- (2) Notwithstanding anything contained in subsection (1) a mine worker who, in respect of incapacity due to the inhalation of dust in coal or oil shale mines in New South Wales, has after the commencement of the Coal and Oil Shale Mine Workers (Pensions) Further Amendment Act 1947 been awarded compensation under the Workers' Compensation Act 1926 shall, where such award was made operative from a date prior to such commencement, be deemed to have been eligible for a subsidy from such date in accordance with the provisions of this Part.

Amendment Act 1950 been applied by the mine worker in the purchase of the mine worker's home, redeeming any mortgage on the mine worker's home, or payment of medical expenses in connection with incapacity due to the inhalation of dust.

36 Validity of contributions paid from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2008

To avoid doubt, any total contribution—

- (a) that was paid by an owner for a mine worker prior to the date of assent to the amending Act, and the commencement of the amending Act), and

Clause 36 confirms the validity of any contributions actually paid before the commencement of the amending Act that were in compliance with this Act, the AUSCOAL Trust Deed and any industrial agreement before the amending Act had effect.

37 Preservation of entitlement

- (1) If the amount of superannuation contribution that an owner was liable to pay for a mine worker employed by that owner immediately before the date of assent to the amending Act, in respect of any period on or after 1 July 2006, was higher than the amount that the owner is liable to pay after the amending Act commenced, then the owner continues to be liable to pay the superannuation contribution at the higher amount.
- (2) For the purposes of subclause (1), an owner's liability to pay a superannuation contribution includes a liability under any provision of the AUSCOAL Trust Deed or any other superannuation fund to which the owner contributes in respect of that mine worker, this Act or any other Act of the State or Commonwealth, but does not include—

- (b) in the case of a mine worker who has elected to contribute to a complying fund other than Part 2 of the Fund—to that fund.
- (4) This clause also applies to any other owner who subsequently employs the mine worker.

Note—

Clause 37 preserves a mine worker's right to a higher amount of employer contribution than is required under the Superannuation Guarantee Charge Act 1992 and the Superannuation Guarantee \(Administration\) Act 1992 of the Commonwealth if a higher amount of contribution was payable immediately before the date of assent to the amending Act. The entitlement extends back in respect of any period from 1 July 2006 and is continuing. The main categories of mine worker to which this clause relates are those for whom the owner paid a flat weekly rate contribution pursuant to the industrial agreements and those whose wages and salaries are excluded from the calculation of employer liability under the Commonwealth legislation, such as employees aged 70 years or over.
