Part 2 Civil Proceedings (Small Claims Division)

Division 1 Preliminary

2.1 Application of Part

This Part applies to—

- (a) proceedings in the Court sitting in the Court's Small Claims Division, and
- (b) the transfer of proceedings to or from the Small Claims Division.

Division 2 Transfer of proceedings

2.2 Transfer of proceedings from Small Claims Division to General Division: jurisdictional limit exceeded

Proceedings are to be transferred to the Court's General Division if a cross-claim is made in the proceedings for an amount exceeding the jurisdictional limit of the Court's Small Claims Division.

Note—

As at the commencement of these rules, the jurisdictional limit of the Court sitting in its Small Claims Division was $10,000.

2.3 Transfer of proceedings between Small Claims Division and General Division: complexity, difficulty or importance of matters in dispute

- (1) The Court may, on the application of a party or of its own motion, transfer proceedings from the Court's Small Claims Division to the Court's General Division if, at any time before judgment is given, the Court is of the opinion that the matters in dispute are so complex or difficult, or are of such importance, that the proceedings ought more properly to be heard in the Court's General Division.
- (1A) The Court may, on the application of a party or of its own motion, transfer proceedings from the Court's General Division to the Court's Small Claims Division if, at any time before judgment is given, the Court is of the opinion that—
 - (a) any complex, difficult or important issues have been resolved, in whole or in part, or
 - (b) it is appropriate to do so.
- (2) The Court may, on the application of a party or of its own motion, transfer proceedings that have been transferred to the Court's General Division under subrule (1) back to its Small Claims Division if the Court considers it appropriate to do so.
- (3) An application for proceedings to be transferred under this rule may not be made by a party to the proceedings later than 28 days before the day fixed for the trial of the proceedings.

Division 3 Pre-trial review

2.4 Setting down for pre-trial review

- (1) Unless the Court otherwise orders, proceedings in which a defence is filed are to be listed for pre-trial review.
- (2) The registrar must cause notice of the date, time and place of the pre-trial review to be sent to the plaintiff and to each defendant who has filed a defence.

2.5 Conduct of pre-trial reviews

- (1) In any pre-trial review of proceedings, each of the parties to the proceedings—
 - (a) must be in attendance at the review, either in person or by a legal representative having authority to negotiate a settlement of the proceedings, and
 - (b) must disclose the names of the witnesses who may provide statements on which the party intends to rely at the trial and the nature of any other documents on which the party intends to rely at the trial (to the extent that such information is available at the time of the pre-trial review).
- (2) For the purposes of subrule (1)(a), a person who appears by telephone, audio-visual link or any other means of electronic communication, as referred to in rule 2.8, is taken to be in attendance.
- (3) In the pre-trial review, the parties to the proceedings may apply for any interlocutory orders necessary for the preparation of the matter for trial.
- (4) In the pre-trial review, the Court—
 - (a) must identify the matters in dispute between the parties and attempt to bring the parties to a settlement that is acceptable to them, and
 - (b) for that purpose, may require that the parties seek mediation and may make such orders as it thinks fit, including orders as to adjournment, so as to facilitate the mediation.
- (5) (Repealed)
- (6) If the Court is unable to bring the parties to a settlement that is acceptable to them, the Court is to list the proceedings for trial at an appropriate time and venue and make case management orders in accordance with any relevant practice note. However, the Court may refuse to list proceedings for trial if it is satisfied that the parties have not made reasonable attempts to settle the matters in dispute between them.

(7) If a party fails to attend the pre-trial review after having been given notice in accordance with rule 2.4(2), the Court may adjourn the review to another date and direct that, not less than 5 days before that date, a further notice be given to the party in default advising—

(a) if the party in default is the plaintiff, that the party's claim may be dismissed, either in whole or in part, or

(b) if the party in default is the defendant, that the party's defence may be struck out, either in whole or in part,

if the party fails to attend the adjourned review.

(8) If a party fails to attend the adjourned review after having been given notice in accordance with subrule (7), the Court may order—

(a) if the party in default is the plaintiff, that the party's claim be dismissed, either in whole or in part, or

(b) if the party in default is the defendant, that the party's defence be struck out, either in whole or in part,

and may make such other orders as it thinks fit.

Division 4 Trial

2.6 Procedure generally

(a) any written statements (whether sworn or unsworn) or other documents that have been filed and served in accordance with any case management orders, and

(b) any submissions made by the parties on the material filed and served in accordance with any case management orders.

(3) Proceedings may be heard and determined by the Court even if one or more of the parties is absent.

 - (c) if proceedings on a motion are heard by the Court,
 - (d) if judgment is given after a trial of proceedings.
- (3) The maximum amount of costs that may be awarded to a party under subrule (2) is—
 - (a) in the circumstances referred to in subrule (2)(a), (b) or (c)—the amount of costs that would be allowable on entry of default judgment for a liquidated claim in the proceedings, and
 - (b) in the circumstances referred to in subrule (2)(d)—the amount of costs that would be allowable on entry of default judgment for an unliquidated claim in the proceedings.
- (3A) Despite subrule (3)(b), the maximum amount of costs that may be awarded to the party under subrule (3)(b) is increased by 25% if the Court considers that—
 - (a) the party made a genuine offer to compromise on the claim that was not accepted by the other party, and

 - (b) a Magistrate makes an order permitting the disclosure in the statement.
- (2) An application for such an order may be made by the accused person or the prosecutor.
- (3) The Magistrate must not make any such order unless satisfied that the disclosure is not likely to present a reasonably ascertainable risk to the welfare or protection of any person or that the interests of justice (including the accused person's right to prepare properly for the hearing of the evidence for the prosecution) outweigh any such risk.
- (4) This rule does not prevent the disclosure of an address in a written statement if the statement does not identify it as a particular person's address, or it could not reasonably be inferred from the statement that it is a particular person's address.

The statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief and I make it knowing that, if it is tendered in evidence, I will be liable to prosecution if I have wilfully stated in it anything that I know to be false or do not believe to be true.”

(2B) In the case of a child, or an adult who is apparently of appreciably below average intelligence, it is sufficient if the endorsement includes—

(a) words to the effect that the statement is true, or

(3) If the person is unable to sign the written statement, the statement may be signed by another person with the consent of and in the presence of the person who made the statement.

(4) The other person must sign an endorsement on the statement to the effect that the person signed the statement on behalf of, with the consent of and in the presence of the person who made the statement.
