under subsection (1).

- (5) The Commission may, at any time, prepare a report on matters arising out of the exercise of the Commission's functions under this section.
- (6) The report may include such comments and recommendations as the Commission thinks fit.
- (7) The Commission is to provide a copy of the report to the Minister and the Commissioner of Police or the Crime Commissioner (as appropriate).
- (8) If the Commission makes a recommendation in the report, it may require the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner—
 - (a) to advise on whether the recommendation will be implemented, and
 - (b) if the recommendation will not be implemented—to give the reasons for not implementing the recommendation.
- (9) Information must be provided in accordance with this section despite the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998 and the Health Records and Information Privacy Act 2002 but only to the extent that it is relevant to the exercise of a function of the Commission under this section.

Part 5 Dealing with misconduct matters

Division 1 Reporting officer misconduct

33 Duty to notify Commission of possible officer misconduct and serious maladministration

- (1) This section applies to the following officers—
 - (a) the Ombudsman,
 - (b) the Crime Commissioner,
 - (c) the Commissioner of Police,
 - (d) the ICAC Commissioner,
 - (e) the principal officer of a public authority,
 - (e1) the Children's Guardian,
 - (f) an officer who constitutes a public authority.
- (2) An officer to whom this section applies is under a duty to report to the Commission any matter that the officer suspects on reasonable grounds concerns or may concern officer misconduct or serious maladministration unless the matter is of a kind that any guideline issued under subsection (5) provides does not need to be reported.

- (3) The report must be in writing.
- (4) However, the Commission—
 - (a) may accept a report that is not in writing if the Commission considers it appropriate to do so, and
 - (b) in that event, must reduce the report to writing as soon as practicable.
- (5) The Commission may issue guidelines as to what matters need or need not be reported.
- (6) A report must be provided in accordance with this section despite any prohibition in, or any requirement of, any Act or law (in particular, the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998 and the Health Records and Information Privacy Act 2002) but only to the extent that it contains information that is relevant to the officer misconduct or serious maladministration concerned.
- (7) For the purposes of this section, the regulations may prescribe who is the principal officer of a public authority, but in the absence of regulations applying in relation to a particular public authority, the principal officer is the person who is the head of the authority, its most senior officer or the person normally entitled to preside at its meetings.

Note—

Police officers are also under duties with respect to reporting misconduct—see section 211F of the Police Act 1990.

34 Referral of other misconduct matters to the Commission

- (1) Section 33 does not prevent any person to which that section applies or the Minister from referring any misconduct matter of which the person or Minister becomes aware despite the person or Minister not having a duty to report under that section to the Commission.
- (2) Section 33 (6) applies to and in respect of a misconduct matter referred under this section in the same way as it applies to a report under section 33.

Division 2 Making complaints about officer misconduct, officer maladministration and agency maladministration

35 Making complaints to Commission

- (1) Any person (including a public authority) may complain to the Commission about conduct of a police officer, Crime Commission officer or administrative employee that is (or could be) officer misconduct or officer maladministration.

- (2) Any person (including a public authority) may complain to the Commission about conduct of the Crime Commission or the NSW Police Force that is (or could be) agency maladministration.
- (3) A public official may complain to the Commission about the conduct of a police officer, Crime Commission officer or administrative employee.

Note—

Protections may be available under the following provisions to persons who make a complaint referred to in this section—

- (a) the Public Interest Disclosures Act 2022, Part 3—if the complaint is a public interest disclosure,
- (b) Part 6A—if the making of the complaint is protected action within the meaning of the Part.

- (4) This section does not affect any other right of a person to complain about the conduct of a police officer, Crime Commission officer or administrative employee or the conduct of the Crime Commission or the NSW Police Force.

Note—

For example, a complaint about the conduct of a police officer may also be made to the Commissioner of Police under section 124 of the Police Act 1990.

- (5) In this section—

public official has the same meaning as in the Public Interest Disclosures Act 2022.

