- (8) After an election referred to in subsection (7) is accepted by the Board, the Board shall refund to the contributor any resulting excess of contributions to the Fund made on or after the date from which the contributor's rate of contribution is reduced until the date determined by the Board for commencement of the reduced contributions.

6 Benefit to be adjusted in certain circumstances

Where a gratuity is payable under section 97 of the Local Government Act 1919 to a transferred contributor who, under a provision of this Act other than this Schedule, has become entitled to payment of a benefit that includes an employer-financed benefit, the total of the amount of the gratuity and of the amount of that employer-financed benefit shall not exceed the amount of the employer-financed benefit that would have been payable to the contributor if it had been based on the maximum benefit points for the contributor.

7 Minimum benefit

- (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, where a benefit under this Act becomes payable to, or in relation to, a transferred contributor and the Board is satisfied that, but for the enactment of this Act, a greater benefit would have been payable under the earlier Act, the Board shall, instead of paying the benefit that became payable under the other provisions of this Act, pay the same benefit as that which would have been payable under the earlier Act.
- (2) Where the Board pays a benefit pursuant to subclause (1), the Board shall debit to the appropriate reserve established in the Fund under section 9 the difference between the amount of the benefit so paid and the amount that, but for subclause (1), would have been paid under this Act.

8 Choice of benefit—transferred contributor

- (1) A transferred contributor who retires and thereby becomes entitled to be paid the benefit provided by section 26 (benefit at age 65 or on early retirement or on death at or after age 60) or 28 (benefit on total and permanent disablement before age 60) may elect, as prescribed, to take, instead of the whole or a specified part of that benefit, the benefit provided by subclauses (2) and (3).

notional pension, in relation to the spouse or de facto partner of a deceased contributor or pensioner, means—spouse applies in relation to a deceased pensioner in the same way as it applies in relation to a deceased contributor.

- (2) Where a transferred contributor, or a pensioner, dies leaving dependent children, the Board shall—

- (1) This Part does not operate to reduce a pension to a rate lower than the rate at which it would have been payable if this Part had not been enacted.
- (2) Where the Board is of the opinion that an increase pursuant to this Part in the pension payable to a person would prejudicially affect that person in respect of some advantageous situation in which, but for being so affected, the person would be placed, the Board may determine—
 - (a) not to pay the amount of the increase,
 - (b) to pay a specified increase of a lesser amount, or
 - (c) to decrease the pension to a specified amount.
- (3) A determination made under subclause (2) has effect according to its tenor but that subclause does not authorise variation of a determination that has the effect of increasing a pension to an amount greater than it would have been if no determination in relation to the pension had been made under that subclause.
- (4) A determination made under subclause (2) shall be disregarded in calculating a pension payable to the spouse or de facto partner of a deceased pensioner to whom the determination relates but such a determination may be made in relation to the pension so calculated.

L represents the Index number for the last preceding June quarter.

(4) The calculation for the purposes of subclause (2) (a) in relation to a year is, where the relevant day for the pension is not earlier than 1 July in that year or later than 30 June in that year, to be made—

where—

P represents the percentage to be ascertained,

J represents the Index number for the June quarter in that year, and D represents the Index number for the December quarter in that year.

- (4A) There is taken to be no adjustment percentage for a year if—

- (a) the percentage calculated for the year in accordance with subclause (3)(b) or (4)(b) is less than 1.1% or any other percentage prescribed by the regulations, or
- (b) the Index number for the June quarter in that year is the same as the Index number for the immediately preceding June quarter.

- (4B) If there is taken to be no adjustment percentage for a year (the first year), then, for the purposes of calculating the percentage for the next year—

- (a) the Index number for the June quarter in the first year is taken not to have been published, and
- (b) the Index number for that quarter is taken to be the same as the Index number for the June quarter in the last year for which there was an adjustment percentage.

- (5) The calculation for the purposes of subclause (2) (b) in relation to a superannuation year shall be made—

- (a) where the average rate of interest credited by the Board during the year under section 10 (interest on accounts and reserves) is greater than 4.25 per cent—in accordance with the formula—

- (a) except as provided by paragraph (b)—the publication of the later Index number shall be disregarded, or
- (b) if the Minister so directs—regard shall be had to the later, and not to the earlier, Index number, for the purposes of this Part.

