person referred to in subrule (1) who:
 - (a) is currently employed in the agency as a Public Service non-executive employee, and

- (b) is an existing temporary employee as referred to in clause 8C of Schedule 4 to the Act.
- (4) If such a determination is made in relation to an existing temporary employee, the agency head may, without complying with subrule (2), convert the person's employment to ongoing employment if the agency head is satisfied that the person has the qualifications, experience, standard of work performance and capabilities to enable the person to perform the duties of the role to which the person is to be assigned in the ongoing employment.
- (5) A conversion to ongoing employment in accordance with subrule (4) is to be completed by no later than 23 February 2018 or such earlier date as may be specified in the determination.
- (6) An application for a determination by the Commissioner under this rule must specify the following:
- (a) the existing temporary employees or class of existing temporary employees to which the application relates,
 - (b) the reasons why the exemption from subrule (2) is required,
 - (c) a timeframe for the conversion (if it is to occur) of existing temporary employees to ongoing employment in accordance with the exemption,
 - (d) a timetable setting out the key milestones that will enable the agency to achieve that timeframe.
- (7) A determination by the Commissioner under this rule is to be in writing and may be varied or revoked by a further determination.
- (8) The conversion to ongoing employment of an existing temporary employee in accordance with clause 8C (4) of Schedule 4 to the Act does not require the approval of the Commissioner.
- (9) A reference in this rule to the head of the agency in which a person is employed is, in the case where the person is a Public Service senior executive, taken to be a reference to the employer of the executive.

13 Excess non-executive employees

- (1) The head of a Public Service agency may determine a person who is employed in ongoing employment in the agency other than as a Public Service senior executive to be excess to the requirements of the relevant part of the agency in which the person is employed.
- (2) In making any such determination and in dealing with any such excess employee, the agency head is to have regard to any relevant government policies that were in force immediately before 24 February 2014 and are notified by the Commissioner for the purposes of this rule. Any such policies are to be made publicly available on a website provided and maintained by the Commissioner.

14 Termination of employment

- (1) The employment of a Public Service non-executive employee may not be terminated under section 47 of the Act unless:
 - (a) the employee is, to the extent that it is reasonably practicable to do so, notified of the proposed termination and given a reasonable opportunity to make submissions in relation to the proposed termination, and
 - (b) the agency head has taken any such submissions into consideration.
- (2) This rule does not limit any of the other requirements under these Rules that relate to the termination of employment of a Public Service non-executive employee.

Part 3 Merit-based employment

15 Application of Part

Except as provided by these Rules, this Part applies to employment in the Public Service.

16 Merit principles to be applied in employment decisions

- (1) This rule applies to any of the following decisions (an employment decision):
 - (a) the employment of persons in any kind of employment and the assignment under section 38 or 46 of the Act of persons to roles,
 - (b) the transfer or secondment of an employee to a Public Service agency from another agency,
 - (c) the conversion to ongoing employment of an employee's temporary or term employment.
- (2) Any employment decision relating to a role in the Public Service is to be based on an assessment of the capabilities, experience and knowledge of the person concerned against the pre-established standards for the role to determine the person best suited to the requirements of the role and the needs of the relevant Public Service agency.
- (3) Without limiting subrule (2), the following principles apply in relation to employment decisions:
 - (a) any recruitment action (whether for ongoing employment, temporary or term employment or casual employment) is to take into account:
 - (i) long and short term capability needs to meet the objectives of the relevant agency, and

- (ii) existing workforce capabilities,
 - (b) pre-established standards for a role are to be expressed as levels against each capability or other requirements for the role,
 - (c) any assessment for a role is to include appropriate methods to assess different requirements,
 - (d) except in the case where a development opportunity is being provided, a person may be employed in a role only if the person meets the pre-established standards for the role or type of role,
 - (e) any employment decision is to be made on balance taking into account all the results provided by the assessment process.
- (4) This rule does not apply to the employment of a person as a special office temporary employee.

Note—

The Commissioner may issue guidance in relation to the application of the merit principles to the assignment of persons to roles.