36 Complaint to be in writing

- (1) A complaint to the Commission must be in writing.
- (2) However, the Commission—
 - (a) may accept a complaint that is not in writing if the Commission considers it appropriate to do so, and
 - (b) in that event, must reduce the complaint to writing as soon as practicable.
- (3) A complaint may be made by delivering or sending it to the Commission or in any other manner determined by the Commission and publicly notified by the Commission.

37 Anonymous complaints

- (1) It is not necessary for a complainant to be identified in a complaint.
- (2) Any provision of this Act or any misconduct matters management guideline that requires a complainant to be notified of any matter does not apply to or in respect of a complainant who is not identified in the complaint.

38 Complaints made by prisoners

- (1) If a prisoner informs a prison officer that the prisoner wishes to make a complaint, the prison officer—

- (a) must take all steps necessary to facilitate the making of the complaint, and
- (b) must immediately send, unopened, any written matter addressed to a police officer (whether by name or by reference to an office held by that officer), the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner (whether by name or by reference to that office) or to the Commission to that addressee.

(2) In this section—

prisoner means any person in lawful detention or custody, and prison officer means any person by whom the prisoner is detained, or in whose custody the prisoner is, or who is in charge of the prisoner and who, if a correctional officer within the meaning of the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Act 1999, is authorised by or under that Act to accept correspondence from a prisoner.

Note—

Under clause 110 of the Crimes (Administration of Sentences) Regulation 2014 a prisoner must not send any letter otherwise than through the hands of a nominated officer within the meaning of that Regulation.

39 Member of Parliament may make complaint on behalf of complainant

- (1) A complaint may, with the consent in writing of a person, be made on his or her behalf by a member of Parliament.
- (2) A member of Parliament does not become the complainant merely because the member makes a complaint to the Commission on behalf of another person but may be informed, notified, given or sent such advice about progress on or the outcome of a complaint as the Commission considers appropriate.

40 Commission may request further information from complainant

- (1) For the purpose of making a decision with respect to a complaint under section 44, the Commission may (without exercising any of its investigation powers under sections 51 and 52) do any one or more of the following—
 - (a) request the complainant to discuss the complaint with the Commission for the purpose of providing further information concerning the complaint,
 - (b) request the complainant to provide further written particulars concerning the complaint within the time specified by the Commission,
 - (c) request the complainant to verify by statutory declaration his or her complaint, or any particulars given by the complainant concerning his or her complaint.
- (2) The Commission may withdraw the request if the complainant objects and the Commission is satisfied that the grounds of the objection are well-founded.

- (3) If the Commission makes a request (and it is not withdrawn), the Commission is to take no further action in connection with the complaint concerned until the request is complied with or until a reasonable time for compliance with the request has elapsed.
- (4) If the request is not complied with within a reasonable time, the Commission may treat the complaint concerned as having been withdrawn.

41 Commission may request further information from other persons

- (1) For the purpose of making a decision under section 44 with respect to a complaint (without exercising any of its investigatory powers), the Commission may request information from persons other than the complainant.
- (2) This section does not authorise the Commission—
 - (a) to investigate the complaint or to collect information for the purposes of the investigation of the complaint or of a report under this Act, or
 - (b) to interview the officer the subject of the complaint, or
 - (c) to require persons to provide information.
- (3) A request made by the Commission under this section is not an investigation of the complaint in relation to which the request is made. However, any information provided in response to such a request may be used in any police investigation, Crime Commission investigation or investigation by the Commission under this Act.

Division 3 Dealing with misconduct matters generally

42 Notice of notifiable misconduct matters to be given to Commission

- (1) The Commissioner of Police is to give the Commission notice of any notifiable misconduct matter received by the Commissioner of Police or of which the Commissioner of Police becomes aware.
- (2) The Crime Commissioner is to give the Commission notice of any notifiable misconduct matter that is received by the Crime Commissioner or an officer of the Crime Commission or of which the Crime Commissioner or officer becomes aware.
- (3) The notice is to include a copy of (or provide electronic access to a copy of) the complaint or misconduct information concerned.

