Schedule 6 Savings, transitional and other provisions

(Section 30)

1 Regulations

- (1) The regulations may contain provisions of a savings or transitional nature consequent on the enactment of the following Acts:

Statutory and Other Offices Remuneration Amendment Act 2001

- (2) Any such provision may, if the regulations so provide, take effect from the date of assent to the Act concerned or a later date.
- (3) To the extent to which any such provision takes effect from a date that is earlier than the date of its publication in the Gazette, the provision does not operate so as:
- (a) to affect, in a manner prejudicial to any person (other than the State or an authority of the State), the rights of that person existing before the date of its publication, or
 - (b) to impose liabilities on any person (other than the State or an authority of the State) in respect of anything done or omitted to be done before the date of its publication.

2 Travelling allowances for judicial officers before publication of first report

- (1) In this clause:

the 2001 amendment means the amendment made by the Statutory and Other Offices Remuneration Amendment Act 2001 to the definition of allowance in section 10A.

- (2) An office holder is, for the period:
- (a) commencing on and including the date of commencement of the 2001 amendment, and
 - (b) ending on and including the day preceding the date of operation of the first determination made under this Act of the travelling or subsistence allowance payable to the office holder for travel within Australia, entitled to be paid the travelling or subsistence allowance for travel within Australia that the office holder would have been entitled to be paid if the 2001 amendment had not been made, subject to any adjustment necessary because of the making of the determination.
