  - (d) on the day appointed for the taking of the poll for the next general election, or
  - (e) if the person resigns by letter addressed to the member of Parliament, or
  - (f) if the person's services are dispensed with by the member of Parliament.
- (1A) The employment of a person under this Part by a member of Parliament may also be terminated by the relevant Presiding Officer under section 20A.
- (2) The relevant Presiding Officer may direct in a particular case that the employment of a person that would otherwise terminate because of the operation of subsection (1) (a)–(d) does not terminate. In that case, the person's employment continues for such period as the relevant Presiding Officer directs and the person is taken to be employed by the relevant Presiding Officer during that period.

- (3) A member of Parliament may at any time dispense with the services of a person employed by the member of Parliament under this Part.
- (4) This section has effect despite anything in the written agreement of employment of the person concerned.

20A Termination by relevant Presiding Officer of employment for misconduct

- (1) The employment of a person under this Part by a member of Parliament may be terminated by the relevant Presiding Officer after consulting the member of Parliament if the relevant Presiding Officer is satisfied that the staff member has engaged in misconduct.
- (2) The relevant Presiding Officer may not terminate the employment of a staff member unless—
  - (a) the staff member is notified in writing of the proposed termination and the reasons for taking that action, and
  - (b) the staff member is given a reasonable opportunity to make submissions in relation to the proposed termination, and
  - (c) if any such submissions are made, the relevant Presiding Officer has taken those submissions into consideration.
- (3) If—
  - (a) any matter relating to the misconduct by a staff member is being dealt with by the relevant Presiding Officer, or
  - (b) a staff member is charged with a serious offence,the relevant Presiding Officer may, after consulting the member of Parliament who employed the staff member, suspend the staff member from duty until the matter or the criminal charge has been dealt with and any subsequent action has been taken by the relevant Presiding Officer. Any such suspension may be removed by the relevant Presiding Officer at any time.
- (4) The relevant Presiding Officer may direct that any remuneration payable to a staff member while the staff member is suspended from duty under this section is to be withheld.
- (5) If, in the case of a staff member whose employment is suspended—
  - (a) the relevant Presiding Officer terminates the employment of the staff member for misconduct, or

(b) the staff member is convicted of the offence concerned, any remuneration so withheld is forfeited to the State unless the relevant Presiding Officer otherwise directs or that remuneration was due to the staff member in respect of a period before the suspension was imposed.

- (6) Action may be taken or continued under this section in respect of a staff member despite the staff member resigning or otherwise ceasing to be employed by the member of Parliament concerned.
- (7) A member of Parliament may not, except with the approval of the relevant Presiding Officer, employ a person under this Part if the person's employment has been terminated at any time under this section.
- (8) This section does not limit the power of a member of Parliament to dispense with the services of a staff member under section 20.
- (9) This section has effect despite anything in the written agreement of employment of the staff member concerned.
- (10) In this section—

detrimental action has the same meaning as in the Public Interest Disclosures Act 2022.

Schedule 2 Savings, transitional and other provisions

Part 1 General

1 Regulations

- (1) The regulations may contain provisions of a savings or transitional nature consequent on the enactment of this Act or any Act that amends this Act.
- (2) Any such provision may, if the regulations so provide, take effect from the date of assent to the Act concerned or a later date.
- (3) To the extent to which any such provision takes effect from a date that is earlier than the date of its publication on the NSW legislation website, the provision does not operate so as—
  - (a) to affect, in a manner prejudicial to any person (other than the State or an authority of the State), the rights of that person existing before the date of its publication, or
  - (b) to impose liabilities on any person (other than the State or an authority of the State) in respect of anything done or omitted to be done before the date of its publication.

Part 2 Provisions consequent on enactment of this Act

2 Existing ministerial staff

A person who, immediately before the commencement of Part 2 of this Act, was employed under Part 2.5 of the Public Sector Employment and Management Act 2002 as a special temporary employee in the office of a Minister or the Leader of the Opposition is, on that commencement, taken to be employed under and in accordance with Part 2 of this Act by that Minister or by the Leader of the Opposition (as the case requires).