43 Notice of misconduct matters to be given by Commission

- (1) As soon as practicable after receiving or becoming aware of a misconduct matter concerning a police officer or administrative employee or the NSW Police Force, the Commission is to give the Commissioner of Police notice of the misconduct matter.
- (2) As soon as practicable after receiving or becoming aware of a misconduct matter concerning a Crime Commission officer or the Crime Commission, the Commission is to give the Crime Commissioner notice of the misconduct matter.

- (3) The notice may include a summary or sufficient details of the misconduct matter to indicate the nature of the misconduct for the information of the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner.
- (4) Nothing in this section requires a copy of a misconduct matter to be referred to the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner if the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner already has a copy (or a summary or sufficient details) of the misconduct matter.
- (5) The Commission is not required to give notice of a misconduct matter under this section if the Commission is of the opinion that it is not in the public interest to do so.

44 Dealing with misconduct matters

- (1) As soon as practicable after the Commission receives (or becomes aware of) a misconduct matter, and at any time during the course of the investigation or oversight by the Commission of a misconduct matter, the Commission may decide to do any one or more of the following—
 - (a) subject to sections 45 and 46, to investigate, or take over the investigation, of the misconduct matter,
 - (b) subject to section 45, to refer the misconduct matter for police investigation or other action or Crime Commission investigation or other action,
 - (c) to refer the misconduct matter to the Commissioner of Police or the Crime Commissioner for information,
 - (d) if the subject of a police misconduct matter is a member of the NSW Police Force involved in a critical incident, to refer the matter to the Commissioner of Police to be investigated (except as provided by section 113 (6)) under Part 8,
 - (e) to refer the misconduct matter to another body or person under section 162 for investigation or other action or for information,
 - (f) if the misconduct matter is referred for police investigation or Crime Commission investigation, to oversee the police investigation or Crime Commission investigation under Part 7,
 - (g) if the misconduct matter is referred to another person or body under section 162, to oversee any investigation or other action taken by the person or body with respect to the misconduct matter,
 - (h) to attempt to deal with the misconduct matter (being a complaint) by an alternative dispute management process under section 48,

- (i) to take no further action with respect to the misconduct matter.
- (2) A decision under subsection (1) may be made in respect of the whole or any part of a misconduct matter.
- (3) The Commission is to take into account any misconduct matters management guidelines or recommendation of the Commissioner of Police in deciding how to deal with a misconduct matter concerning a police officer, administrative employee or the NSW Police Force, or of the Crime Commissioner in deciding how to deal with a misconduct matter concerning a Crime Commission officer or the Crime Commission, but its decision is determinative of the matter.
- (4) Additional information from the complainant and other persons under sections 40 and 41, and any existing information relevant to the misconduct matter to which the Commission can readily obtain access, may be used in deciding how to deal with a misconduct matter.
- (5) The Commission may decide to investigate any matter relating to a misconduct matter under subsection (1)—
 - (a) even though it has referred the misconduct matter or part of the misconduct matter for police investigation or Crime Commission investigation or to another authority under section 162, and
 - (b) before the commencement of a police investigation or Crime Commission investigation, during the progress of a police investigation or Crime Commission investigation or after a police investigation or Crime Commission investigation of the misconduct matter.
- (6) The Commission may notify the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner of any decision the Commission makes to investigate a misconduct matter under this section during a police investigation or Crime Commission investigation of the misconduct matter.
- (7) On being so notified, the Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner is to discontinue the police investigation or Crime Commission investigation, respectively.
- (8) If the Commission decides to take no further action with respect to a misconduct matter, the Commission must notify the complainant of the decision and the reasons for it.
- (9) Except as provided by section 113 (6), the Commission must postpone the making of a decision under this section about whether it should investigate a police misconduct matter if the subject of the misconduct matter is the conduct of a police officer in relation to a critical incident until the conclusion of any critical incident investigation (within the meaning of Part 8) of the incident.

