- (8) If consent was given before the proceedings are initiated, the proceedings are nevertheless to be initiated with respect to the complaint in the same way as if the consent had not yet been given.
- (9) The Tribunal is to be constituted in the same way as for the conduct of a hearing into the complaint.
- (10) In deciding whether to make orders pursuant to an instrument of consent, the Tribunal may make such inquiries of the parties as it thinks fit and may, despite any such consent, conduct or complete a hearing in relation to the complaint if it considers it to be in the public interest to do so.

- (3) If the Tribunal makes an order that an Australian legal practitioner pay a fine, a copy of the order may be filed in the registry of a court having jurisdiction to give judgment for a debt of the same amount as the amount of the fine and the order may be enforced as if it were an order of the court.

party means plaintiff or defendant.

personal injury damages has the same meaning as in Part 2 of the Civil Liability Act 2002.

plaintiff means a person who makes or is entitled to make a claim for personal injury damages.

(2) This Schedule does not apply to the following costs—

- (a) costs for legal services provided in respect of a claim under the Motor Accidents Act 1988 or Motor Accidents Compensation Act 1999,
- (b) costs for legal services provided in respect of a claim for work injury damages (as defined in the Workplace Injury Management and Workers Compensation Act 1998),
- (c) costs for legal services provided in respect of a claim for damages in proceedings of the kind referred to in section 11 (Claims for damages for dust diseases etc to be brought under this Act) of the Dust Diseases Tribunal Act 1989.

2 Maximum costs fixed for claims up to $100,000

- (1) If the amount recovered on a claim for personal injury damages does not exceed $100,000, the maximum costs for legal services provided to a party in connection with the claim are fixed as follows—
 - (a) in the case of legal services provided to a plaintiff—maximum costs are fixed at 20% of the amount recovered or $10,000, whichever is greater,
 - (b) in the case of legal services provided to a defendant—maximum costs are fixed at 20% of the amount sought to be recovered by the plaintiff or $10,000, whichever is greater.
- (2) The local regulations may prescribe an amount to replace the amount of $100,000 or $10,000 in subclause (1) and may prescribe a percentage to replace the percentage of 20% in subclause (1). When such a replacement amount or percentage is prescribed, it applies for the purposes of subclause (1) in place of the amount or percentage that it replaces.

- (3) The local regulations may contain provisions of a savings or transitional nature consequent on the making of regulations under this clause.
- (4) When the maximum costs for legal services provided to a party are fixed by this Schedule the following provisions apply (subject to clauses 4-6)—
 - (a) a law practice is not entitled to be paid or recover for those legal services an amount that exceeds those maximum costs,
 - (b) a court or tribunal cannot order the payment by another party to the claim of costs in respect of those legal services in an amount that exceeds that maximum,
 - (c) in assessing the amount of those costs that is a fair and reasonable amount, a costs assessor cannot determine an amount that exceeds the maximum set by this clause.
- (5) In this Schedule—
 - (a) a reference to legal services provided to a party is a reference to legal services provided to the party by a law practice (including by an associate of the law practice), and
 - (b) a reference to costs for legal services does not include costs charged as disbursements for services provided by any other person or other disbursements.
- (6) If proceedings are commenced on a claim, the amount sought to be recovered by the plaintiff is taken to be the amount sought to be proved by the plaintiff at the hearing of the claim.
- (7) Maximum costs fixed by this Schedule apply despite local regulations under section 59(1)(b) fixing those costs.

3 Maximum costs increased by additional amount for certain claims heard by District Court

- (1) This clause applies to a claim for personal injury damages in respect of which the amount recovered does not exceed $100,000 that is made by proceedings heard by the District Court.
- (2) If the District Court has referred the proceedings to arbitration and, following the arbitration, made an order for a full or limited rehearing of the proceedings concerned on the application of a party, the maximum costs fixed by this Schedule for legal services provided in connection with the claim to the other party are increased by the additional amount.
- (3) If the decision of the District Court in respect of a claim is the subject of an appeal, the maximum costs fixed by this Schedule for legal services provided in connection with the claim to the party who is the respondent to the appeal are increased by the additional amount or, if subclause (2) also applies to legal services provided to the respondent, by 2 times the additional amount.

- (4) For the purposes of this section, the additional amount is—
- (a) in the case of legal services provided to the plaintiff—15% of the amount recovered, or $7,500, whichever is the greater, and
 - (b) in the case of legal services provided to the defendant—15% of the amount sought to be recovered by the plaintiff, or $7,500, whichever is the greater.
- (5) The local regulations may prescribe a percentage to replace the percentage of 15% in subclause (4) and may prescribe an amount to replace the amount of $7,500 in subclause (4). When such a replacement percentage or amount is prescribed, it applies for the purposes of subclause (4) in place of the percentage or amount that it replaces.
- (6) The local regulations may contain provisions of a savings or transitional nature consequent on the making of regulations under this clause.

