20 Application of amendments

- (1) The amendments made to the definitions of Class 1 offence and Class 2 offence in section 3 (1) by the amending Act extend to any offence referred to in those amendments (a new registrable offence) in respect of which a sentence was imposed before the commencement of the amendments.
- (2) Sections 4 and 5 do not apply in respect of a sentence imposed, or a supervised sentence commenced, before the commencement of the amending Act in respect of a new registrable offence.
- (3) A person who becomes a registrable person on the commencement of the amending Act merely because of having committed a new registrable offence, and who is not in government custody, must, within the appropriate period, report the person's relevant personal information to the Commissioner of Police.
- (4) The appropriate period is:
 - (a) in relation to a person who is in New South Wales on the commencement of the amending Act—21 days after that commencement or before the person leaves New South Wales, whichever period ends first, or
 - (b) in relation to a person who is not in New South Wales on that commencement—within 7 days after entering and remaining in New South Wales for 14 or more consecutive days.
- (5) The report must be made in the manner in which an initial report must be made under this Act.
- (6) For the purposes of calculating the period for which a person must continue to comply with the person's reporting obligations in respect of a new registrable offence, the reporting period for the new registrable offence is taken to have commenced:

- (a) when the person was sentenced for the new registrable offence, or
- (b) when the person ceases to be in government custody in relation to the offence, whichever is the later.

(7) A reference in this Act to the reporting obligations of a registrable person includes a reference to the reporting obligations imposed under this Part.

(8) In this clause, the amending Act means the Courts and Crimes Legislation Amendment Act 2010.