- (10) The making of a decision under this section is not an investigation of the misconduct matter to which the decision relates.
- (11) The Commissioner of Police or Crime Commissioner may investigate or otherwise deal with any notifiable misconduct matter pending the making of a decision by the Commission under this section.

45 Factors affecting decision to investigate misconduct matters and referral for police or Crime Commission investigation

- (1) In deciding whether any misconduct matter should be, or does not need to be, investigated by the Commission or referred for police investigation or Crime Commission investigation, the Commission may have regard to such matters as the Commission thinks fit, including whether, in the Commission's opinion—
 - (a) action has been, is being or will be taken to remedy the subject-matter of the misconduct matter without the need for an investigation by the Commission or any other person or body, or
 - (b) the misconduct matter is frivolous, vexatious or not made in good faith, or
 - (c) the subject-matter of the misconduct matter is trivial, or
 - (d) the relevant conduct occurred too long ago to justify investigation, or
 - (e) there is or was available an alternative and satisfactory means of redress in relation to the relevant conduct, or
 - (f) the complainant does not or could not have an interest, or a sufficient interest, in the conduct complained of, or
 - (g) civil, criminal or disciplinary proceedings, or a coroner's inquest, relating to the subject-matter of the misconduct matter are pending or reasonably in contemplation.
- (2) The Commission may only decide that the Commission is to investigate a misconduct matter if—
 - (a) the conduct is of a kind described in section 51, and
 - (b) in the case of a decision to investigate by an examination, the Commission has decided that the conduct concerned is (or could be) conduct that falls within the description of serious misconduct or serious maladministration that should be investigated and that an examination should be conducted.

Note—

See section 19 (2).

- (3) The Commission may decide to conduct an investigation into agency maladministration (or refer a misconduct matter concerning agency maladministration for police investigation or Crime Commission investigation) even though no particular police officer, administrative employee, Crime Commission officer or other person has been implicated and even though no officer misconduct or officer maladministration is suspected.

46 Factors affecting decision to investigate serious misconduct or serious maladministration

The factors that the Commission may take into account in deciding whether the Commission is to investigate conduct it has decided falls within (or could fall within) the description of serious misconduct or serious maladministration are as follows—

- (a) the apparent level of criminality or systemic nature of the conduct and the Commission's responsibility to direct the Commission's attention to serious matters affecting the integrity of the NSW Police Force and Crime Commission,
- (b) the primary responsibility of the NSW Police Force to investigate and prevent officer misconduct, officer maladministration and agency maladministration within the NSW Police Force,
- (c) the primary responsibility of the Crime Commission to investigate and prevent officer misconduct, officer maladministration and agency maladministration within the Crime Commission,
- (d) the availability of the Commission or any other public authority or official with the responsibility, jurisdiction or power to investigate conduct of the kind concerned,
- (e) if the conduct is related to conduct that the Commission is already investigating, the relationship to any other on-going investigation of the Commission,
- (f) the complexity of the matter,
- (g) the number and seniority of police officers, administrative employees or Crime Commission officers involved.

47 Referral of misconduct matters for police or Crime Commission investigation

- (1) As soon as practicable after deciding that a misconduct matter should be referred for police investigation, the Commission must refer the misconduct matter to the Commissioner of Police.
- (2) As soon as practicable after deciding that a misconduct matter should be referred for Crime Commission investigation, the Commission must refer the misconduct matter to the Crime Commissioner.
- (3) In referring a misconduct matter or part of a misconduct matter to the Commissioner of Police for police investigation or the Crime Commissioner for Crime Commission investigation, the Commission may recommend—

- (a) matters that need to be examined or taken into consideration by the police officer or police officers or Crime Commissioner officer or Crime Commission officers investigating the misconduct matter, and
 - (b) the time within which the investigation should be concluded.
- (4) Referral of a misconduct matter for police investigation or Crime Commission investigation does not prevent the Commission from subsequently deciding to investigate or take other action with respect to the matter under section 44.