(7) Notwithstanding subclause (6), if at any time on or after the appointed day the Australian Statistician changes the reference base for the Consumer Price Index (All Groups Index) for Sydney, regard shall, for the purposes of this Part, be had only to Index numbers published in terms of the new reference base.

15 Adjustment of pensions

- (1) Subject to this Part, where there is an adjustment percentage for a year in relation to a pension, the amount of the pension payable on the adjustment date is hereby adjusted, on and from that adjustment date, by that percentage.
- (2) A reference in subclause (1) to the amount of a pension payable to a person includes a reference to the pension that would have been payable to that person had clause 13 (2) not been enacted.

Board having regard to the level of contribution to the Retirement Fund selected by the employee, and

(b) takes effect on a date determined by the Board.

- (2) An employee referred to in subclause (1) may, before becoming a contributor, make an application under section 12 (additional benefit) but, subject to that section, this subclause does not operate to prevent an employee so referred to from making such an application after becoming a contributor.
- (3) An election referred to in subclause (1) is ineffective for the purposes of the earlier Act.

3 Transfer of contributors under earlier Act

- (1) An employee who, immediately before the appointed day, was a contributor to the Retirement Fund shall be deemed to have made an election under section 11 (election to contribute to the Fund) which took effect on the appointed day and to which section 11 (2) did not apply.
- (2) Where, pursuant to subclause (1), an employee becomes a contributor—
 - (a) the employee ceases to be a contributor to the Retirement Fund, and
 - (b) a benefit under the earlier Act is not payable to, or in relation to, the employee.
- (3) An application under section 12 (additional benefit) may, subject to that section, be made at any time by an employee who, pursuant to this clause, becomes a contributor.

3A (Repealed)

3B Transferred contributors with 30 years' service entitled to death and disability cover

- (1) This clause applies to a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3 in respect of whom the number of years of service that would have been taken into account in calculating a benefit payable to the contributor under the earlier Act if the benefit had become payable immediately before the appointed day is, in total, at least 30 years.
- (2) If a transferred contributor to whom this clause applies makes an application under section 12 before 31 March 1986, the Board shall approve the application without the necessity for the contributor to submit to, or pass, a medical examination.

4 Contribution rates

- (1) A contributor referred to in clause 3 shall, subject to this clause, contribute to the Fund at the rate at which he or she would, but for clause 3 (2) (a), have continued to contribute to the Retirement Fund and shall so contribute to the Fund notwithstanding that the rate of contribution is not 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 or 9 per cent of the contributor's salary.

- (2) A contributor referred to in subclause (1) who does not, before 31 December 1985 or before 31 December in any subsequent year, make an election under section 15 (variations of contribution rate) shall be deemed to have made such an election specifying, pursuant to section 15 (2) (b), a rate sufficient to increase by 2 the accrued benefit points for a superannuation year.
- (2A) A contributor referred to in subclause (1) who wishes to make an election under section 15 may make that election by specifying the number of benefit points to be accrued for a superannuation year and, if the election is made in that manner, the election shall be deemed to specify a rate per cent of the contributor's salary sufficient to increase by that number the accrued benefit points for that superannuation year.
- (3) Section 15 of the earlier Act shall be deemed not to have applied in relation to any contributions or benefits that, but for clause 3, would have been payable on or after the appointed day.

5 Contributor's account for transferred contributor

- (1) The contributor's account that is established under section 9 (1) in relation to a transferred contributor shall be so established with a credit balance of the sum of—
 - (a) an amount calculated for the contributor in accordance with section 26 (1) (b) of the earlier Act as if the period referred to in section 26 (1) (b) (iii) of that Act ended immediately before the appointed day, and
 - (b) any amount held in the Retirement Fund in relation to the contributor for the purposes of section 24 of the earlier Act.
- (2) Section 24 of the earlier Act ceases to apply to, or in relation to, a contributor referred to in subclause (1).