4 Maximum costs do not affect solicitor-client costs under costs agreements

- (1) This Schedule does not apply to the recovery of costs payable as between a law practice and the practice's client to the extent that recovery of those costs is provided for by a costs agreement that complies with Division 4 of Part 4.3 of the Legal Profession Uniform Law \(NSW\).
- (2) The local regulations may make provision for or with respect to requiring disclosure by a law practice to the practice's client of information in relation to the effect of a costs agreement in connection with the operation of this Schedule.
- (3) The local regulations may provide that a failure by a law practice to comply with the requirements of the local regulations under this clause disentitles the law practice to the benefit of this clause, and in such a case this Schedule applies in respect of the claim concerned despite the terms of any costs agreement.

5 Costs can be awarded on indemnity basis for costs incurred after failure to accept offer of compromise

- (1) If a party to a claim for personal injury damages makes a reasonable offer of compromise on the claim that is not accepted, this Schedule does not prevent the awarding of costs against another party to be assessed on an indemnity basis in respect of legal services provided after the offer is made.
- (2) An offer of compromise on a claim by a party is reasonable if the court determines or makes an order or award on the claim in terms that are no less favourable to the party than the terms of the offer.

- (3) The local regulations may make provision for or with respect to requiring disclosure by a law practice to the practice's client of information in relation to the operation of this clause in respect of any refusal by the client to accept an offer of compromise.
- (4) If it appears to the court in which proceedings are taken on a claim for personal injury damages that a law practice has failed to comply with any provision of the local regulations under this clause, and that the client of the practice has incurred an increased liability for costs as a result of refusing a reasonable offer of compromise in connection with the claim concerned, the court may of its own motion or on the application of the client make either or both of the following orders—
 - (a) an order directing the law practice to repay to the client the whole or any part of those increased costs that the client has been ordered to pay to any other party,
 - (b) an order directing the law practice to indemnify any party other than the client against the whole or any part of the costs payable by the party indemnified in respect of legal services provided after the offer is refused.

6 Court may order certain legal services to be excluded from maximum costs limitation

A court hearing a claim for personal injury damages may by order exclude from the operation of this Schedule legal services provided to a party to the claim if the court is satisfied that the legal services were provided in response to any action on the claim by or on behalf of the other party to the claim that in the circumstances was not reasonably necessary for the advancement of that party's case or was intended or reasonably likely to unnecessarily delay or complicate determination of the claim.

7 Apportionment of maximum costs between law practices

- (1) If more than one law practice provides legal services to a party in connection with a claim, the maximum costs fixed by this Schedule are to be apportioned between them as agreed by them or (failing agreement) as ordered by the court hearing proceedings on the claim.

Note—

For example, this provision would apply in relation to the provision of legal services by both a firm of solicitors and a barrister.

- (2) The maximum then applicable to a particular law practice is the law practice's apportioned share of those maximum costs.

8 Meaning of "amount recovered" on a claim

- (1) A reference in this Schedule to the amount recovered on a claim includes any amount paid under a compromise or settlement of the claim (whether or not legal proceedings have been instituted).

- (2) In determining the amount recovered on a claim for personal injury damages, no regard is to be had to any part of the amount recovered that is attributable to costs or to the addition of interest.

Schedule 2 Costs in civil claims where no reasonable prospects of success

1 Application of Schedule

- (1) Schedule extends to appeals This Schedule extends to legal services in connection with proceedings in a court on appeal as well as a court at first instance.
- (2) Legal services provided by both barrister and solicitor If legal services in relation to a particular matter are provided by both a solicitor and a barrister instructed by the solicitor, any function imposed by this Schedule on a law practice in respect of the provision of the services is to be read as imposing the function on both the solicitor and barrister.

2 Law practice not to act unless there are reasonable prospects of success

- (1) A law practice must not provide legal services on a claim or defence of a claim for damages unless a legal practitioner associate responsible for the provision of the services concerned reasonably believes on the basis of provable facts and a reasonably arguable view of the law that the claim or the defence (as appropriate) has reasonable prospects of success.
- (2) A fact is provable only if the associate reasonably believes that the material then available to him or her provides a proper basis for alleging that fact.
- (3) This Schedule applies despite any obligation that a law practice or a legal practitioner associate of the practice may have to act in accordance with the instructions or wishes of the client.
- (4) A claim has reasonable prospects of success if there are reasonable prospects of damages being recovered on the claim. A defence has reasonable prospects of success if there are reasonable prospects of the defence defeating the claim or leading to a reduction in the damages recovered on the claim.
- (5) Provision of legal services in contravention of this clause constitutes for the purposes of this Schedule the provision of legal services without reasonable prospects of success.