48 Dealing with complaint by alternative dispute management

- (1) The Commission may decide to attempt to deal with a complaint by mediation, conciliation or any other alternative dispute management process for the purpose of resolving the complaint.
- (2) Any statement or admission made in the course of the process and any document prepared for the purposes of it is not admissible in any subsequent investigation (including an examination) under this Act or in any other legal proceeding (unless the person who said or admitted the thing, or to whom the document relates, consents to its admission).
- (3) If an attempt to deal with a complaint by a process under this section is unsuccessful, the conciliation is to be treated as if it had not taken place. However, any member of the Commission or Assistant Commissioner who assisted in the process is excluded from participating as an investigating officer in any investigation of the complaint concerned.
- (4) Subsection (3) does not prevent a member of the Commission who assisted in a process under this section from participating in making any decision under section 19 (2).
- (5) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the process for dealing with complaints under this section.

49 Registration of misconduct matters

The following must be registered in the misconduct matters information system—

- (a) information about all police complaints, administrative employee complaints and agency complaints about the NSW Police Force received by the Commission,
- (b) such information about misconduct information as is required to be registered in the system by a misconduct matters management guideline.

50 Action on misconduct matter not affected by failure to comply with Part

Action taken with respect to a misconduct matter is not to be called into question in any legal proceedings merely because of any failure to comply with the requirements of this Part with respect to the referral or notification of the misconduct matter.

Part 6 Investigation powers

Division 1 Investigation powers generally

51 Exercise of investigation powers

- (1) The Commission may exercise its investigation powers in respect of conduct—
- (a) if the conduct concerned involves a police officer, administrative employee or Crime Commission officer and the Commission has decided that the conduct concerned is (or could be) serious misconduct or officer maladministration that is serious maladministration and should be investigated, or

Note—

See section 19 (2) in relation to the making of a decision under this provision.

- (b) if the conduct concerned involves the Commissioner of Police or a Deputy Commissioner of Police and is (or could be) police misconduct or officer maladministration, or
 - (c) if the conduct concerned involves the Crime Commissioner or an Assistant Commissioner of the Crime Commission and is (or could be) Crime Commission officer misconduct or officer maladministration, or
 - (d) if the conduct concerned is (or could be) agency maladministration, or
 - (e) if both Houses of Parliament refer the conduct concerned to the Commission for investigation under section 196.
- (2) The investigation powers may be exercised—
- (a) on any complaint made or referred to the Commission under this or any other Act, or
 - (b) on the Commission's own initiative on the basis of misconduct information provided to it in a report or of which it otherwise becomes aware.
- (3) The power to investigate conduct under this section includes the power—
- (a) to investigate conduct that could be, but is not, the subject of a complaint, and
 - (b) to investigate the actions of another person or body in relation to the conduct concerned and any related issues, and

(c) to refer the matter for investigation or other action under section 162.

(4) Without limiting subsection (3), if the misconduct matter or conduct is (or could be) indicative of a systemic problem involving the NSW Police Force generally, or a particular area of the NSW Police Force, and the Commission considers it in the public interest to do so, the investigation by the Commission may extend beyond any police officer or administrative employee to whom the misconduct matter or conduct relates—

(a) to the NSW Police Force generally, or that particular area of the NSW Police Force, and

(b) to other police officers and administrative employees.

(5) Without limiting subsection (3), if the misconduct matter or conduct is (or could be) indicative of a systemic problem involving the Crime Commission generally, or a particular area of the Crime Commission, and the Commission considers it in the public interest to do so, the investigation by the Commission may extend beyond any Crime Commission officer to whom the misconduct matter or conduct relates—

(a) to the Crime Commission generally, or that particular area of the Crime Commission, and

(b) to other Crime Commission officers.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (1), conduct that is (or could be) indicative of both officer misconduct or officer maladministration and agency maladministration is to be treated as officer misconduct or officer maladministration.

52 Preliminary investigation

(1) An investigation power the Commission decides to exercise under section 51 may be in the nature of a preliminary investigation.