5A Application of certain definitions to transferred contributor

In relation to a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3—

- (a) the definition of accrued benefit points in section 24 shall be construed as if a reference therein to contributed points figures included a reference to the number of transferred benefit points for the contributor, and
- (b) the definition of average contribution rate per cent in section 24 shall be construed as if a reference therein to the sum of the rates per cent of salary in relation to a contributor were a reference to the sum of benefit points accrued by the contributor.

6 Benefit points to be credited to transferred contributor

- (1) For the purposes of this clause, the number of transferred benefit points for a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3 is the number calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

P represents the number of points to be ascertained,

R represents the figure by which the annual wages of the contributor were to be multiplied for the purpose of ascertaining the level of benefit for which the contributor was contributing under the earlier Act,

S represents the number of months of service that would have been taken into account in calculating a benefit payable to the contributor under the earlier Act if the benefit had become payable immediately before the appointed day,

B represents the amount of any balance standing to the credit of the contributor under section 24 of the earlier Act immediately before the appointed day, and

W represents the number of dollars comprising the contributor's annual wages within the meaning of the earlier Act immediately before the appointed day.

- (2) For the purposes of this clause, for each applicable month in the superannuation year that commences on 1st July 1985, the number of benefit points accrued by a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3 is the number calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

P represents the number of points to be ascertained, and

R has the value referred to in subclause (1).

- (3) For the purposes of this clause, the number of transferred benefit points for a transferred contributor other than a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3 is such number as is determined by the Board for the contributor.

- (4) (Repealed)

6A Calculation of “prospective benefit points” for transferred contributor

In relation to a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3, the contributor's average contribution rate per cent referred to in the definition of prospective benefit points in section 24 shall be determined by including any applicable month occurring before the contributor's entry date, being a month of service which would have been taken into account in calculating a benefit payable to the contributor under the earlier Act if the benefit had become payable immediately before the appointed day.

7 Adjustment of points accrual

(1) In this clause—

points limit, in relation to a transferred contributor, means the maximum number of benefit points for which the contributor may contribute in any superannuation year.

transfer points, in relation to a transferred contributor, means transferred benefit points for the contributor calculated in accordance with clause 6.

(2) Without prejudice to the operation of clause 6, for the purpose of assessing the accrued benefit points for a transferred contributor referred to in clause 3, the points limit for the contributor is—

(a) in the case of a contributor who before 1 April 1986 attains the age of 59 years and 11 months—9, or

(b) in the case of a contributor who does not attain the age of 59 years and 11 months before 1 April 1986—the number calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

P represents the number of points to be ascertained,

M represents the number of months in the period that commences on 1 April 1986, and ends immediately before the 60th anniversary of the contributor's birth,

R represents the maximum multiplication factor that could be applied to the contributor's annual wages at age 60 in order to determine the level of benefit for which contributions were being made, assuming that the contributor had continued to contribute to the Retirement Fund and had increased the multiple at each review date within the meaning of section 15 of the earlier Act,

S represents the number of months of service that would have been applicable in calculating the benefit that would have been payable from the Retirement Fund if the contributor had continued to contribute to the Retirement Fund and retired at age 60, and

T represents 240 or, if it is a lesser number, the number calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

T represents the number to be ascertained,

P represents the number of transfer points for the contributor, and

R represents the multiplication factor referred to in clause 6 (1).

- (3) For the purposes of this clause but subject to subclauses (4) and (5), for each one per cent of salary contributed to the Fund by a contributor for the superannuation year that commences on 1 April 1986 and each succeeding superannuation year, the number of benefit points accrued is the greater of—
- (a) the number of points specified in the Table to this Schedule, and
 - (b) the number of points that is equal to one-ninth of the points limit for the contributor for that year.
- (4) The maximum number of benefit points that may be accrued in any superannuation year by the application of subclause (3) (a) is 9.
- (5) The Board may determine a greater number of benefit points accrued by a contributor for the superannuation year that commences on 1 April 1986, and each succeeding superannuation year, than the number of benefit points that would otherwise have accrued under subclause (3) for each one per cent of salary, or part thereof, contributed to the Fund.
- (6) The Board may make a determination under subclause (5) in respect of a contributor only if—
- (a) the contributor has attained the age of 59 years and 11 months before 1 April 1986, and
 - (b) the Board is of the opinion that the contributor would, as a result of the operation of subclause (3) (b), otherwise be required to maintain contributions or increase contributions to the Fund in excess of the rate of contributions which would have been required to have been made to the Retirement Fund to accrue the benefit for which the contributor was contributing immediately before the appointed day.

