Terrorism (High Risk Offenders) Regulation 2018

New South Wales

Part 1 Preliminary

1 Name of Regulation

This Regulation is the Terrorism (High Risk Offenders) Regulation 2018.

2 Commencement

This Regulation commences on 19 January 2018 and is required to be published on the NSW legislation website.

3 Definitions

(1) In this Regulation:

the Act means the Terrorism (High Risk Offenders) Act 2017.

Note—

The Act and the Interpretation Act 1987 contain definitions and other provisions that affect the interpretation and application of this Regulation.

(2) Notes included in this Regulation do not form part of this Regulation.

Part 2 Information about eligible offenders

4 Application of Part

This Part prescribes the circumstances in which, and the kind of offender information that, the Attorney General may require under section 58 of the Act.

5 Definitions

In this Part:

associate of an eligible offender means a person (other than a family member) with whom the offender has, or formerly had, a personal or business relationship.

educational institution means a school, college, university or other institution at which education or training is provided.

family member of an eligible offender means each of the following persons:

- (a) the offender's spouse,
- (b) a parent, step-parent or legal guardian of the offender or the offender's spouse,
- (c) a grandparent or step-grandparent of the offender or the offender's spouse,
- (d) a sibling, nephew, niece, uncle or aunt (or a half-sibling, step-sibling, step-nephew, step-niece, step-uncle or step-aunt) of the offender or the offender's spouse,
- (e) a child or grandchild (or step-child or step-grandchild) of the offender or the offender's spouse,
- (f) the spouse of anyone mentioned in paragraph (b), (c), (d) or (e).

financial institution means:

- (a) an authorised deposit-taking institution within the meaning of the Banking Act 1959 of the Commonwealth, or
- (b) any other body that is regulated by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority pursuant to section 3 (2) (a)–(e) of the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority Act 1998 of the Commonwealth.

medical practitioner means a person registered under the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law to practise as a medical practitioner (other than as a student).

medical treatment means treatment by a medical practitioner in the course of the practice of medicine or surgery (including psychological or psychiatric treatment).

public authority and public official have the same meanings as in the Independent Commission Against Corruption Act 1988.

relevant official, in relation to an institution (whether educational, financial or religious), club, association or other organisation, means a chief executive officer, secretary or other person (however described) responsible for the day-to-day management of the institution, club, association or other organisation.

religious institution means a religious body or a religious organisation in respect of which a proclamation is in force under section 26 of the Marriage Act 1961 of the Commonwealth or a religious body, or an organisation or office, within a denomination in respect of which such a proclamation is in force.

spouse includes a former spouse, a de facto partner and a former de facto partner.

6 Prescribed circumstances

- (1) The Attorney General may require offender information about an eligible offender of the kind prescribed by clause 7 from a person (the required person) under section 58 of the Act only if the Attorney General is satisfied that:
- (a) the information is required for use in:
 - (i) determining whether or not to make an application for a declaration under section 12, or an order under Part 2 or 3, of the Act, or
 - (ii) proceedings under the Act, and
 - (b) the required person is a compellable person, and