(2) A preliminary investigation can be conducted, for example, for the purpose of—

(a) assisting the Commission to discover or identify conduct that might be made the subject of a more complete investigation, or

(b) assisting the Commission to decide whether to make particular conduct the subject of a more complete investigation, or

(c) assisting the Commission in making a decision under section 61 with respect to the holding of an examination with respect to conduct that is (or could be) serious misconduct.

53 Discontinuance or conclusion of investigation

(1) The Commission may discontinue or conclude an investigation at any time.

- (2) In deciding to discontinue or conclude an investigation with respect to a misconduct matter, the Commission may have regard to such matters as it thinks fit, including the matters referred to in sections 45 and 46.
- (3) Where the Commission discontinues an investigation of police misconduct, the Commission must inform the complainant and the Commissioner of Police in writing of the decision and the reasons for the decision.

Division 2 Powers to obtain information, documents and other things

54 Power to obtain information

- (1) For the purposes of an investigation, the Commission may, by notice in writing served on a public authority or public official, require the authority or official to prepare and produce a statement of information.
- (2) A notice under this section must specify or describe the information concerned, must fix a time and date for compliance and must specify the person (being a Commissioner, an Assistant Commissioner or any other officer of the Commission) to whom production is to be made.
- (3) The notice may provide that the requirement may be satisfied by some other person acting on behalf of the public authority or public official and may, but need not, specify the person or class of persons who may so act.
- (4) A person must not—
 - (a) without reasonable excuse, fail to comply with a notice served on the person under this section, or
 - (b) in purported compliance with a notice served on the person or some other person under this section, furnish information knowing it to be false or misleading in a material particular.

Maximum penalty—100 penalty units or imprisonment for 2 years, or both.

Note—

It is an offence to procure or cause a person to furnish false or misleading information in purported compliance with a notice under this section—see section 153.

(b) to produce at that time and place to the person so specified a document or other thing specified in the notice.

- (2) The notice may provide that the requirement may be satisfied by some other person acting on behalf of the person on whom it was imposed and may, but need not, specify the person or class of persons who may so act.
- (3) A person must not, without reasonable excuse, refuse or fail to comply with a notice served on the person under this section.

Maximum penalty—100 penalty units or imprisonment for 2 years, or both.

56 Abrogation of privileges

- (1) This section applies where, under section 54 or 55, the Commission requires any person to produce—
- (a) any statement of information, or
 - (b) any document or other thing.
- (2) The Commission must set aside the requirement if it appears to the Commission that any person has a ground of privilege under which, in proceedings in a court of law, the person might resist a like requirement and it does not appear to the Commission that the person consents to compliance with the requirement.
- (3) The person must, however, comply with the requirement despite—
- (a) any rule that in proceedings in a court of law might justify an objection to compliance with a like requirement on grounds of public interest, or
 - (b) any privilege of a public authority or public official in that capacity that the authority or official could have claimed in a court of law, or
 - (c) any duty of secrecy or other restriction on disclosure applying to a public authority or public official or a former public authority or public official.

57 Self-incrimination

- (1) This section applies if because of section 56 (3) any person (other than a body corporate) must comply with a requirement under section 54 or 55 to produce—
- (a) any statement of information, or
 - (b) any document or other thing.
- (2) If the statement, document or other thing tends to incriminate the person and the person objects to production at the time the person is required to produce it, neither the fact of the requirement nor the statement, document or thing itself (if produced) may be used in any proceedings against the person (except proceedings for an offence against this Act, proceedings for contempt under this Act or as provided by subsections (3), (4) and (5)). This subsection extends to any further information, document or other thing obtained as a direct or indirect consequence of the statement, document or other thing produced.

- (3) They may however be used for the purposes of the investigation concerned, despite any such objection.
- (4) A statement, document or other thing may be used in deciding whether to—
 - (a) make an order under section 173 or 181D of the Police Act 1990 (and is admissible in any proceedings under Division 1A or 1C of Part 9 of that Act), and
 - (b) make an order under section 183A of the Police Act 1990 or any proceedings for the purposes of Division 2A of Part 9 of that Act with respect to such an order, and

 - (c) any document in any civil proceedings for or in respect of any right or liability conferred or imposed by the document or other thing.