3 Preliminary legal work not affected

This Schedule does not apply to legal services provided as a preliminary matter for the purpose of a proper and reasonable consideration of whether a claim or defence has reasonable prospects of success.

4 Restrictions on commencing proceedings without reasonable prospects of success

- (1) The provision of legal services by a law practice without reasonable prospects of success does not constitute an offence but is capable of being unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct by a legal practitioner associate of the practice who is responsible for the provision of the service or by a principal of the practice.
- (2) A law practice cannot file court documentation on a claim or defence of a claim for damages unless a principal of the practice, or a legal practitioner associate responsible for the provision of the legal service concerned, certifies that there are reasonable grounds for believing on the basis of provable facts and a reasonably arguable view of the law that the claim or the defence (as appropriate) has reasonable prospects of success.
- (3) Court documentation on a claim or defence of a claim for damages, which has been lodged for filing, is not to be filed in a court or court registry unless accompanied by the certification required by this clause. Rules of court may make provision for or with respect to the form of that certification.

- (4) In this clause—

court documentation means—

- (a) an originating process (including for example, a statement of claim, summons or cross-claim), defence or further pleading, or
- (b) an amended originating process, defence or further pleading, or
- (c) a document amending an originating process, defence or further pleading, or
- (d) any other document of a kind prescribed by the local regulations.

cross-claim includes counter-claim and cross-action.

5 Costs order against law practice acting without reasonable prospects of success

- (1) If it appears to a court in which proceedings are taken on a claim for damages that a law practice has provided legal services to a party without reasonable prospects of success, the court may of its own motion or on the application of any party to the proceedings make either or both of the following orders in respect of the practice or of a legal practitioner associate of the practice responsible for providing the services—
 - (a) an order directing the practice or associate to repay to the party to whom the services were provided the whole or any part of the costs that the party has been ordered to pay to any other party,
 - (b) an order directing the practice or associate to indemnify any party other than the party to whom the services were provided against the whole or any part of the costs payable by the party indemnified.

- (2) The Supreme Court may on the application of any party to proceedings on a claim for damages make any order that the court in which proceedings on the claim are taken could make under this clause.
- (3) An application for an order under this clause cannot be made after a final determination has been made under Part 7 by a costs assessor of the costs payable as a result of an order made by the court in which the proceedings on the claim concerned were taken.
- (4) A law practice or legal practitioner associate of the practice is not entitled to demand, recover or accept from a client any part of the amount for which the practice or associate is directed to indemnify a party pursuant to an order under this clause.

6 Onus of showing facts provided reasonable prospects of success

- (1) If the court (the trial court) hearing proceedings on a claim for damages finds that the facts established by the evidence before the court do not form a basis for a reasonable belief that the claim or the defence had reasonable prospects of success, there is a presumption for the purposes of this Schedule that legal services provided on the claim or the defence (as appropriate) were provided without reasonable prospects of success.
- (2) If the Supreme Court (when the Supreme Court is not the trial court) is satisfied, either as a result of a finding of the trial court or otherwise on the basis of the judgment of the trial court, that the facts established by the evidence before the trial court do not form a basis for a reasonable belief that the claim or the defence had reasonable prospects of success, there is a presumption for the purposes of this Schedule that legal services provided on the claim or the defence (as appropriate) were provided without reasonable prospects of success.
- (3) A presumption arising under this clause is rebuttable and a person seeking to rebut it bears the onus of establishing that at the time legal services were provided there were provable facts (as provided by clause 2 (Law practice not to act unless there are reasonable prospects of success)) that provided a basis for a reasonable belief that the claim or the defence on which they were provided had reasonable prospects of success.
- (4) A law practice or legal practitioner associate of the practice may, for the purpose of establishing that at the time legal services were provided there were provable facts (as provided by clause 2 (Law practice not to act unless there are reasonable prospects of success)) that provided a basis for a reasonable belief that the claim or the defence on which they were provided had reasonable prospects of success, produce information or a document despite any duty of confidentiality in respect of a communication between the law practice or a legal practitioner associate of the practice and a client, but only if—

- (a) the client is the client to whom the legal services were provided or consents to its disclosure, or
- (b) the court is satisfied that it is necessary for the law practice or associate to do so in order to rebut a presumption arising under this clause.