3 Existing employees of members of Parliament

- (1) A person who, immediately before the commencement of Part 3 of this Act, was employed (otherwise than under Part 2.5 of the Public Sector Employment and Management Act 2002) to assist a member of Parliament or a special office holder to exercise the member's or office holder's functions is, on that commencement taken to be employed under and in accordance with Part 3 of this Act by that member of Parliament or special office holder (as the case requires).
- (2) However, any determination under this Act of the conditions of employment of any such existing member of staff, or the staff member's written agreement of employment under this Act, cannot reduce the entitlements that the staff member had in his or her previous employment with respect to—

- (a) leave, and
- (b) notice periods and severance pay for termination of service.

4 Provisions relating to persons deemed to be employed under this Act

An existing staff member to whom clause 2 or 3 applies—

- (a) retains any rights to annual leave, extended or long service leave or sick leave accrued in his or her employment as an existing staff member (including any existing right to cash out accrued annual leave), and
- (b) retains any existing right to continue to contribute to any State superannuation scheme or fund in respect of which the person is a member, and
- (c) is not entitled to receive any payment or other benefit (including in the nature of severance pay or redundancy or other compensation) merely because the staff member ceases to be in the employment from which the staff member was transferred by the operation of this Part, and
- (d) is not (except to the extent as provided by paragraph (a)) entitled to elect to be paid the money value of any extended or annual leave that the staff member accrued in the employment from which the staff member was transferred by the operation of this Part, and
- (e) is not entitled to claim, both under this or any other Act, dual benefits of the same kind for the same period of service.

5 Appropriation for staff of political office holders

An appropriation under an annual Appropriation Act to the Premier for the recurrent services of the Department of Premier and Cabinet in respect of the financial year in which Part 2 of this Act commences is taken to include an appropriation for the purposes of the employment of persons by political office holders under that Part.

6 Application of Order made under Constitution Act 1902

The Order made under section 47 of the Constitution Act 1902 and published in the Gazette on 2 May 1952 does not apply in relation to the employment of persons under Part 3 of this Act.

7 Records of political office holders

- (1) Any record of information created or received by a political office holder or the staff of a political office holder that is stored by a person employed in the Premier's Department in connection with the provision of information technology services for the office holder or his or her staff is, for all purposes while the political office holder is holding that office, taken to be in the possession or under the control of the political office holder and not in the possession or under the control of the Premier's Department.

- (2) Accordingly, any request or requirement to produce any such record of information is to be made or directed to the political office holder concerned or his or her staff.
- (3) This clause extends to records of information in existence before the commencement of this clause.

8 Transfer of records of former political office holders

- (1) This clause applies in relation to any record of information that was created or received by a political office holder or the staff of a political office holder and that is stored by a person employed in the Premier's Department in connection with the provision of information technology services for the office holder or his or her staff.
- (2) If the political office holder to whom any such record of information relates ceases or has ceased to hold that office (the former political office holder), the Secretary of the Premier's Department may—
  - (a) transfer the stored record of information to the public office that, in the opinion of the Secretary of that Department, is the appropriate public office to have possession or control of the record, or
  - (b) dispose of the stored record of information (but not until 7 years after the former political office holder ceased to hold office).
- (3) If a record of information is transferred to a public office under this clause, the public office or head of that office must, before responding to any request or requirement to produce the record, consult with the head of the Public Service agency that is responsible to the political office holder who has portfolio responsibilities closest to those of the former political office holder.
- (4) A public office may, at any time after the period of 7 years following the transfer of a record of information to it under this clause, dispose of the record.
- (5) A record may not be disposed of under subclause (2) (b) or (4) if—
  - (a) the record is the subject of a legal requirement to be produced, or
  - (b) legal proceedings have been commenced in respect of which there is a reasonable likelihood that the record will be required to be produced.
- (6) Before disposing of any record of information in accordance with subclause (4), the public office or head of that office must consult with the head of the Public Service agency that is responsible to the political office holder who has portfolio responsibilities closest to those of the former political office holder.

- (7) Subclauses (3) and (6) do not apply in relation to a record of information that relates to a former Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly.
- (8) This clause has effect despite the provisions of any other Act or law.
- (9) This clause extends to records of information in existence before the commencement of this clause.
- (10) In this clause, public office has the same meaning as in the State Records Act 1998.