58 Power to enter public premises

 - (a) enter and inspect any premises occupied or used by a public authority or public official in that capacity, and
 - (b) inspect any document or other thing in or on the premises, and
 - (c) take copies of any document in or on the premises.
- (2) The public authority or public official must make available to the Commissioner or authorised officer such facilities as are necessary to enable the powers conferred by this section to be exercised.

- (3) The powers conferred by this section must not be exercised if it appears to the Commissioner or authorised officer that any person has a ground of privilege under which, in proceedings in a court of law, the person might resist inspection of the premises or production of the document or other thing and it does not appear to the Commissioner or authorised officer that the person consents to the inspection or production.
- (4) The powers may, however, be exercised despite—
 - (a) any rule of law that, in proceedings in a court of law, might justify an objection to an inspection of the premises or to production of the document or other thing on grounds of public interest, or
 - (b) any privilege of a public authority or public official in that capacity that the authority or official could have claimed in a court of law, or
 - (c) any duty of secrecy or other restriction on disclosure applying to a public authority or public official.

59 Injunctions

- (1) The Supreme Court may, on application made by the Commission, grant an injunction restraining any conduct in which a person (whether or not a public authority or public official) is engaging or in which such a person might engage, if the conduct is the subject of, or affects or could affect the subject of, an investigation or proposed investigation.
- (2) The Supreme Court is not to grant an injunction under this section unless it is of the opinion that—
 - (a) the conduct sought to be restrained is likely to impede the conduct of the investigation or proposed investigation, or
 - (b) it is necessary to restrain the conduct in order to prevent irreparable harm being done because of officer misconduct or serious maladministration or suspected officer misconduct or serious maladministration.
- (3) The Commission is not to be required, as a condition for the granting of an injunction under this section, to give any undertakings as to damages.

60 Powers exercisable whether or not examinations being held

Powers may be exercised under this Part (other than Divisions 3, 4 and 9) in relation to an investigation under this Act whether or not an examination is being held for the purposes of the investigation.

Division 3 Examinations

61 When may an examination be held

The Commission may hold an examination under this Division, for the following purposes—

- (a) an investigation of conduct that the Commission has decided is (or could be) serious misconduct or serious maladministration,
- (b) investigation of conduct referred to it by Parliament under section 196.

Note—

See section 19 (2) in relation to the making of a decision under this provision.

62 Examinations

- (1) An examination must be held by the Chief Commissioner, Commissioner or an Assistant Commissioner, as determined by the Chief Commissioner (the examining Commissioner).
- (2) At an examination, the examining Commissioner must announce the general scope and purpose of the examination.
- (3) A person appearing at an examination is entitled to be informed of the general scope and purpose of the examination, unless the examining Commissioner is of the opinion that this would seriously prejudice the investigation concerned.

63 Public and private examinations

- (1) An examination (or part of an examination) may, subject to subsection (2), be held in public or in private.
- (2) An examination (or part of an examination) may only be held in public if the Commission decides that it is appropriate.

Note—

See section 19 (2) (c) in relation to the making of a decision under this provision.

- (3) Despite the Commission deciding to hold an examination (or part of an examination) in public, the examining Commissioner may decide to hear closing submissions or any other part of a hearing in private.
- (4) Subsection (3) extends to a closing submission by a person appearing before the examining Commissioner or an Australian legal practitioner representing such a person, as well as to a closing submission by an Australian legal practitioner assisting the Commission as counsel.
- (5) Without limiting the factors that the Commission may take into account in determining whether or not to hold an examination (or part of an examination) in public, the Commission is to consider the following—

- (a) the benefit of exposing to the public, and making it aware of, serious misconduct,
 - (b) the seriousness of the allegation or misconduct matter being investigated,
 - (c) any risk of undue prejudice to a person's reputation (including by not holding the examination in public),
