19 Tenant-right in improvements

(1) Upon the determination of the lease of any lot, the lessee shall be entitled to receive the value to an incoming tenant of the improvements from any person who takes a lease of the land containing the improvements. And in the event of such person not paying the amount then due and unpaid for the value of such improvements, such amount or so much thereof as remains unpaid for the time being shall, until payment thereof, be and remain a charge upon the land containing such improvements while in the hands of a lessee. The value of the improvements to an incoming tenant shall be appraised by the Director-General in the manner prescribed by section 44 of the Crown Lands Act of 1889, but shall be calculated on the basis of the value of such improvements to the land leased, and the payment of the value shall be made by such instalments, and at such dates, as may be prescribed by regulations.

The improvements, in respect of which tenant-right is conferred by this Act, shall in all cases be:

(a) of a permanent, fixed, and substantial character, and necessary for the profitable occupation of the land, and

(b) the holder of the lease of the land containing improvements shall be liable to pay any instalments of the value thereof, as appraised by the Director-General, which may accrue due during his or her holding.