8 Choice of benefit—transferred contributor

- (1) A transferred contributor who retires and thereby becomes entitled to be paid the benefit provided by section 26 (benefit at age 65 or on early retirement or on death at or after age 60) or 28 (benefit on total and permanent disablement before age 60) may elect, as prescribed, to take, instead of the whole or a specified part of that benefit, the benefit provided by subclause (2) or (3).

- (2) The benefit provided by this subclause is a pension for the transferred contributor for life determined as provided by subclause (4).
- (3) The benefit provided by this subclause is—
 - (a) a pension for the transferred contributor for life determined as provided by subclause (4), and
 - (b) upon the death of the pensioner leaving a spouse—a pension for the spouse for life at an annual rate equal to 62.5 per cent of the annual rate of pension payable to the deceased immediately before his or her death.
- (4) The benefit payable under subclause (2) or (3) shall be the actuarial equivalent, determined by the Board, of the benefit or part of the benefit that would have been payable if an election under subclause (1) had not been made.
- (5) If a pensioner elected to take the benefit provided by subclause (3), the benefit is taken to extend to the de facto partner of a deceased pensioner who dies on or after the commencement of this subclause.

Note—

“De facto partner” is defined in section 21C of the Interpretation Act 1987.

9 Choice of benefit—spouse of deceased transferred contributor

- (1) Where the spouse of a deceased transferred contributor becomes entitled to be paid the benefit provided by section 27 (benefit on death before age 60) the spouse may elect, in a form approved by the Board, to take, instead of the whole or a specified part of that benefit, the benefit provided by subclause (2).
- (2) The benefit provided by this subclause is a pension for life of the actuarial equivalent, determined by the Board, of the benefit or part of the benefit that would have been payable if an election under subclause (1) had not been made.

10 Minimum benefit

- (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, where a benefit under this Act becomes payable to, or in relation to, a transferred contributor and the Board is satisfied that, but for the enactment of this Act, a greater benefit would have been payable under the earlier Act, the Board shall, instead of paying the benefit that became payable under the other provisions of this Act, pay the same benefit as that which would have been payable under the earlier Act.
- (2) Where the Board pays a benefit pursuant to subclause (1), the Board shall debit to the appropriate reserve established in the Fund under section 9 the difference between the amount of the benefit so paid and the amount that, but for subclause (1), would have been paid under this Act.

11 Periodic adjustment of pensions

The provisions of Part 2 of Schedule 6 apply to, and in relation to, a pension payable pursuant to this Schedule in the same way as they apply to, and in relation to, a pension referred to in clause 14 (2) (a) of that Schedule.

12 Transitional regulations may be made

- (1) The Governor may make regulations containing other provisions of a savings or transitional nature consequential upon the enactment of this Schedule.
- (2) A provision made under subclause (1) may be made to take effect on and from the date of assent to this Act or on and from a later date.
- (3) To the extent to which a provision made under subclause (1) takes effect on and from a date that is earlier than the date of its publication in the Gazette, the provision does not operate—
 - (a) to affect, in a manner prejudicial to any person (other than the State or an authority of the State) the rights of that person existing before the date of publication, or
 - (b) to impose a liability on any person (other than the State or an authority of the State) in respect of anything done or omitted before the date of publication.

 - (b) who elected or is required to transfer to the employment of that other employer, and
 - (c) whose transfer of employment is declared by the regulations to be a transfer of employment to which this Schedule applies.

- (2) The regulations may, for the purposes of subclause (1) (c), declare that the transfer of employment of any specified contributors or former contributors is a transfer of employment to which this Schedule applies if the Minister has certified that the transfer is a consequence of a Government initiative.

3 Transferred contributor entitled to immediate payment of preserved benefit (including employer-financed component)