17 Comparative assessment

- (1) A comparative assessment for a role is the process of assessing an individual's claim against:
- (a) the pre-established standards for the role, and
 - (b) any other claimants for the role.
- (2) The process is to include the following:
- (a) screening for essential requirements such as a qualification or licence,
 - (b) reviewing an application and resume,
 - (c) at least 3 capability-based assessments, one of which is an interview,
 - (d) referee checks against the pre-established standards for the role.
- (3) More than one assessor must be involved in a comparative assessment.

18 Suitability assessment

- (1) A suitability assessment is the process of assessing an individual against the pre-established standards for a role (and not against other persons).

- (2) The process is to include the following:
 - (a) screening for essential requirements such as a qualification or licence,
 - (b) reviewing a resume,
 - (c) at least 2 capability-based assessments, one of which is an interview,
 - (d) referee checks against the pre-established standards for the role.

19 Talent pools

- (1) A talent pool is a list of those persons (whether or not existing Public Service employees) who have satisfied the pre-established standards for a role or type of role through a comparative assessment.
- (2) A talent pool may be used for recruitment to ongoing employment or for temporary or term employment.
- (3) A talent pool may, without limitation, be established jointly by more than one Public Service agency and may be used for recruitment purposes by any Public Service agency.
- (4) A person may be included in a talent pool for no longer than the period of 12 months following the completion of the comparative assessment that entitled the person to be included in the talent pool.

20 Ongoing employment

- (1) The following decisions must be based on a comparative assessment after external advertising:
 - (a) the decision to employ a person in ongoing employment in a particular classification of work or band and the initial assignment of the person to a role in that classification or band,
 - (b) any subsequent decision to employ the person in a different classification of work or in a different band and the initial assignment of the person to a role in that classification or band.
- (2) The Commissioner may, on application by the head of a Public Service agency, determine that the decision to employ an existing non-executive employee in ongoing employment at a higher classification of work than the employee's current classification in the agency is not required to comply with subrule (1). An existing non-executive employee is a Public Service non-executive employee (or class of existing non-executive employees) specified in the determination who:
 - (a) is currently employed in ongoing employment in the agency, and

(b) has been performing duties in the agency at that higher classification or at a classification similar to that higher classification for a period of at least 12 months.

(3) If such a determination is made in relation to an existing non-executive employee, the agency head may, without complying with subrule (1), employ the person in ongoing employment at that higher classification of work if the agency head is satisfied that the person has the qualifications, experience, standard of work performance and capabilities to enable the person to perform the duties associated with that higher classification.

Note—

Employment in a classification of work only applies to persons who are non-executive employees.

(4) The process for employing a person in accordance with subrule (3) is to be completed by no later than 23 February 2017 or such earlier date as may be specified in the determination.

(5) An application under subrule (2) must specify the following:

(a) the existing non-executive employees or class of existing non-executive employees to which the application relates,

(b) the reasons why the exemption from subrule (1) is required,

(c) a timeframe for the employment (if it is to occur) of those employees in ongoing employment in accordance with the exemption,

(d) a timetable setting out the key milestones that will enable the agency to achieve that timeframe.

(6) A determination by the Commissioner under this rule is to be in writing and may be varied or revoked by a further determination.

21 Temporary or term employment for up to 12 months

(1) The decision to employ a person in temporary or term employment for a period of up to 12 months must be based on either a suitability assessment or a comparative assessment.

(2) If the person is employed in temporary or term employment on the basis of a suitability assessment, the person cannot continue in that employment after 12 months unless the person does so on the basis of a comparative assessment after advertising across the Public Service. In such a case, action to undertake the additional requirements of a comparative assessment should commence not later than 9 months after the commencement of the person's temporary or term employment.

(3) Subrule (2) does not prevent any additional form of advertising from also being used for the purposes of the comparative assessment.

- (4) This rule does not apply to special office temporary employees.

22 Temporary or term employment for more than 12 months

- (1) The decision to employ a person in temporary or term employment for a period of more than 12 months must be based on a comparative assessment after advertising across the Public Service. This rule does not prevent any additional form of advertising from also being used for the purposes of the comparative assessment.

