Part 10 Provisions consequent on enactment of Firearms

and Weapons Legislation Amendment Act 2017

29 Definitions

In this Part:

category B shotgun means a lever action shotgun with a magazine capacity of no more than 5 rounds.

category D shotgun means a lever action shotgun with a magazine capacity of more than 5 rounds.

special category B licence means a special category B licence provided for by this Part.

30 Transitional arrangements for lever action shotguns

- (1) A person in whose name a lever action shotgun was registered immediately before the commencement of this clause and whose possession of the shotgun was authorised at that time by a category A licence (referred to in this Part as the person's existing category A licence) is entitled to the benefit of the following transitional arrangements in respect of that particular shotgun but only while the shotgun remains registered in the name of the person:
 - (a) if the person is not the holder of a category B licence, the person is deemed to be the holder of a special category B licence for the shotgun but only while the person's existing category A licence (or any renewal of that licence) is in force,
 - (b) if the shotgun is a category D shotgun and the person is not the holder of a category D licence but is the holder of a category B licence (including a special category B licence), the shotgun is deemed to be a firearm to which a category B licence held by the person applies.
- (2) A special category B licence is a licence that authorises a person to possess or use a lever action shotgun (and no other firearm) that was registered in the name of the person immediately before the commencement of this clause, but only for the purpose established as being the genuine reason for possessing or using a firearm for the purposes of the person's existing category A licence (or any renewal of that licence) as in force from time to time.
- (3) However, a special category B licence does not authorise the licensee to possess or use a category D shotgun at any time when the person holds a category D licence that authorises the possession or use of the shotgun and that is not subject to any condition imposed by the Commissioner under section 19 (1).

- (4) A special category B licence that a person is deemed to hold is revoked if the person is granted a category B licence (not being a special category B licence) that authorises the possession or use of a lever action shotgun that the special category B licence applied to.
- (5) A permit issued before the commencement of this clause that authorises a person to acquire a shotgun does not authorise the person to acquire a lever action shotgun after the commencement of this clause unless the person is:
 - (a) the holder of a category B licence (not being a special category B licence) in the case of acquisition of a category B shotgun, or
 - (b) the holder of a category D licence in the case of acquisition of a category D shotgun but only if the category D licence will authorise the possession or use of the shotgun once acquired.

Note—

A category D licence may be subject to a limit on the number of firearms that the licensee is authorised to possess or use and so may not authorise the acquisition of another category D firearm.

Note—

A person has the benefit of the transitional arrangements of this clause only for the particular shotgun registered in the name of the person immediately before the commencement of this clause and only while the shotgun remains registered in the name of the person. A person loses the benefit of the transitional arrangements for a shotgun if it is supplied to another person or is lost, stolen or destroyed. The same principles apply to the transitional arrangements under clause 31 for a shotgun that a person has registered in their name in another jurisdiction immediately before the commencement of the interstate recategorisation amendments.

31 Inter-jurisdictional transitional arrangements for lever action shotguns

- (1) A resident of another State or Territory in whose name a lever action shotgun was registered under the interstate law immediately before the commencement of the interstate recategorisation amendments and whose possession of the shotgun was authorised at that time under the interstate law by an interstate category A licence is subject to the following provisions in respect of that particular shotgun:
 - (a) sections 26 (Recognition of interstate licences for certain purposes) and 27 (Interstate residents moving to this State) apply to the person as if the firearms to which a category A or B licence issued in this State apply include the shotgun concerned but only while the shotgun remains registered in the name of the person under the interstate law,
 - (b) if the shotgun is a category D shotgun and a category B licence is issued to the person under this Act (not being a special category B licence), the shotgun is deemed to be a firearm to which a category B licence held by the person applies but only while the shotgun remains registered in the name of the person under this Act,

(c) a category B licence issued to the person under this Act does not apply to the shotgun (despite paragraph (b)) if a category D licence issued to the person under this Act applies to the shotgun.

(2) Regulations under clause 1 may include provisions that are inconsistent with this clause.

(3) In this clause:

interstate category A licence means a licence issued under the interstate law that is equivalent to a category A licence issued under this Act.

interstate law means the law in force in the State or Territory of which the person is a resident.

interstate recategorisation amendments means amendments made to the interstate law that resulted in interstate category A licences ceasing to apply to lever action shotguns.

32 Administrative arrangements for lever action shotgun owners

- (1) The Commissioner may issue a licence as a special category B licence to a person who is deemed to hold a special category B licence, with the licence to specify details of the shotgun (or each shotgun) for which it is issued.
- (2) The Commissioner may provide to a person a statement in writing certifying that a category B licence held by the person (including a special category B licence) is deemed under this Part to apply to a specified category D shotgun. The statement may be provided by being included in the category B licence concerned or separately.
- (3) The Commissioner may waive payment of any fee that would otherwise be payable in respect of the issue of a category B or category D licence to a person who has the benefit of any transitional arrangements under this Part.

33 Validity of permits for powerheads for spear fishing

- (1) The regulations are taken to have always been authorised to provide for the issue of a permit (a spear fishing powerhead permit) that authorised a person to possess and use a powerhead for the purposes of underwater spear fishing even if the person's use of a powerhead for that purpose would have been unlawful under another Act.
- (2) The following provisions apply to a spear fishing powerhead permit issued or purporting to have been issued before the commencement of this clause:

- (a) the permit is validated to the extent of any invalidity arising from inconsistency between the regulations and another law,
- (b) the permit operated only for the purposes of this Act and did not authorise a contravention of any other law,
- (c) if the permit is in force immediately before the commencement of this clause it is revoked on the commencement of this clause.