- (2) This rule does not apply to special office temporary employees.

22A Employment of special office temporary employees

- (1) The decision to employ a person as a special office temporary employee must be based on the person's appropriateness for the role concerned having regard to the nature of the role and the person's qualifications, skills and experience.
- (2) The person who is to be assisted by a special office temporary employee may be involved in the process of determining a person's appropriateness for the role in which the person is to be employed.

22B Use of initial suitability and comparative assessments when extending period of temporary or term employment

If a person is employed in accordance with rule 21 or 22 after a suitability or comparative assessment (the initial assessment) and the person's temporary or term employment is subsequently extended for a further period, a further suitability or comparative assessment is not required in connection with the decision to employ the person for that further period if:

- (a) the person is to be assigned to the same role as the role to which the person was assigned after the initial assessment, or
- (b) the person's employer is satisfied that it is appropriate to rely on the initial assessment for the role to which the person is to be assigned.

Note—

The extension of a person's temporary employment in the same agency is limited by the maximum period of temporary employment under rule 10 (unless an exception under rule 10 (3) applies).

22C Exemption from rules 21 and 22 for temporary employees employed under former recruitment provisions

- (1) This rule applies to a temporary employee who:
- (a) is employed under the former recruitment provisions as referred to in clause 3 of Schedule 4 to the Government Sector Employment Regulation 2014, and

(b) is an employee to whom an exception under rule 10 (3) applies.

(2) The decision to extend the period of employment of any such temporary employee is not required to comply with rule 21 or 22.

22D Exemption from rules 21 and 22 for temporary employees who are subject to Commissioner's determination

(1) In this rule:

temporary employee means a person who:

(a) is an existing temporary employee as referred to in clause 8C of Schedule 4 to the Act, or

(b) is employed in temporary employment under the former recruitment provisions as referred to in clause 3 of Schedule 4 to the Government Sector Employment Regulation 2014.

(2) The Commissioner may, on application by the head of a Public Service agency, determine that the decision to extend the period of employment of a temporary employee (or class of temporary employees) specified in the determination is not required to comply with rule 21 or 22.

(3) If such a determination is made in relation to a temporary employee, the agency head may, without complying with rule 21 or 22, extend the period of employment of the temporary employee to a date that is no later than the date specified in the Commissioner's determination if the agency head is satisfied that the person has the qualifications, experience, standard of work performance and capabilities to enable the person to perform the duties of the role in which the person is employed.

(4) The date to which the period of employment of a temporary employee may be extended under subrule (3) cannot be later than 23 February 2018.

(5) An application under this rule must specify the following:

(a) the temporary employees or class of temporary employees to which the application relates,

(b) the reasons why the exemption from rules 21 and 22 is required,

(c) the latest date or dates to which the employment of the temporary employees to which the application relates is proposed to be extended,

(d) a timetable setting out the key milestones that will enable the agency to achieve compliance with the requirements of rules 21 and 22 when the proposed exemption ceases to apply.

(6) A determination by the Commissioner under this rule is to be in writing and may be varied or revoked by a further determination.

- (7) Without affecting the operation of subrule (4), rule 10 does not apply in relation to the extension of the period of employment of a temporary employee under subrule (3).

23 Limited advertising of vacancies arising from agency restructure

- (1) If, during the course of a major restructure affecting one or more Public Service agencies (an affected agency), the head of an affected agency considers that a significant number of employees in that or any other affected agency are likely to be determined to be excess employees, the agency head may, in taking recruitment action to fill a vacancy in a non-executive role that arises as part of the restructure, limit the recruitment to the following candidates:
- (a) persons employed in ongoing employment in affected agencies,

Any such decision is referred to in this Part as a promotion decision.

- (3) After conducting a review of a promotion decision, the reviewer may:
- (a) if satisfied that the selection process was not in any way improper or irregular, confirm the promotion decision, or
 - (b) if satisfied that the selection process was in any way improper or irregular, make a recommendation to the agency head that the agency head revoke the promotion decision and carry out another selection process for the role concerned.
